HUNGER AND THE HOMELESS

Tragedies of the Eighties

Statement of Boston Mayor Raymond L. Flynn, Chairman, Task Force on Hunger and Homelessness, United States Conference of Mayors, December 20, 1989.

In the next week a number of national news magazines, network television programs and just about every newspaper in America will issue their "End of the Decade" special reports, featuring the person or the issue they considered most important or influential in shaping the 1980s.

Some, no doubt, will justifiably feature the role of such prominent people as President Reagan, Mikhail Gorbachev, Lech Walesa or Mother Teresa. Others will cite historic events such as The Crumbling of the Berlin Wall, The End of the Cold War, The Soviet Troop Withdrawal from Afghanistan, The Iranian Hostage Crisis or The Space Shuttle Challenger Disaster.

The 1980s from Gdansk to Tiananmen Square to Cape Canaveral were certainly very interesting and dynamic years and these prominent people and events have a real claim to their rightful place in history. Yet, while it may have received its share of public support and concern, we must not lose sight of one of the most dramatic changes that swept across our country — The Rise of Hunger, Homelessness and Poverty in America during the 1980s.

Think about it: in 1979, the issue of homelessness wasn't considered a national priority. Certainly, there were homeless persons on our streets then, but not to the extent we see in our cities now.

If you could bring all of the people who have been homeless and hungry in the 1980s to our nation's capital, you would have a gathering of Americans that would far exceed any gathering you have seen in Warsaw, or Prague, or Budapest.

And you would wonder, how would our government respond?

Since 1984, the United States Conference of Mayors Task Force on Hunger and Homelessness has examined the status of hunger and homelessness in America's cities. Each year since then, we have reported that in urban America, hunger, homelessness and poverty continue to grow and grow and grow.

And this year is no exception.

But before we look at the numbers, let's look at the people who have become homeless and hungry in the 1980s.

Increasingly, some are families with children who are caught up in a hurricane of change in America's housing market and economy. They have been battered by federal housing cuts, by competition between rich and poor for limited housing stock in our cities, by our lack of competitiveness internationally, and by a declining blue collar economy that swept away many opportunities for the American dream of upward mobility.

Many suffer from mental illness. And they are still suffering even more today from the failed policy of deinstitutionalization. Back in 1955, there were 552,150 individuals in state hospitals throughout the country, today there are only about 118,000 — a 79 percent reduction.

Where did these people go? The more fortunate went into community-based residential settings, but the vast majority have been thrown out onto our streets, where they are far worse off than they were in the hospitals.

Some of the homeless and the hungry are working people whom we see every morning waiting for "Day Labor" jobs, hoping to earn enough money to get back on their feet.

Some are women — mothers, wives and even teenagers — who have been forced to flee from abusive homes.

Some are veterans, who returned home from Vietnam, not as heroes, but as victims of a conflict Americans sought to forget.

And now many of the homeless, and the hungry, are people who suffer from drug or alcohol problems, and desperately need treatment just as much as they need a place to sleep.

THE ADOPT-A-STATUE PROGRAM

The goal of Adopt-A-Statue is to achieve funding for the restoration of thirty-nine pieces of outdoor public art and to establish a permanent maintenance endowment which would provide for the annual cleaning and maintenance of sixty-nine pieces.

To invite individuals, groups of individuals or corporations to "adopt" a piece of Boston outdoor public art by either:

- incurring the total cost of restoring and maintaining a particular piece of art or
- making a donation toward a general restoration and maintenance fund.

Gifts are tax deductible to the extent limited by law.

For further information on how to adopt a statue please contact the Environment Department at 725-3850 (Paula Mierzejewski) or Office of Arts and Humanities at 725-3245 (Mary Shannon).

Each week the City Record will publish a statue for adoption.

Hunger . . .

These are the faces of hungry and homeless people as we end the 1980s — the decade of massive defense spending, insider trading, leveraged buyouts, real estate speculation, savings and loan scandals and bailouts, tax cuts and fast bucks for the rich and program cuts for the poor.

And the decade of growing hunger and homelessness in America.

In the last several years of this decade, we have seen many Americans step forward to lend a hand through churches, synagogues, charities and neighborhood organizations. We saw basements of churches turned into shelters and soup kitchens. We saw abandoned buildings turned into transitional housing for homeless families. And we saw storefronts turned into day centers providing counseling and job training for homeless veterans.

But homelessness and hunger continue to grow.

This year our national survey of homelessness found that:

- Requests for emergency shelter increased by an average of 25 percent in 24 of our 27 cities surveyed. This is the largest yearly increase since our 1985 survey.
- Requests for shelter by homeless families alone increased by an average of 23 percent, in all but three of the survey cities.
- Homeless families were mentioned most frequently — by 78 percent of the responding cities — as the group for which shelter or related services were particularly lacking.
- Overall 22 percent of the requests for shelter by homeless people went unmet in the past year.

- As the drug crisis tightens its grip on our nation, we see a direct relationship between the spread of drugs and homelessness. In last year's survey, 34 percent of the homeless were reported to be substance abusers. This year, that number rose to 44 percent.
- As in last year's survey: slightly less than half of the homeless are single men; more than one third are families with children. One quarter of the homeless are identified as severely mentally ill; nearly one quarter are employed; more than one quarter are veterans, and; one quarter are children.
- And as quickly as we are building shelters and transitional housing, the demand continues to grow: 25 of the 27 cities surveyed expect requests for emergency shelter to increase in 1990.

On hunger, our survey found that increasingly, the face of hunger in America is the face of a young child. We saw that:

- The demand for emergency food assistance increased in all but one of the survey cities, by an average of 19 percent. In no city did the demand decrease.
- The demand for emergency food assistance by families increased by 14 percent.
- Today, more than three out of five, or 61 percent, of persons requesting food assistance were either children or their parents.

- More people, including children and their parents, have to rely on soup kitchens and food pantries as a steady source of food for long periods of time. Yet, emergency food facilities have less food available, and more have to turn people away.

- City officials surveyed estimate that 17 percent of the demand for emergency food assistance went unmet last year; and;
- 89 percent of the cities expect another increase next year.
- The major causes of hunger identified in the survey were:
 - 1) The lack of affordable housing;
 - 2) Unemployment and other employment-related problems, including low wages, and;
 - 3) The inadequacies of public assistance programs, especially AFDC and food stamps.

Now, people are going to ask, "How can it be that hunger and homelessness are still growing? Didn't the McKinney Act and Hands Across America and all those efforts help at all, or was this a waste of time and money?" Well, these programs have helped bring people in out of the cold and they have provided hot meals, but;

- We must do more to prevent homelessness by helping people before they are forced onto the streets and shelters;
- We must do more to build permanent affordable housing;
- We must do more to create community based residences for the homeless mentally ill, and;
- We must do more to give hope and opportunity to our neediest Americans.

As one city (Nashville) points out, "the cost of living continues to rise faster than the incomes of the poor and working poor. More and more people are getting left behind and it is an increasing struggle just to keep up with the human needs in America cities.

While the McKinney Act has helped, it funded at $600 million this year, a drop the bucket compared to the massive cuts appropriations for federally assisted housing — from $33 billion in 1981 to under $1 billion last year.

And on top of these housing cuts, the single greatest disincentive to building housing in this country for people of all incomes was the 1986 tax act. The Housing Affairs Letter of December 8 notes that, "multifamily building has suffered a tax reform debacle down from 691,000 to an average rate of nearly 400,000 this year through October

That is a difference of almost 300,000 housing units each year and tens of thousands of jobs as well.

One encouraging sign is that the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, Jack Kemp, wants to put the federal government and the federal tax code back into the business of producing affordable housing. But Congress must give him more tools to do so than he has right now if we are to make a difference locally.

Take my own City of Boston, for example. We conducted a census of the homeless this past year that located about 3,500 homeless individuals, not counting those doubled up with friends and relatives. On Monday, hundreds of volunteers from churches and social service agencies traveled throughout the streets, subways and shelters of Boston to update those figures.

To address some of the needs we identified from our census, we applied to HUD for section 8 assistance to support over 300 units of single room occupancy housing, to be operated by some of our best non-profit organizations. We received a commitment for only 12 units — about what most cities received.

Clearly, if cities like Boston have the will to build more housing for the homeless, Washington must join with us in providing more of the way.

That is why, as we enter a new decade and approach a new century, America must go beyond the McKinney Act to provide our neediest Americans with the dignity and respect they deserve.

For the Federal Government, we must enact a long overdue housing bill that preserves the housing we have and provides the housing we need.

It also means supporting Entitlement Programs that prevent hunger and homelessness and "Opportunity" Programs such as job training and literacy programs that move people up the economic ladder.

For our States, it means adequate benefit levels and compassionate care for the mentally ill in appropriate settings. City streets and city shelters are no substitute for the facilities and services which must have been and must continue to be supported by the states.

For our Cities, it means continuing our provision of local resources to insure warm shelter, hot meals, health care and transportation to and from shelter for all in need as well as moving forward to facilitate the building of permanent affordable housing.

And for all our citizens, it means a reordering of national priorities in the 1990s. We must get back to the American values that extend a hand to the neediest among us and provide wider economic opportunity in a growing and productive economy.

Hunger and homelessness must not be the cover story of the 1990s. Let's enter a new decade by putting America on the cover for the 1990s as a country that has the political will and commitment to social justice that serves as a beacon for others to follow.

BHA RECEIVES HUD GRANT FOR YOUTH PROGRAMS

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn announced recently that the Boston Housing Authority (BHA) has received a $25,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to expand youth programs through sports and recreational opportunities. The grant, the maximum provided under the HUD Youth Sports Clubs to Combat Drugs program, is awarded the BHA to create a South Boston Youth Sports Club at the Old Colony Housing Development.

"This much needed grant will provide a unique opportunity for young people living in Old Colony to build a home for their many athletic and recreational activities," said Mayor Flynn. "The Bank of Boston, in a unique partnership with the BHA and the people of South Boston, encourages the continued growth and social activities at Old Colony."

Ira Jackson, Director of External Affairs for the Bank of Boston, said, "the Bank of Boston is proud to be a partner with the City of Boston and the BHA in the Old Colony Youth Sports Club. By combining the bank's resources and the skills of the BHA youth workers, we will make a solid public-private partnership capable of providing an effective program to help the youth of the Old Colony Housing Development to resist drug abuse."

The Bank of Boston gift will support operations at the center for two years. The BHA has committed the resources to work closely with the young people of Old Colony through the youth outreach program, Youth On The Rise. Brian Wallace, Director of the South Boston Boys and Girls Clubs, pledged the continued support of the clubhouse for expanding the successful youth activities at the development.

"Each and every opportunity to provide constructive alternatives for the youngsters in our public housing developments is a vital step to the future of our youth and our public housing communities," said BHA Administrator Doris Bunte.

The Old Colony Tenants Task Force, working closely with the city during the grant application process, wrote that the approximately 500 young residents of the Old Colony Development needed a center to house their many sports leagues and social activities. The new sports club will augment a basketball court built at the development last year by the City of Boston.

"CRACK" COCAINE

Effects on the Body

From Police Commissioner

Francis M. Roache

Crack reaches the brain 4 to 6 seconds after smoke is inhaled. The drug's impact begins immediately. The average high per $10 buy is 5 to 7 minutes.

BRAIN. The biochemical state is altered. Addiction takes place faster than any other drug — including heroin.

HEART. Heartbeat becomes more rapid, increasing by 30 to 50 percent and may become irregular. In rare instances may cause heart attack.

LIMBS. May convulse as muscles involuntarily contract.

CENTRAL NERVOUS SYSTEM Stimulation of the system produces euphoria, talkativeness, hallucinations, irritability and suspicion.

EYES. Pupils may dilate, becoming more sensitive to light. This may cause user to think he sees "halos" surrounding objects on which he attempts to focus. The halo effect is often called "snowflights" by users.

LUNGS. Chronic Crack smoking may lead to hoarseness and bronchitis similar to the effects of marijuana or tobacco smoking. Cocaine snorting does not produce the same effect.

ARTERIES. Blood pressure increases from 10 to 15 percent. Blood coursing through the vessels at a more rapid speed may cause, in rare cases, brain hemorrhage.

WEIGHT. Cocaine use can lead to severe and rapid weight loss.

NOTE: There are indications that the paranoia and violent temper outbursts often accompanying cocaine abuse are increased in intensity among those who use "free base."

MAYOR FLYNN HOSTED ICE SKATING CELEBRATION ON THE PUBLIC GARDEN LAGOON

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and Parks Commissioner Larry Dwyer officially launched Boston's free ice skating program on the Public Garden lagoon from 2 to 4 p.m., Saturday, January 6, 1990, with an afternoon of skating exhibitions, free lessons, music, hot cider and cocoa.

The skating program is co-sponsored by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and WMJX-FM, with help from The Hampshire House, The Boston Park Plaza Hotel, The Ritz-Carlton Hotel, and The Four Seasons Hotel. Skating on the lagoon, home to the famous swan boats in the summer, was brought back last year after a 10-year absence.

Parks Commissioner Larry Dwyer said, "The return of free ice skating on the Public Garden lagoon restores one of Boston's oldest traditions, and offers residents and visitors a chance to enjoy this historic park through the winter."

According to Dwyer, the Parks Department has introduced a number of special events to the 1990 winter program. In addition to music provided by WMJX-FM throughout the week, area hotels will sponsor live musical entertainment each weekend, and The Boston Park Plaza will provide skaters with free hot apple cider each Sunday afternoon.

The Parks Department has also scheduled a Winter Fest from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday, January 27, with free cross-country skiing demonstrations, lessons, and ski rentals on the Boston Common parade grounds, and a simultaneous ice skating exhibition on the Public Garden lagoon.

On Sunday, February 11, from 12 to 3 p.m., the Parks Department will sponsor a Valentine's Day festival on the Public Garden featuring a couples figure-skating competition and live musical entertainment. Winners from the competition will receive an all-expense paid weekend trip to The Four Seasons Hotel in Montreal, Canada.

The ice skating program on the Public Garden lagoon will run Monday through Friday from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m., and weekends from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. through the end of March, 1990. Skate guards will provide instruction and safety lessons during scheduled hours. Additionally, a 24-hour ice condition telephone hotline has been provided by WMJX-FM at 931-1067.

For more information on the Boston Parks and Recreation Department's 1990 Winter Program, call 725-4505.

T RIDERS FLOCKING TO BUY MONTHLY PASSES

T passengers are buying monthly passes to record numbers, T General Manager Thomas P. Glynn announced recently with sales for November passes reaching an all-time one-month high of 149,000. This is a 3 percent increase over November 1988 sales and a jump of 1,410 passes for the previous monthly high set last May.

Regular T pass holders (11 of 12 months) are eligible for a 15 percent discount, up to $75, off the comprehensive portion of their automobile insurance. Passholders can also get discounts at area stores and attractions and can bring a guest for free on Sundays.

"More and more passengers are discovering that the pass is the easiest, most convenient and least costly way to use the T," said Glynn. "Much of the growth in pass sales is the result of an aggressive marketing campaign, including this past summer's special 'Summer Sizzler' promotion, the addition of more local pass sales outlets, a 92 percent customer satisfaction rating, and savings available on the cost of automobile insurance."

Last spring the T simplified the 15-year-old monthly pass program to make it easier for T riders to use and buy the monthly pass. The passes include: Bus, Subway,

For further information on how to adopt a statue please contact the Environment Department at 725-3850 (Paula Mierzejewski) or Office of Arts and Humanities at 725-3245 (Mary Shannon).

Combo, Compo Plus, Express Buses, and Commuter Rail passes priced according to distance.

During the last week of December, the T introduced a new commuter boat pass in response to passenger suggestions. Commuter boat passengers will enjoy the convenience of a monthly pass which allows them unlimited trips on the subway system and the same savings enjoyed by other monthly pass holders.

New conveniently located corporate sales centers are started in cooperation with the City of Boston Department of Transportation and local developers including Beacon and Jaymont Properties to encourage Boston office workers who commute every-day to use public transportation.

Another new and successful pass outlet is operated by The Greater Boston Visitors and Convention Bureau at the Prudential Tower.

Neighborhood stores, many of which are open on weekends and holidays, have recently started to sell T passes in Boston, Brookline, Hyde Park, Malden, Melrose, Needham, Newton, and Woburn.

Last July the T introduced the Boston Passport Visitors pass, allowing unlimited travel on subway, bus, and streetcar lines for three ($8) or seven days ($16). In the first six months of sales, the T earned over $100,000 from these passes, much of which would not have been possible without the new Visitor Pass program.

Over 325,000 people use the T's buses, streetcars, subway, and trains each week-day.

CUSTOMER SATISFACTION HIGH WITH MBTA'S The RIDE PROGRAM FOR DISABLED PERSONS

Ninety-five percent of customers using the MBTA's The RIDE door-to-door van program for disabled persons are satisfied with service, according to an MBTA survey conducted this fall. The service also received high marks from passengers for the courtesy and helpfulness of its drivers, with 98 percent of passengers surveyed indicating satisfaction.

"These results are very encouraging," said MBTA General Manager Thomas F. Glynn. "Our hard work in improving this vital program is really paying off. For thousands of people who are unable to use regular MBTA service, The RIDE provides a lifeline to important services in their communities and throughout the region. It's a key part of our effort to expand accessibility for disabled people."

Glynn added that he is disappointed that planned expansion of The RIDE would not be possible this year because of the T's current budget situation which is being debated in the state Legislature.

The survey was part of a general survey of MBTA customers taken in September which revealed a new high 92 percent customer satisfaction with overall T services. Other survey results concerning The RIDE include:

- 91 percent of RIDE customers felt the service has improved over the last few years, with 94 percent indicating that the service has become more reliable.
- Three-quarters of RIDE users surveyed said that they are more satisfied with overall service than they were with the service provided a year ago.
- 91 percent of RIDE users indicated they are satisfied with The RIDE's reservation system.

- 99 percent of RIDE users are satisfied with drivers, and 91 percent with The RIDE's dispatch system.
- More than 90 percent felt that The RIDE was the least expensive way of getting to their regular destination, and a similarly high percentage felt that fares are reasonable. Ninety-six percent said The RIDE is the fastest way to get to their regular destination.
- 93 percent of RIDE users are satisfied with the physical up-keep of vehicles.
- 22 percent of RIDE customers surveyed use The RIDE five to seven times a week, and 27 percent use it one to four times per week.

The MBTA began The RIDE program in the Boston area in 1977. Door-to-door service in lift-equipped vans is available for eligible participants Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekends and holidays. The service operates 365 days a year.

The program was expanded this past summer to five South Shore and three North Shore communities, bringing the number of communities served throughout the region to 44.

Eligibility is granted to persons who, because of a physical or mental disability lasting for a period of six months or longer, are unable to use regular MBTA services. Residents must register with the T's Office for Transportation Access. Once qualified, registered users must request a trip 24-hours in advance, and must be a resident of one of the communities served. One-way fare is 75 cents.

Besides travelling within their own communities, RIDE users may also schedule van-to-van transfers for trips into Boston and other communities, as well as transfers to T lift-equipped buses through the MBTA Call-A-Lift Bus program, as well as accessible subway stations.

Information on registration for The RIDE program is available from the MBTA Office for Transportation Access, 722-5123 (TDD 722-5415) or 1-800-533-MBTA.

NEW WALKIE-TALKIES, MOBILE RADIOS ADDED TO IMPROVE T SECURITY

T Police will be equipped better than ever before to provide safe and secure travel for T riders with the addition of 50 new walkie-talkies and 15 mobile radios through a $161,000 contract approved on December 13 by the T's Board of Directors.

T General Manager Thomas P. Glynn said, "These walkie-talkies replace outmoded and hard to maintain equipment in use since the mid-1970s, and provide T police officers with the right tools to get the job done."

Glynn also noted that six new officers joined the T police department last month, boosting police presence throughout the system.

T Police Chief Thomas P. Maloney said, "The new radios allow the addition of a second frequency for emergency calls to the T's communications system, and provide greater range for police patrolling T commuter rail lots throughout Eastern Massachusetts."

The T Police communications system is part of the Boston Area Police Emergency Radio Network. The new equipment is being purchased from Motorola, Inc., of Walham, through the Greater Boston Police Council.

The Environmental Resource Center is presenting an intensive one-day seminar that details the requirements and concisely explains how to comply with the OSHA Hazard Communication Standard and the Emergency Planning and Community Right-To-Know Act (SARA Title III). This OSHA portion of the seminar will clearly present how to determine which materials are regulated in the workplace, what OSHA requires of all facilities to include in a written Hazard Communication Plan, how to develop an employee training program, how Material Safety Data Sheets must be made available, and how to comply with container labelling requirements, and how to protect trade secrets.

The SARA portion of the seminar presents step-by-step procedures to help you clearly understand how to comply with SARA Title III. Included are methods for identifying which materials must be reported; procedures to implement when notifying of a release; how to complete the Tier I, Tier II, and Form R reports; how to determine if your facility is exempt; and how to maintain trade secret confidentiality. Each attendee will receive a comprehensive reference manual on the Hazard Communication Standard and SARA Title III, which contains all pertinent regulations, up-to-date lists of regulated chemicals, and easy to understand guidance that summarizes how to comply with OSHA, EPA and state regulations. Each attendee also receives free updates to the manual for one year.

The 1990 course is scheduled in Boston on May 23.

The MBTA began acquiring wheelchair lift-equipped buses in 1982. In 1986 the T's Call-A-Lift Bus Program began allowing passengers to call ahead to schedule an accessible bus on a desired bus route. All operators of lift-equipped buses have been thoroughly trained in the use of the wheelchair lift, tie-downs, and in awareness of the requirements of passengers with disabilities.

The T has pledged to purchase only lift-equipped buses in the future and with the arrival of 200 new lift-equipped buses this past summer, now has 473 lift-equipped buses, 50 percent of the fleet.

For more information on wheelchair lift-equipped buses, the CALL-A-LIFT bus program and other services provided for passengers with disabilities please call the MBTA's Office of Transportation Access at 617-722-5123. Passengers who want to make lift bus reservations, should call 1-800-LIFT-BUS (543-8287).

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT BACKS REALLO- CATION OF FEDERAL HIGHER EDUCATION FUNDS

Northeastern University President John A. Curry called for a reallocation of federal higher education funds from colleges and universities to elementary and secondary public schools, in a speech delivered at his inauguration as the fifth president of Northeastern University on Friday, December 1, 1989.

"If some federal dollars earmarked for higher education are needed to strengthen our public schools—and they are—then the reallocation of those funds has my full support," said Curry. "I support it because I know that neither this or any university nor our democracy can continue to flourish unless the children of today are prepared to be the college students and citizens of tomorrow."

Curry said he will ask Congress to consider making federal higher education funds contingent on the efforts of colleges and universities to rebuild the public schools. Curry unveiled a new commitment by Northeastern University to the Boston Public Schools. Under the program, one hundred first graders this spring will be given full scholarships to Northeastern, if they stay in school and graduate from high school. "The first graders who make good on their part of the bargain will join our freshman class in the year 2001."

Curry's inaugural address, "The University In A Democracy: Empowerment, Tolerance, and Community," was a call to action to those in higher education to "teach our students and remind our citizenry that the task of building a democracy is never finished — and we must supply the raw materials, the bricks and mortar, needed to get on with the job."

Curry is the first Northeastern graduate to serve as president of the largest private university in the country. "John Curry's inauguration is sign of Northeastern's maturity as a university," said George J. Matthews, chairman of the Northeastern University Corporation and Board of Trustees. "For the first time in the history of this university, one of our own, a Northeastern graduate, will lead us into the future."

The new president embodies the promise of a Northeastern University education. The eldest son of a working class family from Lynn, Massachusetts, Curry couldn't afford a college education. He got the opportunity to earn a teaching degree while working in a job that financed his education and living expenses by enrolling in Northeastern's nationally recognized Cooperative Education program. In 1956, Curry was graduated by Northeastern and went on to earn two master's degrees from the University and a doctorate in education from Boston University.

Curry began his 24-year career at Northeastern in 1963 as an admissions counselor. He rose through the ranks, holding a series of progressively responsible positions, including senior vice-president for administration (1979-1984) and executive vice-president (1984-1989), where he served as chief operating officer of the University. During his tenure as executive vice-president, Curry directed strategic planning, expanded student services, increased research funding and was responsible for the University's fundraising efforts, including a successful $47 million campaign.

With a clear understanding of the University's history and a vision for the future. Curry is articulating a three-point plan for increased access to educational opportunity, a strengthened Cooperative Education program, and the advancement of academic excellence.

"The faculty has been encouraged by President Curry's initial commitment to improve the academic quality of the University, manifested, for example, by his plans to develop new research facilities," said Wesley W. Marple, Jr., president of the Faculty Senate, the highest ranking governing body representing faculty at Northeastern. "He faces the challenge of reconciling the University's long-standing goal of affording access to higher education with its drive for excellence in a period of declining enrollments in colleges and universities across the country."

For the students and alumni of Northeastern University, the Curry presidency holds special meaning. Deborah Edwards, president of the Student Government Association said: "As an alumnus, President Curry is one of us. He remembers what student life is like. He listens to us, and he understands our concerns. I have noticed a more student-oriented feeling across campus."

Some 52,000 students attend Northeastern University each year, including 15,600 full-time students. The full-time faculty numbers 1,267.

Founded in 1898, Northeastern University has evolved from an evening institute for adult education to a diverse university with an international reputation. Northeastern is widely known for its Cooperative Education program, which allows students to spend five years in college, alternating quarters of classroom study with periods working in jobs related to their academic majors in business, high tech and communications firms throughout the U.S. and Europe.

Cooperative education is based on the principle that what students learn in the workplace complements what they learn in the classroom. By combining work and study, students gain greater insight into each. Last year, approximately 8,500 Northeastern students earned $72 million, an average of $8,470 per student, while working for 3,000 employers.

Northeastern is comprised of ten colleges which span academic disciplines ranging from business and law to nursing and criminal justice. It also supports numerous centers of research excellence, including the Center for the Study of Sport in Society, the Barnett Institute of Chemical Analysis and Materials Science, the Electromagnetics Research Center, the Center for Labor Market Studies, the African-American Institute, and the Applied Social Research Center.

Curry, 55, lives with his wife Marcia in Lynnfield, Massachusetts. They have three children: Robert, Susan, and Timothy.

GOVERNING ASSAULT WEAPONS

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Whereas, On March 28, 1989 the Boston City Council passed a Home Rule Petition believing that the legislation was reasonable and would only affect weapons clearly defined as "assault weapons;" and

Whereas, The city council did not intend to pass a punitive or deceptive Home Rule Petition directed against licensed gun owners in the city, nor did the city council intend to define certain legitimate target and/or hunting weapons as "assault weapons", nor does the city council wish to see innocent gun owners confused as to the status of their weapons; and

Whereas, In reviewing the language of the Home Rule Petition it was discovered that the Petition imposes an inflexible fine for a first offense of one thousand dollars, instead of the more reasonable language up to one thousand dollars, thus removing discretion from the courts, imposing, instead, a stiff penalty, even for a technical violation in the absence of a threat to society; and

Whereas, In reviewing the Home Rule Petition further it was discovered that an assault weapon is defined as

"any semi-automatic rifle with a fixed magazine capacity exceeding ten rounds . . ." and it was subsequently learned that virtually all .22 caliber target and hunting rifles have fixed magazine over ten rounds, and many accept detachable magazines over ten rounds, and none of these can seriously be considered assault weapons; and

Whereas, In reviewing the Home Rule Petition further it was discovered that an assault weapon was defined as a rifle which can accept a detachable magazine over ten rounds. The problem being that most semi-automatic rifles in use today have slots capable of accepting a detachable magazine of any capacity under and over ten rounds, thus bringing virtually all semi-automatic sporting and hunting rifles inadvertently under the law, ensuring there will be considerable confusion about the entire issue, while imposing and inflexible fine; and

Whereas, the Home Rule Petition directs those previously (lawfully) licensed, but denied a new permit for such a rifle, to dispose of their weapon, while prohibiting its sale or transfer, meaning that a lawfully licensed gun owner denied a new permit, who lawfully purchased his or her rifle prior to the Act, will be required to destroy such weapon without just compensation upon passage, and this, in the absence of a showing as to a genuine public need to "take", is retroactive and at best constitutionally suspect; and

Whereas, The state legislature, in reviewing a Home Rule Petition, cannot alter or change the petition except to correct spelling or grammatical errors. Accordingly, if the Home Rule Petition is passed in its present form it would affect virtually all lawful semi-automatic sporting and hunting rifles, including .22 cal. target and hunting rifles, defining them as assault weapons, creating untold confusion for the thousands of law abiding licensed gun owners in this city; and

Whereas, Language in the home rule petition is confusing, resulting in lawful gun owners expressing grave reservations about the city council's "written" versus "stated" intent; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council herein assembled acknowledges certain factual technical errors in the Home Rule Petition relative to assault weapons and directs the city clerk to forward a copy of this Resolution to the appropriate committee of the state legislature, asking that the Home Rule Petition passed by the city council on March 28, 1989 and subsequently signed by the mayor, be considered anew in view of this new information; and be it further

Resolved, That this Resolution in no way lessens the city council's sincere desire to prohibit genuine assault weapons.

Coun. KELLY moved that the resolution be adopted.

Yeas — Councillors Byrne, Iannella, Kelly — 3.

Nays — Councillors Bolling, Hennigan Casey, McCormack, McLaughlin, Menino, Salerno, Scondras, Travaglini, Yancey — 9.

ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW ESTABLISHING NEIGHBORHOOD COUNCILS

Couns. SALERNO, BOLLING, HENNIGAN CASEY, SCONDRAS, and YANCEY offered the following:

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the City of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under clause (1) of section eight of article two, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing precisely as follows, except for clerical or editorial changes of form only:

Section 1. There may be created in the City of Boston a neighborhood council in each neighborhood designated in accordance with the provisions of this section. The term neighborhood as it is used in this act shall mean a discrete geographic area within the city of Boston duly designated under this section.

The initial division of the city into neighborhoods shall be determined by the divider. The divider shall hold public hearings across the city to receive testimony from community leaders and other residents. The divider shall particularly solicit opinions on the neighborhood area-maps used by the Boston Redevelopment Authority for urban renewal purposes. Prior to formulating its proposal, the divider shall identify those boundaries that are the subject of disagreement among the residents who have given their opinions at said hearings. For each such controversial boundary, the divider shall immediately notify all persons and community organizations requesting notification that it will accept proposals for resolution of the controversy within forty-five days of such notice. After the last of such periods for accepting proposals has expired, the divider shall formulate its proposal solution to the controversy; provided, that for every controversial boundary or part thereof that is the subject of one and only one proposal from the community, the divider shall be bound by said proposal. Multiple submissions shall constitute a single proposal for all portions of a boundary regarding which the submissions are materially identical.

The divider shall formulate its proposal with an emphasis on following physical boundaries, maximizing contiguity, preserving historic identity, and grouping similar building characteristics and similar community interests. The election commission shall publicize the availability of nomination petitions for elections under this act by advertising in community newspapers, posting notices in municipal buildings in the neighborhood and on its official bulletin board, and by undertaking aggressive outreach to encourage prospective candidates from race and national-origin minorities consisting of persons black, latino, asian and native-american.

In each neighborhood prior to each election or neighborhood meeting, the election commission shall hold public forums for all certified candidates at the district and at-large levels and shall publish an election newsletter, distribute it to the neighborhood and give each candidate equal opportunity to have a statement published in it.

Whether the election is by ballot or at a neighborhood meeting, the number of persons who may be elected to the office of neighborhood councillor-at-large or, in each district to the office of district neighborhood councillor, receiving the highest number of votes shall be deemed elected to said office. If the election for neighborhood councillor-at-large or for district neighborhood councillor in any district results in a tie vote among candidates receiving the lowest number of votes, which, but for said tie vote, would entitle a person receiving the same to be deemed elected, all persons participating in said tie vote shall be deemed to have not been elected to said office. Any vacancies created by such failure to elect shall be filled by the duly elected members of the neighborhood council by electing a person eligible under section 9 of this act to such office by majority vote.

Section 9. Any resident of Boston 18 years of age or older may be nominated for election to a neighborhood council in accordance with the provisions of this act, except for the officers, appointed or otherwise, and employees of the Boston Redevelopment Authority and the following city employees and officials: 1) all policy-making and managerial employees, and 2) all employees and officials of the Office of the Mayor, the Office of Neighborhood Services, the Public Facilities Department, the Real Property Department, the Zoning Commission, the Board of Appeals and the Inspectional Services Department.

Any resident of the neighborhood, district or affected area, as the case may be, may sign a petition for a referendum or of nomination for office; provided, that such residency is evidenced in the list of residents or, if there is no address for the person on the list of residents, in the list of registered voters. The provisions of section 56 of said chapter 452 concerning multiple instances of the same name on a petition and concerning the appearance of the name of any person on more petitions for a given office than the number of persons who may be elected to such office shall apply to any petitions filed with the election commission under this act.

Only persons 18 years of age or older who are residents, as determined according to the provisions of this section, shall be eligible to vote on questions of changing neighborhood boundaries and of creating or consolidating neighborhoods where her or his residence is located within the affected area. Only persons 18 years of age or older who are residents, as determined according to the provisions of this section, shall be eligible to vote on questions of creating or dissolving a neighborhood council in her or his neighborhood, of selecting a means of electing a neighborhood council in her or his neighborhood, on the election of a districting commission for her or his neighborhood, on the election of neighborhood councillors-at-large in her or his neighborhood, on the election of the neighborhood councillor or councillors from her or his district, and on all orders of business arising at a meeting of eligible voters of her or his neighborhood. The election commission shall require identification and proof of residency of each voter at the poll or entrance to the neighborhood meeting. The strongest proof of residency shall be the residents list for the neighborhood of the voter. Where the residents list bears no address for the voter, then the voter may present any of the following documents bearing her or his name and address as proof of residence: 1) a bill from the sanitation, energy or telecommunications utility serving the address, 2) a driver's license, 3) a residential lease, 4) a United States Passport, 5) a resident-alien work permit, or 6) a paycheck or paycheck-stub; provided, that where applicable said document shall be dated within the six months preceding the election date. In the absence of all of the aforementioned proof of residency, the voter may submit a letter bearing her or his name and address as recipient and the postmark of the United States Postal Service, dated within the six months preceding the election date; provided, that the ballot of a voter whose residency is evidenced solely by such a letter shall automatically be considered and treated as a contested ballot, and provided, further, that such voter shall give an oath that he or she attests under the penalty of perjury that said address is true and correct.

Any eligible voter of the neighborhood may challenge the eligibility of any voter at the poll or the entrance to the neighborhood meeting. The election commission shall administer an oath to the challenger that the challenger attests under penalty of perjury to the validity of her or his evidence against the voter. The election commission shall then determine the eligibility of the voter upon a preponderance of the evidence. The ballot of each voter whose residency in the neighborhood or district is judged to be in doubt shall be enclosed in an envelope bearing the name and address of the voter and the challenger and held by the election commission until such time as uncontested ballots have been counted. At that time, the election commission shall determine whether any voter voted more than once in the neighborhood by checking contested ballots against the names of those who voted and shall not count any contested ballot of any voter who voted more than once. The election commission shall then determine whether the number of remaining contested ballots is equal to or greater than the margin of decision on any question or election voted on. If this determination is in the affirmative, the election commission shall check the address given for each contested ballot in accordance with section 11 of chapter 29 of the acts of 1977, place the name of verified residents on the residents list, and count into the vote totals those ballots cast by such verified residents of the neighborhood and district.

Section 10. Duly elected neighborhood councillors shall take office on the first day of January following their election and shall serve for a two-year term. No person may serve as district neighborhood councillor or as neighborhood councillor-at-large for more than two consecutive terms.

At a public hearing, the neighborhood council shall fill vacancies among its membership by electing by majority vote any candidate eligible for such office under the previous section; provided, that at least four weeks prior to the election the council shall notify the public and all candidates unsuccessful in the previous election for such office.

Section 11. Except where contrary to the provisions of this act, all special acts governing elections for other municipal offices in the city of Boston shall apply to any election held pursuant to this act. Except where contrary to the provisions of this act and all special acts governing elections for other municipal offices in the city of Boston, chapters 50 through 57, inclusive, of the General Laws shall apply to any election held pursuant to this act, except that section 18 of chapter 55 of the General Laws shall not apply in any given year to candidates, as defined in section 1 of said chapter 55, who incur expenditures not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars in that year. Any violation of the election provisions of sections 1 through 10, inclusive, of this act shall constitute a violation of the special acts governing elections for other municipal offices in the city of Boston.

Section 12. For the purposes of this act and the special acts amended thereby, the neighborhood council having jurisdiction shall mean any neighborhood council in whose neighborhood the property subject to said acts, or any part thereof, is physically located.

For the purposes of this act and the special acts amended thereby, a public benefit project shall include but not be limited to group care residences, lodging and boarding houses, elementary and secondary schools, day care centers, nursery schools, kindergartens, convalescent, nursing and rest homes, homes for the aged, orphanages, funeral homes, cemeteries, crematoria, private grounds for games and sports not conducted for profit, adult education centers, community centers, settlement houses, and outpatient clinics, and a public capital project shall be any city project for a municipal purpose, which shall include but not be limited to streets, roads, alleys, thoroughways, fire stations, police stations, jails, penal or correctional institutions, sewage and toxic waste facilities, telephone exchanges and facilities, pumping stations, public parks and playgrounds, and administration buildings; or any similar project undertaken by the Boston School Committee.

Section 13. Section 2 of chapter 665 of the acts of 1956, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 77 of the acts of 1958, is hereby further amended by striking out the first two paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following paragraphs:

For the purpose of promoting the health, safety, convenience, morals or welfare of its inhabitants, the city of Boston may, by a zoning regulation adopted by its zoning commission or one of its neighborhood councils, as the case may be, regulate and restrict the height, number of stories, and size of buildings and structures, the size and width of lots, the percentage of lot that may be occupied, the size of yards, courts and other open spaces, the density of population, and the location and use of buildings, structures and land for trade, industry, agriculture, residence or other purposes; provided, that use of land for a municipal purpose shall not be permitted in any district in which dwellings are permitted except that where, at the time of the adoption of a zoning regulation or amendment permitting dwellings in a district, a particular parcel of land in such district is used for a particular municipal purpose, use of such land for such purpose may be allowed to continue, and except, further, that use of a particular parcel of land for a municipal purpose in a district where dwellings are permitted may be allowed by special order of the zoning commission adopted after like report, notice and hearing, and in like manner and with like approval as a zoning regulation or amendment if notice of the hearing thereon is also sent by mail, postage prepaid, to the owners of all abutting property and also to the owners of such other property as may be deemed by the zoning commission to be especially affected by such order, as they appear on the then most recent local tax list.

For any or all such purposes, the neighborhood council having jurisdiction or, where no neighborhood council has jurisdiction, the zoning commission may enact zoning regulations that divide the city into zoning districts of such number, shape and area as it may deem best suited to carry out the purposes of this act. The zoning commission shall adopt regulations classifying the types of zoning districts with which the city may be divided and, for each type of zoning district, may regulate and restrict the erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration or use of buildings and structures, or use of land, and may prohibit noxious trades within any or all classes of zoning districts.

The neighborhood council having jurisdiction or, where no neighborhood council has jurisdiction, the zoning commission may also enact zoning regulations that establish overlay districts of such number, shape and area as may be deemed best suited to carry out any planning or other special purpose. Each neighborhood council or the zoning commission, as the case may be, may regulate and restrict within overlay districts in its jurisdiction any of those types of activities that may be regulated and restricted within zoning districts; provided, that the neighborhood councils may not adopt any such regulations that are contrary to zoning regulations classifying an overlay district previously adopted by the zoning commission. The zoning commission or any neighborhood council may adopt zoning regulations, in a form specified by the zoning commission, classifying types of overlay districts that may be established; provided, that any overlay district classified by a neighborhood council shall apply only to the neighborhood of that neighborhood council which classified it, unless the zoning commission has subsequently adopted the classification for city-wide application, in which case the zoning commission shall have sole authority to amend such classification; and provided, further, that classifications by the zoning commission shall not restrict the sole authority of a neighborhood council having jurisdiction to regulate and restrict activities in overlay districts within its neighborhood, whether by creating special zoning designations, requiring permits, allowing exceptions, adopting or enforcing plans or such other means as is necessary to the regulation and restriction. Where its provisions conflict with those of a zoning district, the provisions of the overlay district shall govern, except that no provision of any zoning regulation applicable to an overlay district, but not approved by the zoning commission, shall change the provisions of the underlying zoning district regarding uses for public benefit and capital projects.

For all districts by whomsoever classified and regulated, the regulations and restrictions shall be uniform for each class or kind of use, throughout the district, but the regulations and restrictions in one district may differ from those in other districts. Due regard shall be paid to the characteristics of the different parts of the city, and the regulations and restrictions shall be the same for zones, districts or streets having substantially the same character.

Section 14. Said chapter 665 is further amended by striking section 3, as most recently amended by section 1 of chapter 193 of the acts of 1966, and inserting in place thereof the following section:

Section 3. A zoning regulation may be adopted and from time to time amended by alteration, addition or repeal, but only in the manner hereinafter provided. No zoning regulation originally establishing the boundaries of a district or the regulations and restrictions to be enforced therein, and no such regulation amending the same as aforesaid, shall be adopted until the Boston Redevelopment Authority shall have submitted a report with recommendations concerning such regulation or amendment or allowed twenty days to elapse after receipt from the zoning commission or neighborhood council, as the case may be, of a request for such a report without making such a report, nor until after the zoning commission or neighborhood council, as the case may be, shall have given notice and held a public hearing with respect to such regulation or amendment. Such notice shall be published at least ten days prior to such hearing in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the city of Boston, and shall (a) refer to this act, (b) give the time and place of the public hearing, and (c) either state the express terms of the proposed regulation or amendment, or state the general subject thereof and the times when and the place where a copy of the express terms thereof may be obtained. Such notice shall also be sent by mail, postage prepaid, to any person filing written request for notice of hearings, such request to be renewed yearly in December. Such public hearing by the zoning commission, as the case may be, shall be attended by not less than six of the members of the zoning commission; and if less than six members are present at any public hearing, the members actually present may adjourn the same by proclamation to such time and place as they deem advisable, and further notice thereof shall not be necessary. Such public hearing by a neighborhood council, as the case may be, if attended by less than a majority of council members, may be adjourned by the members actually present by proclamation to such time and place as they deem advisable, and further notice thereof shall not be necessary. After such notice and hearing the zoning commission, as the case may be, by the concurrent vote of not less than seven of its members, may adopt or reject the proposed regulation or amendment, or may adopt a regulation or amendment in substantial accord with the proposed regulation or amendment. Votes of the zoning commission adopting a zoning regulation or amendment thereof shall be subject to the same provisions of law in respect to approval by the mayor as orders or votes of the city council of the city, except that the concurrent vote of not less than nine members of the zoning commission shall be necessary to pass such a regulation or amendment over the veto of the mayor. After such notice and hearing a neighborhood council, as the case may be, by the concurrent vote of a majority of its members, may adopt or reject the proposed regulation or amendment, or may adopt a regulation or amendment in substantial accord with the proposed regulation or amendment. Votes of a neighborhood council adopting a zoning regulation or amendment thereof shall not be subject to approval by the mayor.

Any owner of property may petition the zoning commission or neighborhood council having jurisdiction, as the case may be, to adopt an amendment of a zoning regulation which would affect her or his property, but shall not be entitled to have her or his proposed amendment considered by the commission or council unless he or she pays the city such sum, if any, as may from time to time be established by the zoning regulation as the estimated average cost to the city of a hearing on a proposed amendment of the zoning regulation.

Section 15. Section 5 of said chapter 665 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "commission", in line 4, the words: or neighborhood council.

Section 16. Section 8 of said chapter 665 is further amended by striking the second paragraph, as appearing in section 66 of chapter 802 of the acts of 1972, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:

Any board or officer of the city or any person aggrieved by reason of being refused a permit by any administrative official under the provisions of the state building code or by reason of any order or decision of the building commissioner or other administrative official in violation of any provision of the state building code may appeal to said board of appeals. Any board or officer of the city or any person aggrieved by reason of any order or decision of the building commissioner or other administrative official in violation of any provision of the zoning regulations or amendment thereof under the state building code may appeal to the neighborhood council having jurisdiction; provided, that where no neighborhood council has jurisdiction, or where the appeal is from an order or decision that was not based on zoning regulations governing any of use, height, or floor-area ratio, or where the appeal concerns a public benefit or public capital project, said appeal shall be to the board of appeal. Any such appeal must be filed with the board or officer from whose refusal, order, or decision the appeal is taken within forty-five days after the respective refusal, order, or decision as a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof along with payment to the building commissioner of a fee of such sum as the city council with the approval of the mayor may from time to time prescribe. Such board or officer shall forthwith transmit to said board of appeal or neighborhood council, as such board or officer shall determine in conformity with this act, such notice of appeal and all documents and papers constituting the record of the case in which the appeal is taken.

Section 17. Said section 8, as amended by section 66 of said chapter 802, is further amended by striking the third paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:-

Said board of appeal or neighborhood council, as the case may be, shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of any appeal and give public notice thereof in a newspaper of general circulation in the city, and also send notice by mail, postage prepaid, to the appellant and to the owners of all property deemed by said board of appeal or neighborhood council to be affected thereby, as they appear on the then most recent local tax list and to any person filing written request for notice of hearings, such request to be renewed yearly in December, to the Boston Redevelopment Authority and, in the case of hearings before the board of appeals, to the neighborhood council, if any, in which the property that is the subject of the appeal is located. At the hearing any party whether entitled to notice thereof or not may appear in person or by agent or attorney. No such hearing shall be held on any day on which a state or municipal election, preliminary election or primary is held in said city.

Section 18. said section 8 is further amended by striking the fourth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:

In acting upon such appeal, said board of appeal or neighborhood council having jurisdiction, as the case may be, may, in conformity with the provisions of this act, reverse, affirm in whole or in part, or may modify, any order or decision, and may make such order or decision as ought to be made, and to that end shall have all the powers of the board or officer from whom the appeal is taken and may direct the issue of a permit. The concurring vote of four-fifths of all the members of said board of appeal or a majority of all the members of said neighborhood council, as the case may be, shall be necessary to reverse any order or decision of any administrative official under this act, or to decide in favor of the applicant on any matter upon which it is required to pass under any zoning regulation or amendment thereof, or to effect any variance in, or exception to, the application of any such regulation or amendment.

Section 19. Said section 8 is further amended by striking the fifth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:

Said board of appeal and neighborhood councils shall cause to be made a detailed record of all their proceedings, which record shall set forth the reasons for their decisions, the vote of each member participating therein, and the absence of a member or her or his failure to vote. Such record, immediately following the board's or council's final decision, shall be filed in the office of the building commissioner of the city and shall be open to public inspection, and notice of such decision shall be mailed forthwith to each party in interest as aforesaid, to the Boston Redevelopment Authority, to every person present at the hearing who requests that notice be sent to her or him and states the address to which such notice is to be sent and, in the case of hearings before the board of appeal, to the neighborhood council, if any, in which the property that is the subject of the appeal is located.

Section 20. Said chapter 665 is further amended by striking section 9 and inserting in place thereof the following section:

Section 9. Upon an appeal from the refusal of the building commissioner or other administrative official to issue a permit under this act or under a zoning regulation as adopted and amended under this act, the neighborhood council having jurisdiction or, where no neighborhood council has jurisdiction, or where the appeal does not seek a variance in regulations governing any of use, height or floor-area ratio, or where the appeal requests a variance for a public benefit or public capital project, said board of appeal may authorize with respect to a particular parcel of land or to an existing building thereon a variance from the terms of such zoning regulation where, owing to conditions especially affecting such parcel or such building, but not affecting generally the district in which it is located, a literal enforcement of the provisions of such zoning regulation would involve substantial hardship to the appellant, and where desirable relief may be granted without substantial detriment to the public good and without nullifying or substantially derogating from the intent and purpose of such zoning regulation, but not otherwise; provided, that where there is a neighborhood council in the neighborhood in which the property that is the subject of the appeal is located, and the appeal does not seek a variance from any regulation governing any of use, height, or floor-area ratio, said board in its order on such appeal may not grant a variance from any regulation governing any of use, height or floor-area ratio; and provided, further, that where there is a neighborhood council in the neighborhood in which the property that is the subject of the appeal is located, and the appeal requests a variance from a public benefit or public capital project, said board in its order on such appeal shall condition any grant of a variance upon the actual use of the parcel for the public benefit or public capital project specified in the appeal. In authorizing such variance, said neighborhood council or board may impose limitations both of time and of user, and a continuation of the use permitted may be conditioned upon compliance with regulations to be made and amended from time to time thereafter.

Section 21. Section 10 of said chapter 665 is hereby amended by striking the third sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence: - If exceptions are so provided for, the neighborhood council having jurisdiction or, where no neighborhood council has jurisdiction, or where the appeal does not seek an exception to regulations governing any of use, height, or floor-area ratio, or where the appeal requests an exception for a public benefit or public capital project, said board of appeal may, subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, allow such an exception upon an appeal from the refusal of the building commissioner or other administrative official to issue a permit under this act or under a zoning regulation or amendment thereof adopted under this act; provided, that where there is a neighborhood council in the neighborhood in which the property that is the subject of the appeal is located, and the appeal does not seek an exception to any regulation governing any of use, height, or floor-area ratio, said board in its order on such appeal may not grant an exception to any regulation governing any of use, height, or floor-area ratio; and provided further, that where there is a neighborhood council in the neighborhood in which the property that is the subject of the appeal is located, and the appeal requests an exception for a public benefit or public capital project any grant of any exception upon the actual use of the parcel for the public benefit or public capital project specified in the appeal.

Section 22. Section 11 of said chapter 665, as amended by section 1 of chapter 669 of the acts of 1974, is further amended by striking the first and second paragraphs and inserting in place thereof the following paragraphs: -

Any person aggrieved by a decision of said board of appeal or by a decision of a neighborhood council on an appeal, whether or not previously a party to the proceedings, or any municipal board or officer, may appeal to the superior court sitting in equity for the county of Suffolk or, in the event that said decision is concerned with any building or place used, or intended or permitted for use, as a place of human habitation, to the housing court of the city of Boston; provided that such appeal is filed in either of said courts within fifteen days after such decision is recorded. Every person so appealing shall file a bond with sufficient surety, to be approved by the court, for such a sum as shall be fixed by the court, to indemnify and save harmless the person or persons in whose favor the decision was rendered from all damages and costs which the person or persons may sustain in case the decision of said board or council is affirmed. Upon an appeal under this section, the court shall hear all pertinent evidence and determine the facts, and, upon the facts as so determined, annul such decision if found to exceed the authority of such board or council, or make such other decree as justice and equity may require. The foregoing remedy shall be exclusive; but the parties shall have all rights of appeal and exception as in other equity cases.

Costs shall not be allowed against said board of appeal or neighborhood council unless it shall appear to the court that the board or council in making the decision appealed from acted with gross negligence, in bad faith or with malice; and costs shall not be allowed against the party appealing from the decision of the board or council unless it shall appear to the court that said party acted in bad faith or with malice in appealing to the court.

Section 23. Where a neighborhood council has jurisdiction, the provisions of the ninth paragraph of section 13 of chapter 652 of the acts of 1960, as amended, and, except as applied to public benefit and public capital projects, the provisions of paragraph E of section 4 of chapter 642 of the acts of 1966 shall be without force and effect.

Section 24. The first paragraph of section 12 of chapter 652 of the acts of 1960 is hereby amended by inserting at the end of the first sentence the words: and provided further, that the authority shall give the neighborhood council having jurisdiction thirty days notice, or such other notice to which the council consents, prior to approval of a project or any approval action under said sections 7, 11, 15, 16, 18B, 18D, during which time the authority may not take such action under said sections, unless the council makes its recommendations for the authority to consider in its decision; and provided, further, that approval by the authority of any changes in an approved project under said sections 11 or 18B or of the holding of a project free from all restrictions and limitations imposed by a said chapter 121A and without any of the powers, rights, privileges, benefits and exemptions thereby conferred, pursuant to section 16A said chapter 121A, shall be subject to approval by the neighborhood council having jurisdiction.

Section 25. The first paragraph of section 13 of said chapter 652, as appearing in section 2 of chapter 859 of the acts of 1965, is further amended by striking the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the sentence: - Persons intending to associate themselves by written agreement of association with intent to form a corporation under chapter 121A of the General Laws for the purpose of undertaking and carrying out under said chapter a project in Boston before so associating themselves, or an insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks intending to carry out under said chapter a project in Boston, or individuals, or associations of individuals in the form of joint ventures, partnerships, limited partnerships or trusts intending to undertake under said chapter a project in Boston, before undertaking such project, shall submit to the Boston Redevelopment Authority and the neighborhood council having jurisdiction an application for their approval of such project and for the consent of the authority to the formation of such corporation, if any.

Section 26. The second paragraph of said section 13, as so appearing, is further amended by striking the word "it", in line 5, and inserting in place thereof the following words: and whenever a neighborhood council is asked to approve an application for a project or for formation of a corporation, the authority or council.

Section 27. The third paragraph of said section 13, as so appearing, is hereby further amended by inserting after the word "authority", in line 1, the words: or council.

Section 28. Said section 13 is hereby amended by striking the fourth paragraph, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:

If the carrying out of the project will involve the destruction or rehabilitation of buildings occupied in whole or in part as dwellings, the authority and the neighborhood council having jurisdiction shall also determine whether or not there is a feasible method for the temporary relocation of families displaced from the project area and whether or not there are, or are being provided, in the project area or in other areas not generally less desirable in regard to public utilities and public and commercial facilities and at rents or prices within the financial means of the families displaced from the project area, decent, safe and sanitary dwellings equal in number to the number of, and available to, such displaced families and reasonably accessible to their places of employment; and unless they find that there is such a feasible method and that such dwellings exist or are being provided, they shall not approve the project.

Section 29. The fifth paragraph of said section 13, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "authority", in line 3, the words: and council.

Section 30. Said section 13 is further amended by striking out the sixth and seventh paragraphs, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following paragraphs:

The authority and neighborhood council having jurisdiction each shall prepare, adopt and make open to public inspection a report approving or disapproving the application and setting forth their reasons for approval or disapproval. If the authority or council disapproves the application, it may suggest changes in the application, in the project, or in the plans therefor, which if adopted, would meet its objections. If the persons intending to associate as aforesaid or an insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks, or a charitable corporation organized under chapter 180 of the General Laws intending to carry out a project in Boston determine to proceed in accordance with the changes suggested, they shall amend their application accordingly. If the proposed change is not a fundamental one, the authority and council may approve or disapprove the application as amended without further hearing or report; otherwise, the authority and council shall proceed as if it were a new application.

Whenever the authority approves an application, it shall make and embody in its report reasonable rules and regulations setting minimum standards for the financing, construction, maintenance and management of such project insofar as the same are not specified in and are not inconsistent with the application for the approval thereof; provided, that the authority shall give the neighborhood council having jurisdiction thirty days notice, or such other notice to which the council consents, prior to approving such rules and regulations, during which time the authority may not take such action, unless the council makes its recommendations for the authority to consider in its decision.

Section 31. The eighth paragraph of said section 13, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "application", in line 2, the words: and after the neighborhood council having jurisdiction has approved the application.

Section 32. The eleventh paragraph of said section 13, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding the words: ; provided, that the authority shall give the neighborhood council having jurisdiction thirty days notice, or such other notice to which the council consents, prior to any such declaration, during which time the authority may not take such action, unless the council makes its recommendations for the authority to consider in its decision.

Section 33. Said section 13, as so appearing, is further amended by striking the twelfth paragraph and inserting in place thereof the following paragraph:

After approval of a project by the authority and neighborhood council having jurisdiction, the corporation, insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks, individuals or associations, carrying out such project may apply to the authority and said neighborhood council for leave to change the type and character of the buildings on such project; and the authority and said neighborhood council may grant such application unless in their opinion the proposed change is a fundamental one, in which case the authority and council shall proceed as if such application to change were an application for the original approval of the project.

Section 34. The thirteenth paragraph of said section 13, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "authority", in lines 1, 2, and 9, the words: or council.

Section 35. Said chapter 652 is further amended by striking section 13A, as most recently amended by section 6 of chapter 421 of the acts of 1966, and inserting in place thereof the following section:

Section 13A. Three or more persons wishing to associate themselves by written agreement of association, in a form furnished or approved by the commissioner of corporations and taxation, and individuals, and associations of individuals in the form of joint ventures, partnerships, limited partnerships or trusts resident or organized in the commonwealth, or a charitable corporation organized under chapter 180 of the General Laws may apply to the Boston Redevelopment Authority and the neighborhood council having jurisdiction for their approval of the acquisition of a project which has been authorized and approved and which has been developed or is being developed in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing section, or for the purpose of acquiring any severable portion of such project. The application shall specify the project or portion thereof which it is proposed to acquire, the terms upon which the same is to be acquired, and the amount of capital which it is intended to raise. If it is proposed that any changes in the project be made, the application shall include such information concerning the proposed changes that the authority and neighborhood council shall require. If the authority and the neighborhood council determine that such persons or associations appear to have the ability requisite to perform the obligations and carry out the duties imposed by chapter 121A of the General Laws with respect to the project, and if they determine that none of the proposed changes, if any, in the project are fundamental, they shall approve the application and the authority shall issue a certificate that it approves the application. The agreement of association, if any, shall not be presented to the state secretary for filing, nor shall he or she file it, unless it is accomplished by such certificate. If any changes in the project are proposed in the application, and if the authority and the neighborhood council determine that any such changes are fundamental, they shall proceed as if such application to change were an application for the original approval of the project. Any person receiving approval under this section shall have all of the powers, rights, privileges, benefits and exemptions and shall be subject to all the duties of a corporation organized under chapter 121A of the General Laws; provided, however, that the periods of forty years set forth in sections 10 and 16 shall be computed from the date of organization of the corporation which initiated the project regardless of any default upon the part of such corporation which initiated such project.

Section 36. Section 14 of said chapter 652 is hereby amended by inserting after the word "that", in line 14, the words: the authority in performing said duties shall give thirty days notice, or such other notice to which the neighborhood council consents, to the council having jurisdiction prior to exercising said power with respect to these projects, during which time the authority may not take such action, unless the council makes its recommendations for the authority to consider in its decision.

Section 37. Any contract executed by the city of Boston by authority of section 6A of chapter 121A of the General Laws shall also be filed with the neighborhood council having jurisdiction. Within thirty days after the contract is filed with the council, the council may petition the superior court sitting in Suffolk County for declaratory judgment nullifying any provisions of any such contract that are not in accordance with the provisions of the application for the project as approved by the council.

Section 38. The second paragraph of section 12 of chapter 652 of the acts of 1960 is hereby amended by striking the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentences: The authority shall further have the powers and perform the duties from time to time conferred or imposed on planning boards of cities in Massachusetts by section 70 of chapter 41 of the General Laws and by other general laws applicable to Boston. For the purposes of section 48 of chapter 121B of the General Laws, the authority in performing the duties of a planning board with respect to urban renewal plans or changes therein shall give thirty days notice, or such other notice to which the council consents, to the neighborhood council having jurisdiction prior to making any determination required by said section, during which time the authority may not take such action, unless the council makes its recommendations for the authority to consider in its decision.

Section 39. Upon deciding to consider making any determination or to consider preparing any plan under the provisions of clauses (a), (b), or (c) of section 46 of said chapter 121B, the authority shall immediately give notice to the neighborhood council having jurisdiction of such intention to consider such action. The authority shall not take the action until at least thirty days after the neighborhood council has been so notified.

Section 40. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of the General Laws or special statutes, the neighborhood council having jurisdiction shall have the power to approve, in addition to any other approval as may be required, any relocation plan under chapter 79A of the General Laws necessitated by the taking of any property by eminent domain by the authority under clause (d) of section 11 and section 47 of said chapter 121B. The authority shall not take property by eminent domain under said clause (d) of said section 11 and said section 47, and shall not take any action under clause (e) of said section 11 that is not part of a project approved by the neighborhood council having jurisdiction, without giving the council thirty days notice or such other notice to which the council consents, of such action, during which time the authority may not take such action, unless the council makes its recommendations for the authority to consider in its decision.

Section 41. For the purposes of sections 41 to 45 of this act, the following definitions shall apply:

a) municipal agency: any agency, board, bureau, commission, council, department, division, institution, office, or tribunal or other instrumentality of the city of Boston that acquires, holds, leases, develops or sells land or buildings for the city, including the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the Public Facilities Department and the Real Property Department, which municipal agencies shall not dispose of publicly owned property except in accordance with this act, notwithstanding the provisions of clause (d) of section 11 of chapter 121B of the General Laws, section 12 of chapter 642 of the acts of 1966, section 3 of chapter 434 of the acts of 1943, or of any other statutes authorizing any municipal agency to acquire publicly owned property; provided, that where the approval of the mayor is otherwise required, the term municipal agency shall include the mayor;

b) project: the erection or extension of any structure or part thereof, or the change of use of any structure or land, for which a building or use permit is required, except for any such activities subject to the duties, powers and responsibilities of chapter 121A of the General Laws, and, further, except for public benefit and public capital projects;

c) publicly owned property: vacant land or abandoned buildings in the possession of any municipal agency;

d) request for proposal: solicitation of project proposals that may outline any of the development concept and use, density, design, and affordability guidelines for a project, except that the affordability guidelines shall comply with or specify a greater percentage of affordable units as then required and defined by the policy on affordable housing of the municipal agency having jurisdiction.

Section 42. Upon obtaining title and possession of publicly owned property, every municipal agency shall immediately notify the neighborhood council having jurisdiction thereof. At least thirty days, or such other time to which the council consents, prior to determining or changing the municipal purpose for which publicly owned property is held, or acquiring by purchase, holding, leasing or selling publicly owned property other than for the purpose of undertaking or causing the undertaking of a project, a municipal agency shall notify the neighborhood council having jurisdiction, during which time the agency may not take such action, unless the council makes its recommendations for the agency to consider in its decision.

Section 43. Notwithstanding the provisions of clause (d) of section 46 of said chapter 121B, sections 31, 31A and 31B of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, clause (b) of section 11 of chapter 643 of the acts of 1983, or any other statute authorizing any municipal agency to undertake or cause the undertaking of a project on publicly owned property, no municipal agency shall either lease or sell publicly owned property for the purpose of causing the undertaking of a project, or undertake a project on publicly owned property except in accordance with the provisions of this section; provided, that where a state board or department has authority to promulgate regulations governing such leasing, sale or project, such regulations may deviate from the provisions of this section except to reduce the authority of neighborhood councils; and provided, further, that municipal agencies where otherwise authorized may adopt rules and regulations in conformity with this section.

a) At least thirty days, or such other time to which the council consents, prior to deciding to lease, sell or develop publicly owned property for the purposes of undertaking or causing the undertaking of a project, every municipal agency shall notify the neighborhood council having jurisdiction, during which time the agency may not take such action, unless the council makes its recommendations for the agency to consider in its decision.

b) In the case of a project initiated by the agency, a municipal agency shall prepare and approve a request for proposals, which shall not be made public in final form until the neighborhood council having jurisdiction has approved it.

c) After the receipt of proposals for an agency-initiated project or of a privately initiated proposal or proposals, the municipal agency shall reject those proposals that do not evidence the technical qualifications and financial resources to undertake the project as described in the request for proposals. Thereafter, the municipal agency and the neighborhood council having jurisdiction may tentatively designate one or more remaining proposals to receive further consideration. The agency, and any public body specially designated by law, shall consider in their review of any design elements of any such project or projects the recommendations of the council submitted within a reasonable time after such tentative designation.

d) After completion of the design or subject to approval of the completed design for the project, the municipal agency and the neighborhood council having jurisdiction may give final designation or approval to one of the remaining proposals. Thereafter, the municipal agency may prepare in conformity with the final design and, after review by the council within a reasonable time after their preparation, execute any contracts necessary to the leasing or sale of or undertaking of the finally designated project on the publicly owned property.

e) Any changes in the project as approved and contracted for shall require the approval of the municipal agency and of the neighborhood council having jurisdiction.

Section 44. At least thirty days, or such other time to which the neighborhood council consents, prior to initiating or taking any action set forth in paragraphs (a)-(g) below, the appropriate municipal agency shall notify the neighborhood council having jurisdiction, during which time the agency may not take such action, unless the neighborhood council makes its recommendations for the agency to consider in its decision:

a) the delivery of services, including but not limited to services performed by the Public Works, Parks and Recreation, Inspectional Services, Transportation, Police, Fire, and Public Facilities Departments;

b) adoption or revision of capital plans and development of public buildings by the Public Facilities Department under sections 3 and 4 of chapter 642 of the acts of 1966;

c) allocation of community development block grants by the Public Facilities Department pursuant to sub-part D of part 570 title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or any comparable federal program;

d) approval, renewal, revocation, change or transfer a license by the Licensing Board, whether under chapter 138 or chapter 140 of the General Laws or section 4 of chapter 291 of the acts of 1906, as amended;

e) adoption or revision of traffic plans by the transportation department under section 2 of chapter 263 of the acts of 1929, as amended;

f) designation of a location for and development of other public benefit and public capital projects; and

g) taking by eminent domain, whether under section 31 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, clause (a) of section 1 of chapter 474 of the acts of 1946, or chapters 79 and 80A of the General Laws, or approval of a relocation plan under chapter 79A of the General Laws, by the City of Boston.

Section 45. Notwithstanding any provision of any general or special law, every neighborhood council shall have access to, upon reasonable request to any municipal agency, such information as is necessary to formulate each decision and recommendation that the council has the authority to make under this act. Such information shall include but not be limited to data, studies, surveys, reports, contracts, proposals, specifications, or such other material as the council deems necessary. In all cases, the neighborhood council shall follow the determination of the municipal agency providing the information as to whether or not the information constitutes a public record under clause 26 of section 7 of chapter 4 of the General Laws.

Every municipal agency, to which a neighborhood council has the right under this act to give recommendations within a specified time period prior to the making of a decision by the agency, shall give great weight to the recommendations of the council in making its decision. Such municipal agency shall provide to the council within ten days of such decision a written explanation of its reasons for any substantial deviation in its decision from such recommendations.

Section 46. In addition to any general or specific powers granted in this act, each neighborhood council shall have authority to:

a) accept grants, gifts and other aid from the federal government or any agency thereof, the commonwealth or any agency, authority, division or subdivision thereof, or any charitable foundation, private corporation or individual and, notwithstanding the provisions of section 53 of chapter 44 of the General Laws or the provisions of section 2 of chapter 434 of the acts of 1909, as amended, to expend the same without appropriation; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed so as to authorize a neighborhood council to undertake development projects;

b) sue and be sued, including to bring suit against other municipal agencies and governmental bodies, and to have standing, unless otherwise barred by the General Laws, to bring suit for enforcement of any of its decisions or rules or, where applicable to the neighborhood within its jurisdiction, for enforcement of any contracts to which the City of Boston or the Boston Redevelopment Authority is a party under chapters 121A and 121B zoning regulations, building codes, and permits and licenses issued by the City of Boston; or for protection of its rights under law or equity;

All fees and revenue collected by each neighborhood council, except those received in accordance with clause a) of section 46 of this act, shall be paid into the treasury of the city. The provisions of chapter 31 of the General Laws shall not apply to employees of any neighborhood council. Each neighborhood council may fix the compensation of its employees and may delegate any of its authority under this section to its employees.

Section 48. There shall be in the city of Boston a Residents Advisory Committee, hereinafter referred to as the committee. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 14 of chapter 486 of the acts of 1909, as amended, of chapter 418 of the acts of 1890, or of any other special act, the committee shall consist of representatives appointed and removed for cause by neighborhood councils in the city. The election commission shall determine the number of representatives each neighborhood council may appoint to the committee immediately upon creation of the first neighborhood council under this act and thereafter by January first of the second year commencing after the date of the federal decennial census of the population. The number of representatives shall be determined by dividing the population of each neighborhood by ten thousand, rounding the fraction to the nearest integer, with the fraction one-half being rounded to the higher integer; provided, that each neighborhood council shall appoint at least one representative. The committee shall submit at the start of the annual city budget process a request for an appropriation to the city council and mayor, who shall appropriate the amount requested or a lesser amount within sixty days after the request is filed with the city clerk; provided, that if the city council and mayor fail to so act, the requested appropriation shall be in effect as if formally adopted by the city council and approved by the mayor, and provided, further, that the city council and mayor shall appropriate to the committee no less than four thousand dollars per neighborhood council appointing representatives to the committee.

Section 49. Meetings of the neighborhood councils and of the committee shall be held in buildings accessible to physically handicapped persons, as specified in the regulations adopted pursuant to section 13A of chapter 22 of the General Laws. If a resident of the neighborhood or of the city, as the case may be, so requests at least one week prior to the meeting, the neighborhood council or the committee shall provide at its meeting a qualified interpreter for deaf or hearing-impaired persons, as defined in section 92A of chapter 221 of the General Laws, or an appropriate language interpreter, as defined in section 1 of chapter 221C of the General Laws. If a neighborhood council or the committee fails to meet the requirements of this paragraph, it may not take any action at such meeting or hearing, but may by proclamation adjourn to another reasonable time and place, at which time and place it may proceed with the meeting or hearing if it has subsequently rectified said failure.

For the purposes of chapter 268A of the General Laws, the members and employees of neighborhood councils and of the committee shall be considered special municipal employees of the city of Boston, and the mayor shall be considered the official responsible for the appointment of neighborhood councillors and committee members.

Office of the Mayor

April 4, 1989.

To the City Council,
Dear Councillors:

Police Department

Attached, please find crime statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the week ending March 25, 1989.

It should be noted that these statistics provide "a snap shot of crime" in Boston for the reporting week. In some cases, several of these incidents may be further investigated and determined to be unfounded claims. Thus, these statistics, when compiled for a one month period or for a year long period will differ, to some degree, from the Uniform Crime Report tallies that take into account such unfound or reclassified cases.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the waterfront and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston, District Seven is East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston and Kenmore. District fifteen is Charlestown.

As I mentioned in last week's report, we have almost finalized the format that will capture the information relative to the department of sworn police officers to each district by shift. In the interim, I am forwarding currently available personnel statistics by area. These statistics reflect the total number of police officers from all bureaus assigned to each Command Area during the last quarter of calendar year 1988 and the number of overtime hours worked by officers in the Bureau of Field Services in each area for February 1989.

CRIME STATISTICS FROM MARCH 26 - MARCH 31, 1989

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 10, 1989.

To the City Council,
Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith communication received from the Police Department pertaining to crime statistics for the period commencing March 26, 1989 and ending March 31, 1989.

Sincerely,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Police Department

Attached, please find crime statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the week ending March 31, 1989.

It should be noted that these statistics provide "a snap shot of crime" in Boston for the reporting week. In some cases, several of these incidents may be further investigated and determined to be unfounded claims. Thus, these statistics, when compiled for a one month period or for a year long period will differ, to some degree, from the Uniform Crime Report tallies that take into account such unfounded or reclassified cases.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the waterfront and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston, District Seven is East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston and Kenmore. District fifteen is Charlestown.

You will find attached the deployment statistics for this reporting week. These numbers are broken down by shift for each day and reflect all sworn personnel that reported to work on a given day and shift in each of the Areas. The numbers therefore include people regularly assigned and those on overtime as well as factor out people who were sick, injured, or on vacation. It is an actual representation of officers working through the Bureau of Field Services.

I know that you requested this information by district vs. area and we are continuing to fine tune this report to provide that level of detail. In the interest of timeliness, this report is being submitted by area but the district breakdown should be available within the next two (2) weeks. I hope that you find this information useful.

The following was received;

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 11, 1989.

To the City Council.
Dear Councillors,

I transmit herewith for your approval an order to approve the issuance of industrial development bonds in a principal amount not to exceed $13,000,000. The Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority (BIDFA)'s Board of Directors, acting pursuant to the provisions of chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws, adopted a favorable resolution with respect to this industrial development project.

The construction and improvement plans of Kemble-Norfolk Realty Trust/68 Reading Realty Trust include the following:

Construction of an approximately 27,675 square-foot building at 47 Kemble Street, Roxbury, Mass., to enclose a licensed refuse transfer station located thereon and the construction of an approximately 39,750 square-foot building at 20-56 Kemble Street, Roxbury, Mass., and the acquisition and installation of machinery and equipment therein for a raw materials processing plant to be used by Jet-A-Way, Inc.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible so that this employer may implement his business plans as described.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, The City of Boston, Massachusetts (the "City"), acting by and through its Industrial Development Financing Authority (the "Authority"), is empowered to assist in the financing of industrial development facilities through the issuance of industrial revenue bonds pursuant to Chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws as amended (the "Act"); and

Whereas, The construction and improvement of certain property (the "Project") to be owned by Kemble-Norfolk Realty Company and Sixty-Eight Reading Realty Company, Massachusetts nominee trusts (collectively, the "Borrower"), which term includes in this Order any nominee trust, joint venture, partnership, corporation or any other entity related to the or in which the Borrower is a principal or in which any of the principals of the Borrower are also principals), and used by Jet-A-Way, Inc. (the "User") in the processing or raw materials has been proposed for the City consisting generally of the following:

Construction of an approximately 27,675 square-foot building at 47 Kemble Street, Roxbury, Mass., to enclose a licensed refuse transfer station located thereon and the construction of an approximately 39,750 building at 20-56 Kemble Street, Roxbury, Mass., and the acquisition and installation of machinery and equipment therein for a raw materials processing plant to be used by the User; and

Whereas, The Borrower agrees that it shall make payments sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on industrial revenue bonds of the City issued to pay costs of the Project and current expenses, if any, of the City acting by and through the Authority incurred in connection therewith and that it shall reimburse the City for, or indemnify the City against, any expenses or costs incurred by the City in the event that the issuance and sale of such bonds are not accomplished as contemplated; and

Whereas, The estimated cost of the Project is approximately $13,000,000; and

Whereas, The Borrower has requested the City to issue industrial revenue bonds under the Act to finance, in whole or in part, the costs of the Project; and

Whereas, The User has indicated its willingness to finance any costs of the Project in excess of $13,000,000 other than by the issuance of these industrial revenue bonds and it appears that the cost of the Project or such portion thereof as is not financed through other sources may be financed through the issue of industrial revenue bonds by the City, acting by and through the Authority, pursuant to the provisions of the Act; and

Whereas, The Authority by resolution adopted on February 2, 1989, as amended on March 30, 1989, approved the Project and the estimated cost thereof, has indicated its willingness to finance the Project described above through a loan agreement and other financing documents pursuant to the Act, and recommended that the City Council of the City approve the financing of the Project, in whole or in part, by the issuance of bonds pursuant to the Act; and

Whereas, The financing of the Project under the provisions of the Act appears feasible; and

Whereas, The Authority has advised the City that notice of the public hearing relating to the proposed issuance of industrial revenue bonds of the City, acting by and through the Authority, in the amount of approximately $13,000,000 to finance the Project for the benefit of the Borrower was published in the Boston Herald on January 9, 1989 and in the Bay State Banner on January 19, 1989; and

Whereas, The Authority has advised the City that a public hearing was held by the Authority on January 23, 1989, at 6:30 p.m. at the hall at St. Patrick's Church, 10 Magazine Street, Roxbury, Mass., all as described in such published notice; and

Whereas, The User presently employs 43 persons and the Project, upon completion as projected by the User, will provide employment for approximately 18 additional employees of the User at the Project site within the next two years, and thereby contribute to the alleviation of unemployment in the City, provide security against future employment and be of benefit to the economy of the City and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and

Whereas, The Authority believes that the Project and the financing therefor will result in a public benefit, namely the alleviation of unemployment in the City; and

Whereas, The User has undertaken to cooperate with public and community agencies engaged in manpower recruitment and training to pursue as a goal, to the extent consistent with state and federal law, and to the extent appropriate to this Project, the furnishing of at least 50 percent of new jobs at said Project to City residents of which at least 25 percent of new jobs or new hires to minorities and at least 25 percent of new jobs or hires to women; and

Whereas, The User has undertaken to cooperate with public and community agencies engaged in fostering minority and women owned business enterprises and hereby pledges to pursue as a goal the placement of contracts for goods and services with Boston based enterprises; and

Whereas, The financing in part or in whole of the Project through the issuance and sale of industrial revenue bonds is intended to be inducement for the User to construct and equip the proposed Project in the City for its benefit; and

Whereas, The City, by adopting this Order or by taking any other action in connection with the Project (including but not limited to conducting or participating in any public hearings on the Project) or the proposed bonds does not and cannot provide any assurance that the Project, the Borrower or the User is financially viable or sound, that amounts owing on any debt issued on behalf of the Borrower for the Project will be paid, that any collateral which may be pledged to secure such debt will be sufficient to repay holders of such debt in the event of a default and foreclosure, or that any other action required for the Project or its financing to be taken by the City or any agency or department thereof will be taken; that the requirements of any state or federal laws with respect to the construction, improvement or operation of the Project or the issuance of any debt thereof will be complied with; or that interest on the bonds will be exempt from federal or Massachusetts income taxation; and neither the Borrower nor the User nor any prospective purchaser of such debt nor any other person shall rely upon the City with respect to such matters; now, therefore, be it

Ordered, That the Project hereinabove described, its estimated cost and the financing of the Project through industrial revenue bonds issued by the City, acting by and through the Authority, pursuant to the Act, in a principal amount not to exceed $13,000,000 be, and the same hereby are, approved; provided, however, that such bonds shall not constitute a pledge of the faith and credit of the City; and be it further Ordered, That it is intended that this approval shall constitute "Official Action" toward the issuance of industrial revenue bonds under the Act to finance the Project to the extent, if any, required by Section 144 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and the approval required by Section 147(f) of the Code and it is also the intent of this Council that this approval shall serve as inducement for the Borrower to undertake the Project in the City.

Weekly benefit amounts means the amount payable under this chapter for a period of continuous disability throughout a calendar week. If the period of disability is less than a full work week then the benefits amount payable for that portion shall be prorated.

Period of disability means the entire period of time during which an individual is unable to perform the duties of his or her employment because of disability as defined above, except that two periods of disability due to the same or related cause or condition and separated by a period of not more than 14 days shall be considered as one continuous period of disability.

Section 3. An employee who meets the eligibility requirements of this chapter shall be entitled to a leave for temporary disability up to a maximum of twenty-six weeks within a benefit year. No employment leave benefits shall be payable during the first seven consecutive days of any period of employment leave because of temporary disability.

Section 4. An employee who meets the eligibility requirements of this chapter shall be entitled to leave related to the birth, adoption, or placement for the purpose of adoption of a child for sixteen consecutive weeks or its equivalent as follows:

Leave may be taken (i) on a full-time basis or (ii) on a reduced work schedule, at not less than fifty percent (50+) of the employee's regular workweek for up to 32 weeks; (iii) or a combination of (i) and (ii) but not to exceed 32 weeks. The weekly benefit for persons on parental leave on a reduced work schedule shall be prorated.

Parental leave shall commence from the actual date of departure of the employee, provided, however, that said leave must commence within 12 months after the date of birth, adoption or placement. No more than one claim for parental leave may be taken in any benefit year.

Section 5. An employee who has taken pursuant to this chapter shall be restored to his or her previous position, or to a substantially similar position, with the same status, pay, length of service credit and seniority as of the date of leave.

An employer shall not be required to restore an employee on employment leave to the previous or to a substantially similar position if other employees of equal length of service credit and status in the same or substantially similar position have been laid off due to economic conditions or other changes in operating conditions affecting employment during the period of employment leave; however, that the employee on employment leave shall retain any preferential consideration for another position to which he or she was entitled as of the date of leave.

Employment leave shall not affect the employee's right to receive accrued vacation time, sick leave, bonuses, advancement, seniority, length of service credit, benefits, plans or programs for which he or she was eligible at the date of his or her leave, and any other benefits or rights of employment incident to his or her employment position; provided, however, that the employer shall continue to provide for and contribute to health insurance benefits for the duration of the leave under the same terms and conditions as those existing prior to leave, unless said employee and dependents are eligible for equivalent benefits under a group insurance plan of a spouse who is not on leave. The employer need not provide for the costs of any other benefits, plans or programs during the period of leave unless the employer so provides for all employees on leave of absence.

Nothing in this section or chapter shall be construed as to affect any bargaining agreement, company policy, or other state or federal law which provides for greater or additional benefits than those required under this section.

Section 6. An employee who intends to utilize the right to parental leave shall notify the employer at least four (4) weeks prior to the date when said leave is expected to commence as to the anticipated commencement of leave, the length, and the expected date of return. If such notice cannot be given, it shall be provided as soon as it is practicable and shall not adversely affect the entitlement to or length of leave.

Section 7. Any eligible individual in current employment who takes leave for the purpose of disability or parental leave shall be entitled to receive temporary leave benefits in the manner provided by this chapter.

An individual in current employment is eligible to receive employment leave benefits if she or he has been employed for the employment leave base period of one year. The weekly benefit amount shall be equal to 66% of the individual's average weekly wage, but not to exceed 60% of the city's average weekly wage.

Section 8. Certification by physician or appropriate licensed professional shall be submitted to the Office of Personnel Management within seven working days from commencement of employment leave and on regularly established subsequent dates as may be required.

Section 9. An individual shall not be eligible to receive temporary disability benefits if the individual has willfully made a false statement or representation or withheld a material fact in order to obtain any benefits under this chapter.

Section 10. No individual may receive employment leave wage replacement benefits under this Section who is receiving for the same period or any part of the period, wage replacement benefits under any governmental program or law, including but not limited to unemployment insurance and worker's compensation.

Section 11. An "Employment Leave Commission" shall hereby be established in the City of Boston to study alternative funding mechanisms for the purpose of this ordinance. Said study shall be in the form of a report filed with the City Clerk to be transmitted to the mayor and the City Council within six months of the appointment of the commission members.

Section 13. Each of the provisions, sections, and subsections of this Ordinance are severable, and if any of its provisions, sections, or subsections shall be held unconstitutional or otherwise invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decisions of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions, sections, or subsections.

APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS FOR FISCAL YEAR COMMENCING JULY 1, 1989 AND ENDING JUNE 30, 1990

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

April 12, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councilors:

I transmit herewith my proposed Fiscal Year 1990 Operating Budget for the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk.

The budget I am proposing recommends appropriation levels which are supported by available revenues. This represents the fifth consecutive balance budget for the City of Boston, reversing a history of chronic overspending which included ten consecutive years of red ink and budget deficits.

This budget is in balance, however, only because of cuts and reductions in the appropriation of over forty agencies and departments — cuts which will significantly reduce service and employment levels throughout city government. Departments scheduled for appropriation reductions include Jobs and Community Services (-10.0%), Library (-5.0%), Public Facilities (-7.3%), Elderly (-9.2%), Assessing (-16.2%), Real Property (-8.6%), Transportation (-4.1%), Parks and Recreation (-3.9%), Business and Cultural Development (-17.1%), Inspectional Services (-3.6%), Registry (-3.6%), Mayor's Office (-5.1%), City Council (-0.9%), Election (-5.1%), Press Office (-13.7%), Neighborhood Services (-7.6%), Rent Equity (-7.6%), Arts and Humanities (-5.6%), Fair Housing (-6.4%), Cemetery (-8.1%), and Intergovernmental Relations (-10.2). In addition, funding for the Consumer Affairs Office and the Freedom Trail Commission has been entirely eliminated, as has a separate appropriation for the Arson Commission, which is scheduled to be merged with the Fire Department.

These reductions in City departmental appropriations are a direct result of the pending state budget for FY90 which cuts more than $25 million in proposed local aid levels for the City of Boston.

The negative impact of the local aid cuts is further exacerbated by increased expenditure burdens in county correctional budgets and solid waste disposal contracts. The proposed appropriations for the Suffolk County Jail and the Penal Department, for example, are up 33.8% and 7.5%, respectively, over FY89 levels. Despite assurances from state officials since 1985 that county correctional costs would be paid by the Commonwealth, the City of Boston will spend at least $23.5 million in the coming year to cover such expenses.

While the vast majority of City agencies are facing cuts, I am recommending funding increases for the Po-

Ice and Fire Departments to ensure that public safety protection is adequately maintained in the neighborhoods of the city.

In addition, we have made every effort to protect the City's youth programs and youth services from the impact of budget cuts. The Peer Leadership and Youth Outreach programs in Community Schools are targeted for increased funding. We will provide additional support for the summer work program we operate through the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, and for the Camp Joy program for children with physical handicaps. In addition, youth recreational services, including the Boston Neighborhood Basketball League and the network of 20 swimming pools throughout the city, will receive additional support in the coming year. Finally, and perhaps most importantly, we will place a major emphasis on our new "Boston Youth Campaign: Making Connections," an effort to secure volunteer time, financial support and other resources for the children of Boston's neighborhoods.

I am also recommending increases in the Health and Hospitals Department and School Department appropriations of $9.1 million and $12.6 million, respectively. This will increase the School Department's share of the overall City appropriation from 31.8% in FY89 to 33.8% in FY90. Even with these additional funds, department officials in both agencies estimate that hundreds of positions will be eliminated in the coming fiscal year.

This budget can best be understood in the context of the City's recent financial history.

In 1984, the City of Boston was mired in deficits and suffering from deep reductions in service levels following the Tregor crisis and the early impacts of Proposition 2-1/2. We set ourselves to the task of putting Boston's fiscal house in order by imposing strong fiscal and management controls, reducing unnecessary expenditures, developing a capital improvements plan and by improving the City's budget process.

In 1985, we were successful in convincing the state legislature to grant to cities and towns for the first time ever the authority to impose two small local option excise measures. A comprehensive review of all departmentally generated revenue was performed that year with a view toward assisting ourselves before we asked the Commonwealth for help. Hiring was slowed and several agencies were abolished or absorbed by other agencies. In sum, Boston tightened its belt, cut out waste and became a tougher, leaner government.

By 1986, Boston had finally balanced its operating budget. The City also began to receive bond rating increases reflecting the improvement management practices of the City and our commitment to achieving a balanced budget. Boston went back into the bond market, and improvements to City parks, police stations and roadways became evident. City services also began to improve and new services to neighborhoods were added. In FY87 and FY88, Boston, for the second and third years, continued its new tradition of balanced budgets and targeted improvements in essential services. Increases in budget and staffing was permitted in several key areas, such as schools, public safety, libraries, and parks.

By 1989, Boston had received five bond rating increases and Massachusetts's capital city continued to be the economic engine driving much of the state's explosive growth. Fire stations that had been closed reopened, new district stations were built and staffed, parks were rebuilt and maintained, youth oriented services initiated, AIDS treatment funded and millions of dollars directed toward the homeless. The City also began the long process of developing both traditional and affordable new housing, and significant resources were placed in the Police Department in order to control the spread of drugs. Services for the elderly improved, and Boston's community schools enjoyed new or rehabilitated recreation centers. For the last four fiscal years Boston has been accomplishing its twin strategic goal of stable, accountable and predictable spending, along with measured improvements and increases in programs and services.

Those accomplishments are now in jeopardy, and the key factor is local aid. The pending state budget proposes to increase state spending by over one-half billion dollars in the coming year, with not one dime of that increase dedicated to the cities and towns of the Commonwealth. Instead, we are being asked to cope with cuts and reductions and to shoulder a disproportionate share of the state's fiscal burden.

Such a proposal is clearly unfair. While we will continue our efforts to reverse these proposed local aid reductions, we must prepare for their impact and make those cuts necessary to protect the financial integrity of the City of Boston.

I respectfully submit this budget proposal to City Council and look forward to discussing it with you in the weeks ahead.

Sincerely,
Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor.

The Austin Block — Charlestown Landmark

Boston Landmark Commission information provided by the Environment Department.

The Austin Block has two significant historic associations. It is one of the oldest commercial buildings extant in downtown Charlestown, and it housed the first office of Charlestown's first regular newspaper, the Bunker Hill Aurora. Furthermore, it was built and occupied by one of Charlestown's early and prominent families.

According to deeds in the Middlesex County Registry, the property at 92 Main Street was purchased by William Austin in 1818 from Aaron Wait, for a price of $275. No existing building is mentioned in the deed. In 1824, for an additional $100, Austin purchased a passageway along the southern lot line, from the Bartlett family, owners of the adjacent property. The Austin Block building was erected by 1827 when the Bunker Hill Aurora began printing its earliest editions from their upper floor quarters.

Early occupants of the building, according to the first Charlestown directory, published in 1831 (and giving the original address of 85 Main Street), were George Johnson's West Indian goods store on the first floor, and upstairs, the Bunker Hill Aurora office, plus offices for several members of the Austin family. General Nathaniel Austin, Sheriff of Middlesex County, had his office and living quarters here at that time. In addition, there was a law office for William Austin, plus his sons Arthur W. (also listed in the back of the directory as postmaster), and Nathaniel Austin, Jr., listed as a law student. The directory notes that the Austins' entrances were at the rear, on Town Hill Street (now called Harvard Street), and local histories reaffirm that Nathaniel Austin reached his quarters by an exterior rear stairway.

The Austin family settled in Charlestown before 1659 (Richard Austin), lived on Town Hill as early as the 1720s, and became prominent as Patriots before the

RESULTS OF T RIDERSHIP SURVEY

Majority Pleased With Performance of System

A new survey shows 92 percent of customers are satisfied with the performance of the MBTA.

"The T has improved greatly from the days nine years ago when it shut down in the middle of the holiday shopping season," Governor Michael S. Dukakis said. "Today, it is rapidly becoming one of the best transit systems in the country."

"The results of the survey show that we are doing our jobs and doing them well," Dukakis said. "We have also seen ridership increase by 23 percent since 1981 — making the T one of the few transit systems in the country that is actually encouraging more people to get out of their cars."

In 1981, just 50 percent of T passengers said they were satisfied. That number jumped to 85 percent last year and has now reached 92 percent.

The survey also found that:

- 85 percent said they feel T service is reliable
- 87 percent feel the train or bus comes quickly enough
- 89 percent said T service is convenient
- 89 percent found the T the most convenient way to travel
- 93 percent found it the least expensive way to travel
- 70 percent feel safe riding the system
- 85 percent said they thought service had improved

"This is a result of the investment we have made in the MBTA during the last decade," Dukakis said. "The T is essential to the economic growth of greater Boston and eastern Massachusetts. Wherever we have expanded the T, there has been significant development and job creation and growth."

Some $2.5 billion has been invested in the T since 1981, resulting in six-car trains on the Red Line, expansion of that line to the Revolution. Nathaniel Austin (third generation), father of William and General Nathaniel Austin, was a pewterer by trade but was very active in local real estate. He left a sizeable estate, chiefly in land, to three sons and two daughters. Among his holdings was Outer Brewster Island in Boston Harbor. The island was inherited by his son, General Austin, who reportedly used island splitstone to build the Austin Block and 27 Harvard Square in Charlestown.

General Nathaniel Austin was born in 1772. He never married. Austin was Brigadier General of the Third Division of the Massachusetts Militia between 1815 and 1820. He held numerous civil offices at town, county, and state levels, serving at various times as Chairman of the Charlestown Selectmen, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, Superintendent of Bridges, member of the Governor's Council, Representative in the Massachusetts General Court, and State Senator. In 1812 as a Federalist, he beat brother William, a Jeffersonian Democrat, by one vote for a State Representative seat. It was remembered that the brothers were tough but gentlemanly campaigners, and the competition apparently caused no lingering ill will.

General Austin was an investor and prime force in the Warren Bridge Corporation. Some local historians report that the General was a paving contractor. Outer Brewster Island stone may have been used as a building material in the Warren Bridge due to Austin's influence. However, it was the General's nephew, Arthur W. Austin, who became sole owner of the island in 1843, and planned to use its stone for macadamizing Boston roads. General Austin apparently had a bachelor residence at 92 (85) Main Street when he was Sheriff. Traditionally, 92 Main Street has been called the Austin House, but by 1836 General Austin boarded elsewhere. The General died in Charlestown in 1861 at the age of 89.

William Austin was Nathaniel's younger brother. He turned to law practice after graduating from Harvard College. William gained some notoriety for participating in a duel fought over political issues. He was a known literary figure, too, as the author of Peter Rugg. Like Nathaniel, William served as State Senator. He also was very active in real estate. William Austin married twice and had twelve children by his second wife, Lucy Jones. All five of his sons attended Harvard College. The youngest child, James Walker Austin, became Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands. William Austin died in 1841, at the age of 63.

Three of William Austin's sons were associated with the Austin Block building. Arthur Williams and Nathaniel Jr. (so-called in Charlestown directories to distinguish him from his uncle, the General), practiced here in their father's law office. Henry David Austin inherited ownership of the property although he moved to Chelsea and then to South Reading (now Wakefield) where he practiced law. Nathaniel was institutionalized for insanity from 1842 to his death in 1890.

Arthur W. Austin (who changed his name from Isaac) opened a law office in his father's and uncle's "Stone Building" after completing his education. At the young age of 28 he was chosen as Chairman of the Charlestown Board of Selectmen. Arthur served as a Justice of the Peace, member of the Board of Health, Postmaster of Charlestown (from 1829 to 1839), Magistrate in Middlesex County (for 20 years), and Collector of the Port of Boston and Charlestown (from 1857 to 1860). Arthur moved to Roxbury in 1841, became involved in the incorporation of the Town of West Roxbury (1851), and then moved to Milton where he died in 1884, at the age of 78. He was much respected in legal matters and (in 1874) was appointed a member of the Commission empowered with revising the Charter of the City of Boston.

After the Austin family and Bunker Hill Aurora had occupied the Austin Block, it served a variety of commercial uses. Trueworthy S. G. Robinson bought the property from Henry D. Austin in 1865, for $6,600, and the furniture store bearing his name was located here for some years. Property ownership later returned to the Austin family (from at least 1885 to 1922, according to city atlases) but not occupancy. A circa 1890 photograph shows a large sign for "Furniture & Commission Warehouse." A 1910 photo identified the corner storefront occupant as Herman Harris, Tailor, with Henry Gerish, Upholstering, above.

Later directory listings and building department records show tenancy for a different family law firm (Catherine and Theodora MacDonald, c. 1930-W.W. II), a barber, a woodworking/cabinet shop, and upstairs electroplating shop, and apartment. Neighbors recall that a sculptor occupied the first floor and that the building was vacant by 1964.

The Austin Block is significant as one of two stone buildings General Nathaniel Austin constructed in Charlestown during the Federal period, when nearly all of the town's structures were either wood frame or brick. Both buildings are still extant, at 92 Main and 27 Harvard Square, and both are reputed to contain Brewster Island "splitstone" (granite and slate rubblestone) transported to Charlestown by lighter. The Austin Block is by far the larger and more imposing of the two buildings. 27 Harvard Square is an attached rowhouse which once held the Charlestown Dispensary.

The Austin Block is structurally significant as an example of early 19th century industrial construction. The heavy timbers support the floors and eliminate the need for interior columns or bearing walls, the same construction as that used in many of the New England's early textile mills. The exposure of the original hand hewn beams and jointed pegged wooden trusses is particularly noteworthy. Also of architectural interest are the several extant original fireplaces, a fragment of wide board dado on the top floor, and the exposed rubblestone walls throughout the interior.

Ninety-two Main Street, the Austin Block or "Stone Building," is listed as a

WATER RESOURCES AUTHORITY

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice of Availability of Draft Facilities Plan and Draft Environmental Impact Report for Combined Sewer Overflows.

As part of its mandate to clean up Boston Harbor, the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority is proposing a system of storage tunnels and pumping stations to control the pollution caused by Combined Sewer Overflows (CSOs). A CSO is a pipe in a sewer system that carries both sanitary sewage and stormwater. When it rains, approximately 86 of these sewers overflow releasing raw sewerage into area waterways. Over 10 billion gallons of combined sewage gets released into area waterways yearly.

This problem exists in Boston, Cambridge, Somerville and Chelsea and causes water quality problems in Boston Harbor and rivers such as the Charles, Mystic, Alewife and Neponset.

For nearly eighteen months, the MWRA has been studying ways to address the CSO problem in these areas. The MWRA has met regularly with a Citizen's Advisory Committee and has held 15 neighborhood meetings and 2 public information meetings to solicit the public's input and comments regarding possible solutions to the CSO problem.

As part of a court-ordered schedule, the MWRA submitted a draft Facilities Plan and draft Environmental Impact Report to the Federal Court and the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs (EOEA) on December 29, 1989.

A public hearing will be held to take public comments on these two draft documents on: Thursday, February 15, 1990, 7:30 p.m., Faneuil Hall, Boston, Mass.

Copies of the draft Facilities Plan and the draft Environmental Impact Report are available to the public.

The public can comment in person at the public hearing on February 15, 1990, or in writing to the following address: EOEA Project No. 6956, Massachusetts Environmental Policy Act Unit, 100 Cambridge Street, 20th Floor, Boston, MA 02202.

If you have any questions or would like additional information, including copies of the draft Facilities Plan and draft Environmental Impact Report, please call: MWRA, Public Affairs, Carrie Fuchs, (617) 241-6057 x1192.

Cambridge/Arlington border, new and remodeled stations, new equipment on the Green Line, new buses and commuter rail coaches, and the relocation of the Orange Line to serve the Back Bay, the South End, and Roxbury.

Developments offering retail, office and — in some cases — hotel and residential space, have sprung up near the T's Wellington Station in Medford, near Alewife Station in Cambridge, and along the Green Line's Southwest Corridor in Roxbury.

"It is clear that economic development follows the T," Dukakis said. "Just take a look at South Station as an example of the kind of development that can be achieved."

Dukakis recently dedicated the new South Station not only as a transportation hub, but as a location for economic development that will include a bus terminal and an office building, which is expected to house a biotechnology center.

"South Station is the focal point for regional transportation, and eventually airline passengers will be able to check their bags there, buy their tickets and get on a shuttle for a short ride to the airport through the new harbor tunnel," Dukakis said.

South Station will also be the beginning point for restoration of the Old Colony commuter rail service to Scituate, Plymouth, and Middleboro, and of three-hour train service to New York City.

"The South Shore is growing rapidly and we cannot accommodate that kind of growth without a transportation link to Boston," Dukakis said. "We cannot let the region choke on its own traffic."

He said the T is also studying commuter rail service to Taunton, New Bedford and Fall River.

"We can't afford not to restore commuter rail to the only area of eastern Massachusetts that is not served," Dukakis said. "One of the greatest mistakes we made was abandoning that service in 1960."

Commuter rail ridership had risen more than 100 percent in recent years.

T General Manager Thomas P. Glynn said the survey results stem from a commitment to improving service.

"With eight years of modernization and physical improvements under our belts, we have turned our emphasis to translating those improvements into better service that our passengers can feel — ones on which they can rely — like making better, more frequent and informative announcements to passengers, or our plans to provide phones on platforms so people can make calls and not miss their trains," Glynn said.

Transportation Secretary Frederick P. Salvucci said improvements are now under way on the Blue Line.

"We have begun a project to renovate and modernize every Blue Line station, including lengthening platforms to allow for longer trains, and installing ramps and elevators to provide access for the disabled. This is going to mean some real improvements for Blue Line passengers."

Boston Common. America's oldest public park (approximately 50 acres) was set aside in 1634 as a military "trayning" ground and common pasture land. The Common is popular for concerts, events, civil protests, neighborhood baseball games and various special activities. Across Charles Street, bounded by Arlington, Boylston and Beacon Streets is the Public Garden, the nation's oldest botanical garden. The man-made lagoon, framed by tidy lawns and formal flower gardens, contain more than 750 trees and shrubs — consisting of 125 different species — and is the site of Boston's famous Swan Boats (open through September), which have taken passengers around the pond since 1877. Park Street Church. Gunpowder was stored in the basement of this 1809 church during the War of 1812. William Lloyd Garrison gave his first anti-slavery address here in 1829. This also is where the hymn "America" was sung publicly for the first time in 1831. ORDER WAIVING PROVISIONS OF RESIDENCY ORDINANCE FOR JOHN J. SULLIVAN, JR., OF BOSTON WATER AND SEWER COMMISSION

The following was received:

City of Boston
 Office of the Mayor

April 25, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith for your approval an order waiving, as to John P. Sullivan, Jr., the residency requirements of City of Boston Code, Ordinances, Title 5, section 101A, as made applicable to Boston Water and Sewer Commission (the "Commission") officers and employees by section 4 of c. 436 of the Acts of 1977.

The position of Chief Engineer has now remained open for a full year. In the interim Mr. Sullivan has ably filled that position on an acting basis. Mr. Sullivan has worked in the City's Public Works Department, Water Division. He has also worked as a Senior Civil Engineer and as Director of Engineering for the Commission, heading the Commission's planning, design and construction efforts. His service to the City and the Commission totals nearly seventeen years. The Commission has concluded that it wishes to continue to use Mr. Sullivan's unique knowledge and experience concerning the workings of the Commission's complex water and sewer systems. Unfortunately, however, family constraints currently make it impossible for Mr. Sullivan to relocate to Boston.

The Commission has accordingly determined, and I concur, that in this instance, despite our joint commitment to the Boston residency requirements, Mr. Sullivan's technical expertise on matters of vital importance to City property owners must be given precedence.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible to enable John P. Sullivan, Jr., to act with full authority as the Commission's Chief Engineer on the pressing water and sewer issues now facing the Commission.

Respectfully,
Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, City of Boston Code, Ordinances, Title 5, section 101A, establishing a residency requirement for employees of the City of Boston, is applicable, pursuant to section 4 of chapter 436 of the Acts of 1977, to officers and employees of the Boston Water and Sewer Commission (the "Commission"); and

Whereas, Said residency ordinance provides that the Mayor, with the approval of the City Council, may determine it to be in the best interest of the public to waive the provisions of the ordinance with respect to a particular person or position; and

Whereas, Property owners and citizens of the City are benefited by ensuring that a highly qualified and competent individual is employed as Chief Engineer of the Commission; and

Whereas, In April 1988, the Chief Engineer at the Commission left and John P. Sullivan, Jr. was appointed Acting Chief Engineer at or about that time; and

Whereas, John P. Sullivan, Jr., possesses the highly technical training, expertise and experience required to be Chief Engineer; and

Whereas, Among his other qualifications, John P. Sullivan, Jr., is a Registered Professional Engineer and a Certified Operator of Water Supplies, both of which are requirements to fill the position of Chief Engineer; and

Whereas, John P. Sullivan, Jr., has worked in the City's Public Works Department and at the Commission for a total of nearly seventeen years; and

Whereas, The combination of John P. Sullivan's knowledge and experience with the City and the Commission make him uniquely qualified to be the Chief Engineer of the Commission; now, therefore, be it Ordered, That it is hereby determined that it is in the best interest of the public to waive the provisions of City of Boston Code, Ordinances, Title 5, section 101A, as to John P. Sullivan, Jr., so that he may fill the position of Chief Engineer of the Boston Water and Sewer Commission.

Referred to the Committee on Government Operations.

TO: Councillor Albert O'Neil, Chairman

FROM: Ellen Daley, Director
Bureau of Administrative Services
Boston Police Department
RE: Police Statistics
DATE: April 13, 1989

Attached, please find crime statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the week ending April 7, 1989.

It should be noted that these statistics provide "a snap shot of crime" in Boston for the reporting week. In some cases, several of these incidents may be further investigated and determined to be unfounded claims. Thus, these statistics, when compiled for a one month period or for a year long period will differ, to some degree, from the Uniform Crime Report tallies that take into account such unfounded or reclassified cases.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the waterfront and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston, District Seven is East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston and Kenmore. District Fifteen is Charlestown.

You will find attached the deployment statistics for this reporting week. These numbers are broken down by shift for each day and reflect all sworn personnel that reported to work on a given day and shift in each of the Areas. The numbers therefore include people regularly assigned and those on overtime as well as factor out people who were sick, injured, or on vacation. It is an actual representation of officers working through the Bureau of Field Services.

I know that you requested this information by district vs. area and we are continuing to fine tune this report to provide that level of detail. In the interest of timeliness, this report is being submitted by area but the district breakdown should be available next week. I hope that you find this information useful.

ORDINANCE REGARDING FORFEITURE OF ASSETS ACQUIRED FROM DRUG-RELATED CRIMINALS

Couns. YANCEY, BOLLING, SALERNO, and SCONDRAS offered the following:

City of Boston

in the Year Nineteen Hundred and Boston Forfeiture Ordinance

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Whereas, Boston is suffering from a high incidence of drug related crime; and

Whereas, drug related violence is a public health, as well as a public safety issue for the City's residents, particularly our youth; and

Whereas, The City of Boston is experiencing severe financial constraints in the face of State budget cuts, particularly in local aid; and

Whereas, Millions of dollars of the money spent on drugs come from communities which are suffering from the most tragic consequences of the drug trade; and

Whereas, The City of Boston cannot afford to finance adequate treatment for the majority of drug addicted individuals seeking such treatment; and

Whereas, Community support is an essential requirement to effective strategies to combat drug-related crimes; and

Whereas, Rewards for individuals providing information to appropriate authorities may result in the conviction of a person who sells and/or distributes illegal drugs or commits other drug-related crimes, such as murder, assault and robbery; and

Whereas, The United States Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970, with amendments, allows the federal government not only to seize drug-related assets, but also provides a "bounty" provision to reward persons giving information to convict a person who kidnaps or kills a federal drug enforcement agent; and

Whereas, The City of Boston, under the "forfeiture of property procedures" of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 94C, section 47, is authorized to take possession of any conveyance, money, real estate or other property which has been involved in any illegal manufacture, preparation, transport, distribution or sale of controlled substances; and

Whereas, The Boston Police Department has confiscated property of drug dealers; now therefore be it ordained Section 1. Legislative Intent.

That all assets acquired through the confiscation from drug-related criminals be used by the City of Boston to fight drug abuse, drug-related crime, to provide youth intervention services, to fund drug rehabilitation efforts and neighborhood crime watch programs within the communities impacted by this activity.

Property subject to forfeiture under subparagraph (1) of subsection (a) of this section shall be destroyed, regardless of the final disposition of such related criminal proceeding, if any, unless the court, for good cause shown, orders otherwise.

(c) After the court has ordered the forfeiture of all conveyances subject to the provisions of subparagraph (3) of section (a) of this section, except as follows:

(3) No conveyance shall be subject to forfeiture unless the owner thereof knew or should have known that such conveyance was used in and for the business of unlawfully manufacturing, dispensing or distributing controlled substances. Proof that the conveyance was used to facilitate the unlawful dispensing, manufacturing, or distribution of, or possession with intent unlawfully to manufacture, dispense or distribute controlled substances on three or more different dates shall be prima facie evidence that the conveyance was used in and for the business of unlawfully manufacturing, dispensing or distributing controlled substances.

Section 3. Use of Confiscated Assets.

Furthermore, these confiscated funds may be used to fund neighborhood crime watch programs and anti-drug educational programs, youth programs would also be eligible for funding out of these funds. Any monies or other property confiscated during a "drug bust" within the City of Boston shall be turned over to the Confiscated Assets Reinvestment Commission of the City of Boston, said money to be then placed in a special escrow account and used as follows:

Coun. O'NEIL moved that the ordinance be referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

Coun. TRAVAGLINI moved the previous question.

The motion was carried.

The motion of Coun. O'Neil was carried by rising vote, seven members voted in the affirmative.

ORDER FOR PETITION FOR SPECIAL LAW TO AMEND G. L. CHAPTER 92, SECTION 1-6, POWERS OF AUTHORITY OF MWRA RE HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS WASTE

Coun. HENNIGAN CASEY offered the following:

Whereas, The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority Act created the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority "to operate, regulate, finance and improve the delivery of water and sewage collection, disposal and treatment systems and services and to encourage conservation"; and

Whereas, The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority has been charged with the responsibility of cleaning up Boston Harbor; and

Whereas, Prevention of pollution is the necessary first step to this cleanup; and

Whereas, Special collections of household hazardous wastes help safeguard the environment through controlled disposal practices; and

Whereas, Alternative disposal of these substances into the sewer waste system greatly burdens the treatment process which is the ultimate responsibility of the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority; and

Whereas, Source collection of these hazardous wastes proves the most economical and safe disposal; and

Whereas, The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority is expressly charged with providing "efficient and economical operation of . . . sewage collection, disposal and treatment systems including programs for . . . reduction of infiltration and inflow . . ." and

Whereas, The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority is empowered to provide grants to "local bodies . . . in furtherance of the management or improvement of . . . sewage collection, disposal and treatment services . . ." and

Whereas, To prevent a large volume of disposal of these substances in the waste treatment system, it would be prudent for the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority to help to underwrite the cost of Boston's hazardous waste collection program; now therefore be it ordered as follows.

Ordered, That a petition to the General Court, accompanied by a bill for a special law relating to the City of Boston to be filed with an attested copy of this order be, and hereby is, approved under clause (1) of Article two, as amended, of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the end that legislation be adopted providing precisely as follows, except for clerical or editorial changes of form only:

Whereas, Many elderly citizens throughout the City rely exclusively on the MBTA for transportation to and from medical appointments and a missed bus often results in unnecessary appointment cancellations and often causes the elderly resident to incur the added expense of hiring a taxicab; and

DISAPPROVING ORDINANCE CONCERNING THE RESTRICTION OF BICYCLES, SKATE-BOARDS, ROLLER SKATES, AND SIMILAR SELF-PROPELLED VEHICLES FROM THE DOWNTOWN CROSSING AREA OF BOSTON

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 1, 1989.

To the City Council.
Dear Councillors:

I return herewith without my signature and disapproved an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on April 12, 1989, Docket No. 0171, which would prohibit the riding of a bicycle or the use of a skateboard, roller skates, or similar device within the Downtown Crossing area.

My reason for disapproval, among others, is that the ordinance, as it pertains to bicycles, conflicts with state law. General Law c.85, s.11B, provides in relevant part that every person operating a bicycle upon a way shall have the right to use all public ways in the Commonwealth, with the exception of certain state highways. Section 11B further provides that bicycle operators shall be subject to the traffic laws and regulations of the Commonwealth, with some exceptions, and the regulations contained in s. 11B. to the extent that the ban applies to ways protected under the provisions of G.L. c.85, s.11B, and the City wishes to be exempted from those provisions, approval by the state legislature is required.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the ordinance referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

This order is a substitution for the order presented to your Honorable Body on April 12, 1989, Docket No. 0581, and referred to the Committee on Post Audit and Oversight. The only change is that the CDBG entitlement figure is increased by $1,829 in the attached order.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as soon as possible so that the City may submit its application expeditiously.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

RE: Police Statistics
DATE: April 28, 1989

Attached, please find crime statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the week ending April 21, 1989.

It should be noted that these statistics provide "a snap shot of crime" in Boston for the reporting week. In some cases, several of these incidents may be further investigated and determined to be unfounded claims. Thus, these statistics, when compiled for a one month period or for a year long period will differ, to some degree, from the Uniform Crime Report tallies that take into account such unfounded or reclassified cases.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the waterfront and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston. District Seven is East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston and Kenmore. District Fifteen is Charlestown.

We began to gather the deployment statistics by District this week and are forwarding the part of the week that is now completed. In next week's, and subsequent reports, you will receive the full week's worth of data. Again, your patience has been greatly appreciated.

CERTAIN INFORMATION UNDER SECTION 17F
RE POLICY OF ADMINISTRATION AND BRA
ON HOUSING FOR ARTISTS

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 2, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

Relative to a section 17F information request, passed by your Honorable Body on January 25, 1989, regarding the policy of the Administration and the BRA on housing for artists, please find the enclosed response.

Sincerely,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston,

Office of the Arts and Humanities
Boston Art Commission

May 1, 1989.

Councillor James Kelly,

Boston City Council.

Dear Councillor Kelly:

Enclosed is the reply to your 17F request regarding visual artists live/work space.

In the first section, we have attempted to explain the crises faced by Boston's visual artists, why their plight is different from other artists and other segments of our community, and the contributions made by our visual artists to the community at large. In the second section, specific projects are listed with the assistance that has been given. As noted, a total of 90 visual artists live/work space units have been created (or are in the process of being created) with public assistance since 1983.

No official City or BRA policy exists in relation to visual artists live/work space. However, in the ordinance that created the Office of Arts and Humanities it states that "the executive director shall: . . . coordinate with public and private agencies the development of the arts in the City of Boston; serve as liaison with all other local, state and federal departments and public and private agencies connected with the arts; . . ." We have interpreted this to apply to our advocacy efforts on behalf of visual artists who are facing displacement.

Reference is made to the question of who determines the definition of an "artist." This office has entered into discussions with the Massachusetts Artists Foundation regarding this question. Determinations of who is and who is not an artist are made by that agency. The Artists Foundation was established to represent artists and to award public funds (state grants) to individual Massachusetts artists. Their criteria in relation to the definition of "artists" is considered a national model.

Only in two instances have artists been designated as the developers or codevelopers of projects. The first occurred at 782-788 Parker St., Mission Hill. In that case, land was conveyed for the development of 12 visual artists units, 9 of which are to be affordable to low and moderate income individuals. The second case related to the building at 1134 Washington St., South End. In that case the Artists Tenants of the South End were designated codevelopers of a mixed use development which includes 7 visual artists units in addition to light industry and retail. The artists involved are all South End residents who were facing displacement. They worked with my office and the BRA for over four years on this project.

This agency and the BRA have been working on an ancillary use amendment to the zoning code which would make visual artists live/work space an allowed use in commercial and industrial zoned sections of the City. We have completed an extensive community review and comment process and this amendment is now pending before the BRA Board. In addition, through the efforts of EDIC, visual artists live/work space is now an allowed use in Light Manufacturing Zones (LMZ).

If I can be of further assistance or if you would like to discuss any of the enclosed material, please do not hesitate to call me.

Sincerely,

Bruce P. Rossley,
Commissioner.

Visual Artists Live/Work Space

The role of visual artists in the housing market is different from that of other low-income households — and different from the roles of other segments of the arts community, such as dancers, actors, musicians, and writers.

First, visual artists' space needs present a unique problem: in their work, visual artists (painters, sculptors, ceramicists, printmakers, etc.) need large, undivided, well-ventilated spaces in light industrial-type buildings possessing freight elevators, high ceilings, large windows that provide copious natural light, and good load-bearing capacity. As these requirements and structural characteristics are not shared by the average low-income family — or even by the average performing artists or writer — the Administration pursues other strategies in addressing their different problems in different manners. For low-income families, initiatives have been undertaken to increase the number of rental and ownership housing units available; for performing artists and writers, initiatives have been undertaken to create new collaboratively usable work spaces in the Midtown Cultural District.

Second, due to their low income levels (Northeastern University department of economics 1989 survey found the average annual income of an artist in Massachusetts to be $12,000) visual artists cannot afford to rent two spaces — one for home and one for work. In Boston, a 1986 Friends of Boston Art survey for 60% of Boston artists living where they work, often doing so in industrial and commercial buildings where the costs are relatively low and the structures are amenable to studio use as described above.

Third, in every U.S. city, artists move to areas considered residentially undesirable by most other people, make the areas more desirable, and often find themselves ultimately displaced as they have been in New York's SoHo and in San Francisco's South of Market district. In Boston, this pattern is most evident in the South End, where visual artists were among the first to move into an abandoned light-industrial area more than 20 years ago. Landlords — who typically consider artists to be excellent transitional tenants willing to live and work in marginal areas — are finding that their now fashionable properties can be rented or sold at prices that are not affordable by most visual artists.

Third, it is especially difficult for visual artists to relocate. Visual artists invest a great deal in "sweat equity" and fixtures (i.e. time and money) to make their spaces habitable, and the artist's equipment and frequently difficult and expensive to move. In addition to the financial loss that occurs to a displaced artist, it is impossible to assess the emotional trauma that accompanies periodic and simultaneous displacement from one's home and workplace, especially for the 36% of Boston artists with children.

Lastly, most visual artists live and work in areas zoned for commercial and industrial uses — areas where housing is not legally permitted. New York, Minneapolis, San Diego, Los Angeles, Seattle, and Dallas are among U.S. cities that have initiated zoning provisions to ameliorate this problem (a similar zoning amendment is currently under study for Boston). Because visual artists have commercial leases, landlords frequently, and erroneously, claim that the buildings do not have to comply with the sanitary code's occupancy standards. Artists and their families are often left without such basic human necessities as heat on winter evenings and weekends, by commercial nature of the tenancies.

Assuring the long-term availability of light industrial live/work space for Boston's more than 7,000 visual artists also assures that this population will not be competing for scarce residential units — especially rentals — that meet neither the artists' professional needs nor the building code's light industrial provisions for storage of materials, fire rating, and so on. The visual artists' community in Boston produces other benefits for the City as a whole, as well. For example, a 1985 survey by the Boston Redevelopment Authority found that artists produce jobs in related uses — galleries, hardware and art supply stores, museums, frame shops, etc. — at the rate of two to one.

Rule 11 was suspended.

RETROFITTING FOR TOILET DISPLACEMENT FIXTURES, LOW-FLOW SHOWERHEADS AND FAUCET AERATORS TO BE MANDATED FOR ALL MUNICIPAL BUILDINGS

Coun. BOLLING offered the following:

Whereas, Quabbin Reservoir is the principal source of the City of Boston's water supply, and has dropped to drought level for the first time since 1967; and

Whereas, The year 1989 is the fifth year during which the amount of water consumed by the communities served by the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority and Boston Water and Sewer Commission has significantly exceeded safe yield, the amount of water which can be safely and dependably withdrawn for water supply use during a drought period; and

Whereas, If present trends continue, Quabbin Reservoir levels could fall to 40 percent of capacity, a dangerously low level; and

Whereas, The 200 largest industry water users in the MWRA system include the City of Boston, the Boston School Department, Boston Housing Authority, Massachusetts Port Authority, Boston Edison and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and

Whereas, In 1987 the City of Boston paid $3,112,591 to the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority; and

Whereas, Most industries and municipalities, including the City of Boston, could save approximately 20 percent or more in annual water charges by installing conservation devices; and

Whereas, The Boston Water and Sewer Commission has a pilot plumbing fixtures retrofit program for homes in four area communities, including Boston, Milton, Brookline and Waltham, which encourages voluntary cooperation in reducing residential demand, and which effectively reduces residential water bills; and

Whereas, Water conservation measures will enable requirements to be comparable to available supply; and

Whereas, The Boston Water and Sewer Commission should be charged with producing uniform conservation development standards and annual audits for municipal buildings and industries in the City of Boston; and

Whereas, The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority and Boston Water and Sewer Commission should prepare and cooperate in the implementation of annual industrial audits and the Municipal Retrofit Program; therefore be it

Ordered, That retrofitting for toilet displacement fixtures, low-flow showerheads and faucet aerators be mandated for all municipal buildings including but not limited to buildings under the jurisdiction of the School, Real Property, Parks and Recreation, Public Facilities, and Suffolk County Judicial and Penal departments.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

EMERGENCY PREAMBLE

Coun. TRAVAGLINI offered the following:

Ordered, That the rules of the Boston City Council be suspended and that the following is properly before this body.

The Emergency Preamble was adopted.

Rule 11 was suspended.

CALLING ON UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT AND OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES TO EFFECT APPOINTMENT OF INDEPENDENT TRUSTEE TO REBUILD EASTERN AIRLINES

Coun. TRAVAGLINI offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston has had a long and mutually beneficial relationship with Eastern Airlines; and

Whereas, Eastern Airlines' recently proposed reorganization plan calls for reduced service to the Boston market and the possible closing of Boston as a pilot and flight attendant base; and

Whereas, This cutback in service to Boston will have a negative impact upon employment and revenue generated at Boston's Logan International Airport; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, calls upon the U.S. Bankruptcy Court and all interested parties to take the necessary and appropriate steps to restore Eastern Airlines to its full operation as soon as possible by means of the appointment of an independent trustee charged to rebuild and not further dismantle the airline.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

EMERGENCY PREAMBLE

Couns. McCORMACK and HENNIGAN CASEY offered the following:

Whereas, Herbicidal spraying on Conrail and M.B.T.A. tracks in neighborhoods throughout the city could proceed as early as July; and

Whereas, State regulations governing herbicide spraying will expire in July 1989 if not renewed therefore be it; Ordered, That the rules of the City Council are suspended and the following order is properly before the body.

The Emergency Preamble was adopted.

Rule 11 was suspended.

URGING STATE DEPARTMENT OF FOOD AND AGRICULTURE RENEW EXPIRING PESTICIDE BOARD REGULATIONS GOVERNING HERBICIDE RIGHT-OF-WAY SPRAYING

Couns. McCORMACK, HENNIGAN CASEY, BYRNE, MENINO, TRAVAGLINI and IANNELLA offered the following:

Whereas, State regulations governing the use of herbicides along railways and other rights-of-way are due to expire in July of this year; and

Whereas, The regulations (333 C.M.R. 11.00), administered by the Pesticide Board of the Commonwealth's Department of Food and Agriculture contain guidelines for review of herbicide spraying and other vegetation management plans; and

Whereas, If the regulations are allowed to expire, the City of Boston will lose a valuable mechanism for input and control of M.B.T.A. and Conrail herbicide spraying programs that effect residents in neighborhoods throughout the city; and

Whereas, Boston residents affected by herbicide spraying need every possible tool at their disposal to control, limit and ultimately eliminate the use of potentially dangerous herbicides in their neighborhoods; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council strongly urges the Commonwealth's Department of Food and Agriculture to renew expiring Pesticide Board regulations that govern herbicide spraying along rights-of-way including Conrail and M.B.T.A. tracks; and further be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council strongly urges the Governor and the members of the Boston delegation to support renewal of these valuable regulations.

On motion of Couns. HENNIGAN CASEY, the rules were suspended; the resolution was adopted.

URGING MASSACHUSETTS SENATE TO FOLLOW LEAD OF HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES BY VOTING IN FAVOR OF H. 4071/S. 53, THE GAY CIVIL RIGHTS BILL

Couns. SCONDRAS, BOLLING, McCORMACK, McLAUGHLIN, MENINO, SALERNO, and TRAVAGLINI offered the following:

Whereas, Legislation known as the Gay Civil Rights Bill has been introduced in the Great and General Court in each of the last 17 years; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives has passed H.4071, the Gay Civil Rights Bill, and its companion bill, S. 53, is now before the Senate; and

Whereas, A majority of Senators support the Gay Civil Rights Bill, such support including an initial vote in favor of the bill during the 1987 session; and

Whereas, The City Council of Boston is on record in support of equal rights of gay men and lesbians and has enacted a Human Rights Ordinance intended to guarantee all of Boston's citizens fair and equal treatment under the law; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, congratulates the Massachusetts House of Representatives for voting in favor of the Gay Civil Rights Bill; and be it further

Resolved, That the Boston City Council urges the Massachusetts Senate to follow the lead of the House and acknowledge the will of the majority of Massachusetts residents by voting in favor of H.4071/S.53, the Gay Civil Rights Bill.

On motion of Coun. SCONDRAS, the rules are suspended, the resolution was adopted, yeas 10, nays 3:

Yeas — Councillors Bolling, Hennigan Casey, Iannella, McCormack, McLaughlin, Menino, Salerno, Scondras, Travaglini, Yancey — 10.

NURSING CARE CENTER IN DORCHESTER

The City of Boston has approved over $7.6 million in financing for the St. Joseph's Nursing Care Center, a private non-profit organization affiliated with the Boston Archdiocese. When completed, the project will provide 118 nursing care beds serving the elderly of Boston as well as those from Brookline, Cambridge, Milton and Quincy. Additionally, the Nursing Care Center will create 100 full-time and 50 part-time permanent jobs.

"This important investment by the City of Boston demonstrates our commitment to care for our elderly," said Mayor Raymond L. Flynn. "I am especially pleased that this project offers an opportunity to invest in the neighborhood of Dorchester, collaborating with the Boston Archdiocese, and creating so many good permanent jobs."

The financing for the project comes from the Boston Industrial Development Finance Authority (BIDFA), a quasi public agency created to issue industrial revenue bonds. While BIDFA traditionally issues non-taxable bonds for manufacturing purposes, the agency is also able to assist in the financing of nursing homes and health care facilities.

"This is precisely the type of project which BIDFA seeks to underwrite," said Mary Nee, the Director of Boston's Office of Capital Planning and a member of the BIDFA Board. "We are able to meet an important social need and in the process make an investment in a key Boston neighborhood."

A project of the Boston Archdiocese, the St. Joseph's Nursing Care Center will be managed by a non-profit nursing home operator on the site of the former St. Joseph's Manor. The new facility will involve both renovation and new construction and will enable the provision of more specialized nursing care.

"The Boston Archdiocese has recognized that many of the elderly in the community were in need of quality nursing care. By upgrading the St. Joseph's Manor from a rest home to a skilled nursing facility we are addressing this need," said Robert O'Connor, President of the Board of Directors of the St. Joseph's Nursing Care Center. "When we approached the City of Boston about this project, we found more than an investor, we found a partner who was willing to help us meet this important goal."

Construction is nearly complete and it is anticipated that the new St. Joseph's Nursing Care Center will be ready for its first occupant at the end of this month. Construction financing was provided by the Boston Archdiocese with BIDFA providing the project's permanent financing.

THE ADOPT-A-STATUE PROGRAM

- incurring the total cost of restoring and maintaining a particular piece of art or
- making a donation toward a general restoration and maintenance fund.

ICE SKATING RETURNS TO PUBLIC GARDEN LAGOON

Parks Commissioner Larry Dwyer officially opened this winter's ice skating program at the Public Garden at an afternoon ceremony that featured performers from the Festival of Light and Song, free skating lessons, piped in waltz music, and free hot chocolate and cider.

Joining Commissioner Dwyer at the ceremony were representatives from downtown hotels and businesses that helped sponsor the season-long program, plus children from local grade schools, community and open space groups, and hundreds of Boston residents and visitors.

Two checks were presented to the Parks and Recreation Department to support the ice skating program, one from local businesses, including the Four Seasons Hotel, Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Hampshire House, Otis and Ahearn Realty, and Boston Park Plaza, and a second check from NYNEX, which has made a three-year commitment to the program. WMJX Radio provided music and equipment for the program.

Dwyer said, "We are encouraged by the level of support demonstrated here today by local businesses, and by the public, who have indicated by their presence the need for year-round recreational programs that are free and can be enjoyed by people of all ages."

Dwyer said the program would run seven days a week through the winter, and would feature special events like the Winter Fest in February and St. Valentine's Day celebration. The Parks Department has also added cross-country skiing to Franklin Park.

For full information on the program offered, please call 725-4505.

RE PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT

The following was received:

May 9, 1989.

To The City Council.

Dear Councillors:

Relative to a section 17F information request, passed by your Honorable body on November 15, 1988, regarding the Penal Institutions Department, please find the enclosed response.

Penal Institutions Department

May 5, 1989.

The Honorable Albert O'Neil,
City Councillor.

Dear Councillor O'Neil:

In response to the request which you have made under the provisions of section 17F of chapter 452 of the Acts of 1948, as amended, I am providing you with the following information:

1. Names and addresses of all correction officers who are out of work because of injuries. Please see Attachment A.

2. Please supply doctor's reports for each person. This request should be directed to the City of Boston's Workers's Compensation Agent.

3. Are they all receiving a full week's pay? Employees who are out of work as result of inmate violence (Chapter 800) receive full pay tax free (2/3 of pay from City of Boston's workers compensation and 1/3 of pay from Penal Institutions Department) and individuals out on regular workers compensation receive 2/3 of average pay tax free for previous fifty-two (52) weeks.

4. How long has each one of them been out injured? Please see Attachment B.

5. To the Commissioner's knowledge, how many of them (if any) are actively working another job? I do not have:

- a. direct knowledge of any injured employee's current employment history.
- b. the resources to determine if an injured employee is working another job.

6. How many of the men that are out injured, applied to come back to work, and perform light duty? This information should be requested from the City of Boston's Workers Compensation Agent.

7. Have any of them refused light duty? At the present time, the Penal Institutions department does not have any light duty positions. You may want to ask City's Workers Compensation Agent if any employees have requested.

8. How many correction officers have been suspended without pay and for what reasons? Please list. Unable to answer at this time because of lack of specificity in your request. What period of time are you interested in.

9. Names and addresses of all superior officers who have received overtime in the past year, with amounts. Please see Attachment C.

10. Name and make of each car that is assigned to employees? Please see Attached D.

11. Do the employees take vehicles home with them when they are not on duty? Please see Attachment D.

12. In a period of one month, how much gasoline has been supplied to each employee? Please see Attachment E.

13. What are these cars that are assigned to employees used for and why? Please see Attachment D.

14. Why isn't there a separate dining hall for employees? The separate building which used to house the Officers Dining Hall was closed in 1986 because:

- a. Massachusetts Water Resources Authority requested that the Penal Institutions Department vacate building so that M.W.R.A. could (plan to) demolish building and utilize space for construction trailers etc.
- b. building contained asbestos
- c. building repeatedly failed Department of Public Health Inspectors.
- d. determination was made that housing inmates in the building jeopardized safety of the public.

15. Total amount in dollars of overtime for all superior officers in past calendar year. Please See Attachment C.

Sincerely,
Robert G. Walsh,
Commissioner.

RE: Police Statistics
DATE: May 5, 1989

Attached, please find crime statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the period covering April 22 through April 25, 1989. We experienced a computer problem and were unable to compile the statistics for the full week. The next report will include the days which we were not able to forward to you in this report.

It should be noted that these statistics provide "a snap shot of crime" in Boston for the reporting week. In some case, several of these incidents may be further investigated and determined to be unfounded claims. Thus, these statistics, when compiled for a one month period or for a year long period will differ, to some degree, from the Uniform Crime Report tallies that take into account such unfounded or reclassified cases.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the waterfront and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Roslindale area. District

Six is South Boston, District Seven in East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston and Kenmore. District Fifteen is Charlestown.

ORDER AUTHORIZING NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSING TRUST TO EXPEND $1,740,820 IN LINK-AGE FUNDS

The following was received:
City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 9, 1989.

To The City Council.
Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith for your approval an order authorizing the Neighborhood Housing Trust to expend, consistent with the purposes of the Trust, linkage funds which were accepted by the Trust pursuant to an order passed by your Honorable Body December 14, 1988, and approved by me January 3, 1989.

On February 14, 1989, the Neighborhood Housing Trust voted to grant $1,740,820 of funds previously accepted by the Trust to six housing developments with housing for low-and moderate-income households in the City of Boston:

Garrison Trotter Homes Project, a 15-unit affordable homeownership project located at 22-52 Hollander Street in Roxbury. Due to problems encountered in development, the final cost per unit has risen to $126,000. Shawmut Bank, seeking to become owner of the property through foreclosure sale, will seek to sell each unit for $75,000, in part by committing $26,000 per unit plus other forms of assistance. The Trust voted to grant $375,000, or $25,000 per unit, to further guarantee the affordability of the units to moderate-income households.

Fountain Hill Square Project (Phase One), a 46-unit housing project of which eighteen units will be affordable to low-and moderate-income households at costs between $55,105, and $96,150. Cost overruns and decreasing projects of market-rate housing sales necessitated the developer to request financial assistance over and above the $169,000 (present value) previously allocated under a Housing Creation Agreement. The Trust voted to grant the additional amount of $281,000 necessary to complete the project.

Audubon, Baker and Logue Project, a project involving the conversion of three surplus City of Boston school buildings into 37 Section 8 units of affordable rental housing for large families and families with incomes within 50 percent of median income. The Trust voted to grant $275,000 for the conversion of the three schools, located on two sites in the Dorchester/Mattapan area, into one-, two- and three-bedroom units.

Bricklayers-Charlestown Navy Yard Project, a project involving 50 one-, two- and three-bedroom townhouses and condominiums, all of which will be affordable to first-time homebuyers earning between $20,000 and $43,000 per year. The Trust voted to grant $390,000, part of a total public subsidy of approximately $1 million, to help ensure the affordability of the $6.5 million project. Deed restrictions on all 50 units will ensure that the units remain affordable.

Bricklayers-Back-of-the-Hill Townhouses Project, a 165-8unit, mixed-income housing development on Mission Hill, of which 106 units will be affordable to very low-, low-/moderate-, and middle-income families. Nine units have been reserved for handicapped residents, and all units will be sold with deed restrictions to assure long-term affordability. The Trust voted to grant $275,000 as part of a total public subsidy of $2.56 million toward the total development cost of $21,571,500.

Bridge over Troubled Water Project, a project involving six 100 percent affordable rental units in two buildings owned by Bridge, Inc. The Trust voted to grant $144,820 toward the development cost of $963,000 for the supervised accommodations for 18 homeless teenagers.

In total, these six housing developments offer 232 units affordable to very low-, low-/moderate- and middle income households in five Boston neighborhoods for a combined total of $1,740,820 in linkage funds.

Approval of the City Council is necessary for the Neighborhood Housing Trust to expend the $1,740,920 in funds which are essential for the rehabilitation and construction of affordable housing units in the City of Boston.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible in order that these funds may be expended.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, Chapter 371 of the Acts of 1987 and Articles 26 and 26A of the Boston Zoning code authorize contractual agreements between the City of Boston and developers of certain large-scale projects requiring developers to contribute to the creation of affordable housing in the City through development impact payments to the Neighborhood Housing Trust (the "Trust") or through direct contributions to the creation of low and moderate income housing; and

Whereas, Said chapter 371 of the Acts of 1987 and chapter 7 of the ordinances of 1986 established the Neighborhood Housing trust, whose purpose is to promote the creation of affordable housing, and which, subject to approval by the City Council and the Mayor, is authorized to accept and expend any and all funds contributed to it consistent with the purposes of the Declaration of Trust; and

Whereas, As authorized by said chapter 371 of the Acts of 1987, by said Articles 26 and 26A of the Boston Zoning Code, and by said chapter 7 of Ordinances of 1986 establishing the Trust, and by an order passed by the City Council, December 14, 1988, and approved by the Mayor January 3, 1989, the Office of the Collector-Treasurer has received and accepted, on behalf of the Trust, linkage payments by developers and is holding them in a separate account; and

Whereas, As authorized by said chapter 371 of the Acts of 1987 and by said Articles 26 and 26A of the Boston Zoning Code and by said Chapter 7 of the Ordinance of 1986 establishing the Trust, the Trust voted on February 14, 1989 to disburse $1,740,820 for the creation of housing affordable for low and moderate income residents of the City of Boston; now, therefore, be it

Ordered: That the Trust be, and hereby is, authorized, in accordance with G.L. c.44, sec. 53A, to expend $1,740,820 consistent with the purposes of said Trust and pursuant to the terms of duly executed Housing Payment Agreements.

Referred to the Committee on Housing.

URGING DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC UTILITIES
TO REJECT BOSTON EDISON'S REQUEST FOR RATE INCREASE AND URGING MAYOR TO INTERVENE ON BEHALF OF CITY AND ITS RESIDENTS

Couns. HENNIGAN CASEY, BOLLING, BYRNE, IANNELLA, McCORMACK, MENINO, SALERNO, and SCONDRAS offered the following:

Whereas; Boston Edison Company serves more than 600,000 customers in the City of Boston and 39 other surrounding cities and towns in eastern Massachusetts; and

Whereas; Boston Edison Company currently has one of the highest electric rates in the United States; and

Whereas; Boston Edison Company has asked the Department of Public Utilities for an $85 million (8.4 percent) rate increase; and

Whereas; The Edison proposal would translate to a rate increase for the City of Boston of close to $2 million and would translate to an annual increase for residential customers of approximately $100; and

Whereas; Over 40 percent of Boston Edison's capital costs in 1988 were attributed to soaring expenses at Pilgrim Nuclear Plant; and

Whereas; Electricity produced by Pilgrim now costs over twice that of replacement power; therefore be it

Resolved; That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, urges the Department of Public Utilities to reject Boston Edison's request for a rate increase and urges Mayor Raymond Flynn to intervene on behalf of the City of Boston and its residents.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

Whereas; Inappropriate behavior of students attending universities located in Boston has a negative impact on many of Boston's neighborhoods; and

Whereas; During the past week Boston police have arrested dozens of Northeastern University students in the East Fenway, a residential community abutting the university; and

Whereas; Northeastern University police were called to respond to several of these instances of illegal activity which occurred within the perimeter of their jurisdiction, but were either unable or unwilling to respond; therefore, be it

Ordered; That the Special Committee on University-Community Relations hold hearings on the behavior of students of Northeastern University and other universities located in Boston.

Referred to the Special Committee on University-Community Relations.

Section 1. The following words as used herein shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the following meanings:

"Attendance," the registration by a student for one or more courses, for credit towards a degree of any kind, or a certification in an occupation, beyond a high school diploma, or the equivalent thereof, for a duration of six weeks or more.

Institution of higher education," any school, college, university, vocational school, training school, trade school or other institution offering courses for credit towards a degree or a certification beyond a high school diploma, or the equivalent thereof, whether public or private, and any branch, extension or annex thereof.

"Student," any individual in attendance at institutions covered by this act.

"Treasurer," the Collector-Treasurer of the City of Boston.

Section 2. The City of Boston may, by ordinance, impose an excise on the privilege of attending an institution of higher education located within said city on all students in attendance at such institution at a rate not to exceed $60 per academic year for a full-time student nor more than $20 per academic year for a parttime student.

Section 3. Such shall be collected by each institution subject to the provisions of this chapter from students in attendance at such institution. The full amount of the excise imposed by this act shall be collected at such time as each institution normally collects tuition, fees or other charges owed the institution; provided, however, that if an institution subject to the provisions of this act apportions the payment of tuition, fees or other charges owed to it by a student, whether such appointment be semiannually, quarterly, monthly, or for any other portion of a year, such institution shall collect an amount bearing the same proportion to the excise due for the whole academic year as the payment period bears to the whole academic year. Any student in attendance at more than one institution of higher education at one time shall pay such excise to the institution in which he is registered for the greater number of credits or, if he is registered for an equal number of credits at each institution, to any of them. Any institution enrolling such a student which does not collect the excise imposed by this chapter shall require such student to sign a sworn statement, under penalties of perjury, attesting to the fact that such student has paid the excise due under this chapter to another institution at which he is in attendance, and the same shall be confirmed on its face by the financial officer of the institution actually collecting the same. Each such statement shall be filed with the Treasurer.

Section 4. Such excise shall be stated and charged separately from tuition, fees or other charges and shall be shown separately on any record thereof at the time payment is made.

Section 5. Every institution of higher education collecting such excise under this chapter shall make a return of the excise prescribed by section 2 to the treasurer on or before January 15 of each year, for amounts collected during the six-month period ending on December 1 of the preceding year, and on or before July 15 of each year for amounts collected during the six-month period ending on the preceding June first. The excise so computed shall be due and payable upon the due date for filing the return. The form of return hereunder shall be prescribed by the treasurer and shall contain such information as he may deem necessary for the proper administration of this chapter. Such return shall be signed under oath by a principal officer of such institution.

Section 6. All sums due under this chapter shall constitute a debt owed by the student to the City of Boston and may be recovered by the City of Boston in an action brought in the name of the treasurer. Except as otherwise provided, any institution subject to the provisions of this chapter which bestows an academic degree or certification on a student with respect to whom it has not collected such excise shall be liable therefor, except that this sentence shall not apply to an institution which is owned or operated by the United States of America. In the case of such liability on the part of the commonwealth for any of its institutions of higher education, any reimbursement to the City of Boston shall be subject to appropriation therefor.

Section 7. The proceeds of the excise provided for by this act shall be collected by the Collector-Treasurer of the City of Boston and shall be expended by the city solely for the benefit of the Boston Public Library. Within thirty days after the close of the fiscal year, the City Auditor will certify to the City Clerk the amount of money collected under this act in the previous fiscal year and shall further certify as to the disposition of such funds.

Section 8. This act shall take effect upon passage.

Referred to the Committee on City and Neighborhood Services.

RECOMMENDING THAT HOUSE 4385 BE STRENGTHENED TO REQUIRE RENEWAL OF FIREARMS IDENTIFICATION CARDS AND REVIEW OF CONVICTION RECORDS UPON RENEWAL AND BE THEREAFTER PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Couns. SCONDRAS, McLAUGHLIN, SALERNO, BOLLING, TRAVAGLINI and YANCEY offered the following:

Whereas, Elvira Hunter was killed by multiple gunshot wounds on May 9, 1989, and her death should not be in vain; and

Whereas, Elvira Hunter had availed herself of every existing protection under state laws designed to protect victims of spousal abuse; and

Whereas, Alfred Hunter, III, the alleged murderer of Elvira Hunter received a Firearms Identification Card after being convicted of beating two men; and

Whereas, Possession of a Firearms Identification Card allowed Alfred Hunter III to purchase a semi-automatic assault rifle in Salisbury, Mass.; and

Whereas, It is alleged that Alfred Hunter used his assault weapon to murder his wife and to strafe sections of District 8 such as the Prudential Tower and Newbury Street, as well as other downtown Boston locations; and

Whereas, The Boston Police Department's Bureau of Special Operations reports that domestic violence in Boston is increasing precipitously, from 5,023 incidents in 1986 to 6,345 in 1987, and to 8,136 in 1988, a 62 percent increase in two years; and

Whereas, The Bureau of Special Operations reports that domestic violence related homicides in Boston has almost doubled in two years, from 8 in 1986 to 12 in 1987, and to 15 in 1988; and

Whereas, The Bureau of Special Operations reports that domestic violence related homicides in Boston are increasing sharply as a percentage of total homicides in Boston, from 7.5 percent in 1986 to 16 percent in 1987 and 1988; and

Whereas, In recognition of the need to strengthen the laws against spousal abuse and standardized their application throughout the Commonwealth, the Massachusetts Coalition of Battered Women's Service Groups has collaborated with Senator Amick, Representative Tucker, and other sponsors including members of the Boston delegation, to draft "An Act to Further Protect Abused Persons"; and

Whereas, The Act to Further Protect Abused Persons allows police to require that abusers relinquish possession of weapons; and

Whereas, Persons possessing Firearms Identification Cards are not required to renew those cards, and felony convictions occurring after Firearms Identification Cards are issued do not result in their revocation; and

Whereas, The Greater Boston Church Leaders Covenant has called upon the State Legislature to pass laws restricting assault weapons; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That H. 4385, An Act to Further Protect Abused Persons, should be strengthened to require renewal of Firearms Identification Cards and review of conviction records upon renewal, and should thereafter be passed by the State Legislature and signed into law by the Governor; and be it further

Resolved, That the City of Boston's Home Rule Petition, An Act Regarding Assault Weapons in the City of Boston, and similar provisions of the statewide act proposed by Governor Dukakis, should be made law as soon as possible.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

STATEMENT OF COUNCILLOR SCONDRAS

Having received unanimous consent to do so, Councillor Scondras stated that the events of May 9, 1989, made it even more important that House 4385 be strengthened and that Boston's home rule petition, An Act Regarding Assault Weapons in the City of Boston and similar provisions of the statewide act proposed by the Governor, should be made law as soon as possible.

STATEMENT OF COUNCILLOR O'NEIL

Having received unanimous consent to do so, Councillor O'Neil stated that those in favor of the anti-assault-weapon legislation were using this case to bolster their argument when the person using the weapon for destruction in Stockton, California, didn't have a license.

He requested that he be recorded in opposition to this resolution.

STATEMENT OF COUNCILLOR YANCEY

Having received unanimous consent to do so, Councillor Yancey stated that he congratulated his colleagues on this resolution and supported everything in it.

STATEMENT OF COUNCILLOR KELLY

Having received unanimous consent to do so Councillor KELLY stated that in his opinion the Council was being very arrogant and improper and pompous to tell another branch of government how they should vote after weighing all the merits of the arguments presented to them, that Mr. Hunter could just as easily have been dropping sidewalk bricks over Boston as using an assault weapon.

He stated that he wished to be recorded, along with Councillor O'Neil, as voting in the negative on the foregoing action.

DISAPPROVING ORDER THAT CONSERVATION DEVICES BE INSTALLED IN ALL MUNICIPAL BUILDINGS TO REDUCE ANNUAL WATER AND SEWER CHARGES

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 22, 1989.

To the City Council,
Dear Councillors:

I return herewith without my signature and disapproved an order passed by your Honorable Body on May 3, 1989, which would require that retrofitting for toilet displacement fixtures, lowflow showerheads and faucet aerators be mandatory for all municipal buildings.

The reason for my disapproval is that the order cannot be implemented in its present form as the language of the order needs some revision to effectively communicate and carry out the intended requirements. In particular, the names of certain departments specified in the order and the authority to regulate buildings under their control must be clear.

Water conservation is an issue of concern to all of us, and legislation that addresses that issue is laudable and timely. It is my hope that working with Councillor Bolling, who introduced the order, we can develop a revised version of this order so that the City of Boston can translate its concern for water conservation into action that will bring tangible results.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the order referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

Date: May 19, 1989

Attached, please find crime statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the period covering April 29 through May 5, 1989.

District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury, and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston. District Seven is East Boston. ORDER AUTHORIZING CITY TO APPLY FOR, ACCEPT, AND EXPEND $348,000 IN CDAG FUNDS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF TWO PARKING LOTS AT UPHAMS CORNER

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

May 16, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I attach herewith for your approval an order authorizing the City of Boston to apply for, accept, and expend $348,000 in Community Development Action Grant (CDAG) funds.

The Uphams Corner neighborhood of Dorchester has suffered disinvestment for several years. Currently, there are several projects which will help reverse the decline and revitalize the area. They include: the renovation of the former Post Office at 636 Columbia Road into a satellite health clinic for the Uphams Corner Health Center; facade and other improvements to commercial properties at 779 Dudley Street, Louis Clothing and Warton's Shoes; facade rehabilitation at 728 Dudley Street, Hermanos Unidos; the demolition of the "Pink Squirrel" building at 730 Dudley Street. Most of these projects received assistance such as loans and grants. Also, substantial funds from private foundations and charities were donated to both the Uphams Corner Health Center and for the demolition of 730 Dudley Street.

The CDAG will fund the development of public parking and a pocket park in Uphams Corner. The larger lot will be secured with gates and fencing and will have a guard booth. This lot has 136 spaces of secured parking to assist local retail development. The smaller lot in the rear of the pocket park will provide another 10 spaces of public parking. The parking supports the commercial district, provides overnight parking for residents and supplies much needed additional parking for the Strand Theatre.

Again, this CDAG is essential in the economic revitalization of Uphams Corner. These funds support and complement extensive private and public investment in Uphams Corner. I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order to make possible the construction of the aforementioned parking lot and pocket park.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, The Uphams Corner neighborhood of Dorchester has suffered serious past disinvestment; and

Whereas, Several commercial and social service development projects are planned which will revitalize Uphams Corner; and

Whereas, The current lack of secured public parking space jeopardizes this development and the revitalization of Uphams Corner; and

Whereas, The cost to construct a parking lot would prohibit the development of this greatly needed commercial space and social service space without extra funds; now, therefore, be it

Ordered, That the Mayor, acting on behalf of the City of Boston, be, and hereby is, authorized to apply to the Massachusetts Executive Office of Communities and Development for a Community Development Action Grant (CDAG) not to exceed $348,000 to make feasible the construction of two parking lots to support the social service, retail and commercial revitalization in Uphams Corner; and in connection therewith, to execute and deliver such documents as may be required by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to act as the authorized representative of the City of Boston in connection with said application, and in accordance with section 53A of chapter 44 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth, to accept and expend such funds for the purpose for which granted.

Referred to the Committee on Planning and Development.

Those assigned may be called out of the sector by the shift commander only to assist in an emergency occurring in another sector. MAYOR DELIVERS STATE OF THE CITY ADDRESS

Remarks of the Honorable Mayor Raymond L. Flynn in his State of the City Address on January 10, 1990, at Rabb Hall, Boston Public Library, Copley Square.

Good evening ladies and gentlemen. Thank you for being here tonight. Let me thank Father Best, School Committee President Dan Burke, Georgette Watson, and City Council President Chris Iannella. I also want to welcome the members of the City Council, the School Committee, and the State Legislature. I look forward to working with you to build a better Boston, as we begin a new decade.

Every year about this time, I give this State of the City Address. To be honest with you, the speech I am about to give tonight is much different than the one I had prepared last week — because of the recent events that have shocked the city. And so the beginning of this speech is what I've been hearing throughout the city for the past six days.

Sunday night — I couldn't sleep, and so I was driving around the city, as I often do. I went into Dunkin Donuts in North Station at about one a.m. to get a cup of coffee. Some guys working all night were in there on their coffee break. They were talking about the day's N.F.L. football games. I asked them about the games, since I hadn't been able to watch them myself. And they filled me in on the scores.

As I walked out the door, one of them said to me, "Hey Ray, I like your hat." I looked up and saw that he was wearing the same kind of hat that I was wearing — with I.B.E.W. on the front.

I started to leave. But then I stopped and turned around. I went back to them, and told them I was preparing this address. And I asked them: "What do you think I should say about the Stuart case?"

The guy with the hat, who was black, said, "Hey, Mayor. Just tell the people that an honest mistake was made by everybody. Just tell them that we're doing okay. in Boston and we're proud of our city."

And you know, I think he's right. We are doing okay. We are proud of Boston. And I think everyone feels that way.

But Charles Stuart — he took us all in.

Now, I have spent a lot of my time in the last six days on Boston's streets, in coffee shops, and in many homes. And I must report with more than a little sadness, that the state of the city — or better, the mood of the city — ranges from disbelief, to cynicism, to anger.

It seems that we — all of us — have been the victims of a cruel hoax. Of course, I have to add that after the events that have unfolded in the last six days, it's hard to know what specifically happened. The district attorney is actively pursuing the criminal investigation. He informs me that he will soon present evidence to the grand jury. I would support the investigation of any allegations of civil rights violations which are brought to the attention of law enforcement officials. But in addition, it is important that there be a review by people with the highest reputations for integrity and insight to identify the broader lessons to be learned from this event.

But as we now understand things, it appears that Charles Stuart has perpetrated a giant fraud on this city. He hurt everyone — especially the residents of Mission Hill and the greater Roxbury neighborhoods.

Charles Stuart told us that a black man killed his pregnant wife and shot him. And the most evil thing about this awful fraud was that it hurt the heart and soul of a city that has worked so hard to break down the racial barriers that for years divided it. It will take weeks, maybe even months, to fully understand what occurred here. But the way to the truth is through honest reflection.

I want to start by re-stating what we thought took place. We thought that a gunman invaded a car in which a man and his pregnant wife were leaving childbirth classes at one of our hospitals. We thought that this couple was kidnapped and shot. We thought that the person who did it was at large in our neighborhoods. And we wanted him caught before anyone else was hurt.

When I ordered an aggressive police response, I think I did what any mayor would have done. I wanted to send a strong signal — as strong as I could — to show the city's outrage, and to show that we would not tolerate such an act.

Was I wrong? You know, I don't think so. An unthinkable crime was committed. But it turned out we were all victims of a sinister hoax.

And we were all hurt — especially the residents of the good Mission Hill community. Last night at a powerful and moving service in Mission Church, we were urged to transform our hurt and our anger into healing — through patience and sensitivity.

But there was one person missing last night — the person who owes us the biggest apology. In hindsight, we were all wrong to accept too readily his version of this crime — because it fit with at least some of the common stereotypes about society. Sadly, it made too much sense — to all of us. It became a crime story that played nationally — because it fit so neatly with our national tragedy of racial discord.

Well, we must address those fears, that anger, and those stereotypes directly — if we are going to learn from this experience, and if we are going to move forward.

I'd like to take a moment here to bring up another very difficult time for the City of Boston — because I think it holds some lessons for us now. Fifteen years ago, the busing story in Boston was also national news. For those who went through it, it was a terribly wrenching time. Many wrongs were committed. Mindless violence occurred. Many thoughtless statements were made.

I was deeply offended by the sweeping characterization of all residents of my neighborhood as racists. I knew that that wasn't true. But just as today, the stereotype was accepted. And as I walked the streets of South Boston, and saw the pain my neighbors were feeling from these accusations, my frustrations were enormous.

It made me angry. Back then, it was my neighborhood that was the victim of stereotyping — of the same mindless, thoughtless bias, of the same rush to judgment that today victimizes Mission Hill and the greater Roxbury community. And that experience made me re-double my commitment — both as a private individual and as a public official — to do all I could to see that each resident — and every neighborhood — of this city was treated fairly — with dignity and respect.

As I said at the Morningstar Baptist Church, the Sunday following the Stuart shooting: "No one group or community should be singled out because of the actions of a few."

Well, it is for others to judge my record. But in the six years I have been mayor, I have worked as hard as I know how, to meet that goal. Frankly though, this Stuart incident — for the moment anyway — has set that effort back. It has temporarily created new tensions and new doubts in the city. And it has generated considerable hostility.

How people perceive their city is very important. And so is the way others portray it. Countless residents of Boston have told me in recent days that they think it was easier for people to believe Charles Stuart's story because of the too frequent negative portrayal of the minority community in the city's print and electronic media.

Well, I am urging that those news organizations on whom we rely for our understanding of events around us re-examine their approach to the coverage of news — about our working class neighborhoods, about our young people, and about our entire city. And I urge the media to work with us to show the many positive things that are taking place in our neighborhoods every day — so that believing in stereotypes doesn't come so easy in the future.

The Stuart case isn't what the City of Boston is about today. Because Boston is a much different city than it was ten or fifteen years ago. And we can't let a single incident — no matter how terrible — set us back. But neither can we stand still. The unity of a city is a very fragile thing. And the healing process is never over — it just goes on and on and on.

And we will go on. We have a city to run. We have parks to fix for our kids, streets to clean, education to improve and good health care to provide for our elderly. We have to continue to work hard — and work together.

Isn't that what we did this past summer? Some predicted a long, hot summer for our city and for our young people. But people in the neighborhoods, clergy, and the business community — all joined city government in the Boston Youth Campaign. We showed how much we cared — by providing a record number of summer jobs and recreational activities, and recruiting over 5,000 adult volunteers to spend time with young people — to go to Red Sox games, museums and office picnics. And the result was a safe and successful summer, probably the best summer we've ever had in Boston.

That's what the City of Boston is all about today. And we must resist the politics of polarization from our past that is trying to re-assert itself today. None of us can stand by and watch that happen.

We can't forget that there is so much more that unites us than divides us. We must remember that united we'll continue to gain — but divided, we can't help but lose.

We must continue to demand that everyone in this city — whatever their race, their color, their gender or their neighborhood — be treated with dignity and respect. And we must continue to demand economic justice for everyone in Boston — especially those who live in neighborhoods that have historically been left behind by economic growth.

That's not only the right thing to say and the right thing to do — it's what we believe in.

Now, our greatest accomplishment has been to use the city's economic prosperity to build bridges of opportunity, between our strong downtown economy and our neighborhoods. Thanks to our linkage policies, houses for first-time homebuyers, now stand where vacant lots used to be. Thanks to our first-in-the-nation jobs policies, Boston residents, minorities, and women are working in decent jobs that they never would have had access to just ten years ago.

We will continue to fight for economic justice and fairness — so that people in all of our neighborhoods get the same chances that we all want — for homeownership, for jobs, and for business opportunities.

And we are succeeding. According to a study just released and funded by the Rockefeller Foundation, family poverty has decreased by one-third in Boston. And another recent study found that there has been a dramatic decrease in welfare cases in Boston, compared to the rest of the state. As Professor Andrew Sum, author of one of those reports said, "Boston is clearly doing something different from the rest of the state."

Now, I've always believed that government should be about helping people — and providing opportunities. Government isn't something separate from people — it's an expression of our commitment, and how much we really care. And I don't believe that caring or providing opportunities has gone out of style.

But right now, there are things going on up at the State House that are threatening the progress that this city has been making. And if the state doesn't solve its fiscal crisis, the City of Boston — and all the cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth — will face social and economic havoc. That's unacceptable. And none of us should stand by and watch this happen.

Now, there's a lot of talk going on about fiscal constraints. But let me paraphrase President Harry Truman, when he said: "Hell, I was interested in balancing the budget myself. But I'm not going to do it at the expense of the poor."

Well, I agree with President Truman, and I believe that government can be both morally and financially responsible.

Now, we in Boston know what it's like to work under financial constraints. Six years ago, when I was first elected Mayor of Boston, we inherited a forty million dollar deficit — proportionately, that's larger than what the state faces today. Boston's bond rating was at the bottom of the barrel. And what was most disturbing to me back then was that it seemed to me that people had lost faith in city government.

So, we worked hard to restore credibility to city government and stability to our city's finances. And just as we opened the doors of City Hall to the people of Boston, we opened the financial books of the city, as well. We made the cuts we had to make, and we instituted strong financial controls.

Now, after decades of deficit spending, the city's books have been balanced for five straight years now. And our hard work was rewarded by Wall Street, which increased the city's bond rating five times in five years to its highest level ever.

Now all that sounds nice, but what does balancing the city's books mean to the average person or working family or kids in our neighborhoods — all of our neighborhoods. Well it means that we could put more police on Boston streets than at any time since Proposition 2½. We could open the first pediatric AIDS center in the entire country. We could increase school spending by fifty percent. It means that we could replace ninety-four percent of our front-line fire equipment. And today, Boston has the best fire equipment of any city in the country.

It means we could restore the city's parks and recreation systems for our young people. And it means that we could invest nearly one billion dollars to rebuild Boston — street by street, neighborhood by neighborhood, school by school, and park by park. What does all that mean? Just ask the kids that go to the Hernandez School in Egleston Square. Or ask the families who use Billings Field in West Roxbury or McConnell Park in Savin Hill. That place looks like Fenway Park now, they'll tell you. It makes them feel like they count — and that somebody really cares.

And we will continue to use our resources to move this city forward by continuing to fight homelessness by creating more affordable housing, by further committing ourselves to the young people of our city with the help of our business community, by working with our public school parents and our School Committee for a better school system for our children, by developing new strategies to meet the challenges of a new regional and international economy.

And after a year of healthy — and frankly, sometimes heated — dialogue with the city's leading bankers, we are on the verge of launching a four hundred million dollar private sector investment plan that will put more working families into affordable homes at lower interest rates, more businesses and jobs into community commercial districts, and more bank branches into underserved neighborhoods.

We know that these neighborhoods have been struggling. Now, with this plan, they will have the resources to build an economy for themselves from the ground up. That's economic empowerment.

And I told Minister Don and Reverend Mickarl Thomas: "The issue of neighborhood investment isn't black or white — it's green." It's about sharing the city's prosperity with all of its people.

Now, I like to talk with a lot of people — people like Maria Sanchez from Mission Hill, Richie Harris from Jamaica Plain, and Sister Ann from the South Boston Neighborhood House. They'll tell you what's really going on in Boston's neighborhoods. They're the kind of people I try to work closely with.

You know, people kid me a lot about always being on the go — playing basketball with kids in playgrounds, or riding on snowplows in the neighborhoods. But it's who I am, how I learn, and the way I govern.

Well, the other day I was out at Codman Square. I got a chance to talk with some of the young people on the corner of Talbot Avenue and Washington Street. And I asked them what they needed to beat the street. What I really wanted to find out was how we could replace drugs and despair with hope and opportunity. Well, one of the kids said to me: "Mayor, all we're looking for is a chance. But it's got to be a real chance — for something that's got a future."

Well, there was something else this kid didn't say. None of them did. But when I looked at their faces, I could see it. I could tell that they were afraid. They were afraid of the future — as afraid as anything they faced on the streets. It's up to us — as parents, as citizens, and as a government to make sure that our children have a future that they are not afraid to face.

I want to end tonight with something that President Kennedy said that I'm afraid applies to us here, today, in Massachusetts. It went something like this: "The people who sell us short have substituted fear — for faith in our future. They are caught up in their own disbeliefs and doubts about our ability to build a better, stronger America."

Well, I say now is no time for doubt. It's a time for faith — in ourselves and in our city. It's a time to work even harder to unite behind the dreams we all share, and to keep building strong families and strong neighborhoods.

There will always be challenges. But we've come too far to turn back. And there are too many people who need our help. Now is no time to think about the past. It's a time to move forward. It's a time for leading, and it's a time for healing. It's a time for caring about each other and respecting one another. It's a time to assure our young people they have nothing to fear from the future. Now is a time to dream. And now is a time to dare.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without advertising based on the following communications:

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Chapter 636

Dear Mr. Mayor:

As Superintendent of the Boston Public Schools, I respectfully request your authorization for the award of a contract to Spanish Dance Theatre, Inc., a corporation located at 791 Tremont Street, Box D, Boston, MA 02118.

On May 23, 1989, the School Committee approved all of the FY90 Chapter 636 proposals in the amount of $5,677,938.

This contract shall be in effect during the period September 1, 1989, to June 29, 1990, and shall occur at a cost not to exceed $9,450, which have deemed to be reasonable.

Under the terms of this contract, the contractor will present a bicultural program of Hispanic song and dance to fourth-grade classes in five schools in Zones North and West. The Program will pair a regular education class with a bilingual class, and will focus on multi-cultural heritage through songs and dances from Latin America. The program will meet for ten weeks, each class forty-five minutes in length. Students will attend a performance by Spanish Dance Theatre at the beginning of the session, and have the option of a student show at the end.

Spanish Dance Theatre is uniquely qualified to provide these services because: (1) Spanish Dance Theatre has organized sufficient resources under Chapter 636 (1974 Amendments to the 1965 Racial Imbalance Act); (2) the institution has specifically designed services in conjunction with School Department personnel to meet the intent of U.S. District Court Judge Arthur W. Garrity (Morgan vs. McDonough, Civil Action No. 72-911-G); (3) further, these services have been reviewed and approved by appropriate personnel at the State Department of Education.

Because of the professional nature of the services to be provided under this agreement and the expertise of the contractor in providing these services, it is my determination that the public interest would not be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Compensation to this vendor during the past three fiscal years in the form of unadvertised contracts is as follows: 1989 — $10,270; 1988 — $10,723; 1987 — $8,872.

Very truly yours,

Laval S. Wilson,
Superintendent

Proceedings of City Council

Wednesday, June 7, 1989.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 1 p.m., President IAN-NELLA in the chair and all the members present.

OPENING OF MEETING

The Reverend Vincent Zuliani, Director of St. Dominic Savio High School, East Boston, delivered the invocation, and the meeting was opened with the salute to the flag.

DISAPPROVING ORDER THAT BRIDGE ON WEST STREET, HYDE PARK, BE NAMED AFTER LATE EMMANUEL ARONIS

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 5, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I return herewith without my signature and disapproved an order passed by your Honorable Body on May 17, 1989, Docket No. 0709, which seeks to name the bridge on West Street in Hyde Park after the late Emmanuel Aronis.

The reason for my disapproval is that the City does not own this bridge. However, I support the spirit of the order and have asked the Commission of the Transportation Department to find an appropriate City-owned property to honor the name of Emmanuel Aronis.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the order referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

RE: Police Statistics

DATE: May 26, 1989

Attached, please find crime and deployment statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the period covering May 6 through May 12, 1989.

It should be noted that these statistics provide "a snapshot of crime" in Boston for the reporting week. In some cases, several of these incidents may be further investigated and determined to be unfounded claims. Thus, these statistics, when compiled for a one month period or for a year long period will differ, to some degree, from the Uniform Crime Report tallies that take into account such unfounded or reclassified cases.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the waterfront and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston, District Seven is East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston and Kenmore. District Fifteen is Charlestown.

RE: Police Statistics
DATE: June 1, 1989

Attached, please find crime and deployment statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the period covering May 13 through May 19, 1989.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the waterfront and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers

Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston, District Seven is East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston and Kenmore. District Fifteen is Charlestown.

Whereas, The Central Artery project, Third Harbor Tunnel project and Boston Harbor clean-up project, as well as other construction projects will produce thousands of jobs and job training opportunities in the construction trades, drafting, and engineering related clerical skills; and

Whereas, It is estimated that between 600 and 700 men and women will be trained annually during the next three to five years for jobs on these projects; and

Whereas, The State of Massachusetts and the City of Boston, in cooperation with community and labor representatives, have reached an agreement that provides for 25 percent of the training slots to women, 25 percent of the slots to racial and ethnic minorities; and 25 percent of the slots to residents living in neighborhoods affected by the construction; and

Whereas, Many city officials, members of the City Council, community representatives, and civic leaders agree that these construction projects provide the City of Boston a rare opportunity to provide job training and apprenticeships to many residents of Boston who are unskilled, underemployed, or unemployed; and

Whereas, It is a widely held belief that the lack of employment, and training opportunities can lead to involvement in criminal and drug-related activities; and

Whereas, The Humphrey Occupational Resource Center is a well equipped training center for students interested in developing skills in the building and construction trades, as well as, in many other occupations; therefore be it

Ordered, The Committee on Planning and Development hold hearing, to discuss a plan to require 10 percent of all training slots and apprenticeships resulting from these construction projects be set aside for individuals who are graduated of the Humphrey Occupational Resource Center.

Whereas, The Humphrey Occupational Resource Center is a well equipped training center for students interested in developing skills in the building and construction trades, as well as, in many other occupations; and

Whereas, Discussions with administrators at the Humphrey Occupational Resource Center confirm the fact that the Center can easily accommodate afternoon and evening classes; and

Whereas, It has been estimated that it will cost approximately $1,000,000 per year to operate afternoon and evening classes at the Humphrey Occupational Resource Center including the cost of 30 additional vocational teachers; and

Whereas, The City of Boston is expected to receive approximately $19 million from the sale of the Boston Garden; and

Whereas, The investment of a portion of the funds from this sale ($10,000,000) if invested wisely could produce an annual yield of $1,000,000; therefore be it

REPORT ON ORDER FOR ANNUAL APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS FOR FY90

Coun. MENINO, on behalf of the Committee on Ways and Means, submitted the following:

The City Council's Committee on Ways and Means has examined the Mayor's proposed FY90 budget through an extensive public hearing process begun in April and continuing into June. The Committee is in agreement with the Administration on the parameters of the proposal. The revenue estimates presented appear to be attainable and, in some cases may be conservative. The Committee believes that a conservative approach at this point in time is a sound fiscal policy.

Although the Committee agrees with the expenditure amount in total, it questions the reasoning for certain departmental allocations. When the effect of the State's fiscal crisis on the City's revenues was made known, departments were given dollar amounts and personnel numbers to comply with by July 1, 1989. It is the conclusion of the Committee that these dollar amounts and staffing levels were not clearly related. Testimony during the budget hearings failed to identify any clear or consistent rationale for the cuts. The Committee believes that the Administration has not prioritized certain agencies and programs in a way that best serves the citizens of Boston.

During the month of March, the Committee on Ways and Means visited the nine districts of the City to explain the budget process and to get a better understanding for what residents wish to see in the FY90 appropriations. Overwhelmingly, people staunchly supported the programs offered by Community Schools - particularly the Youth Outreach component. The Committee fears that the increased financial responsibilities related to the City Hall day care center, coupled with an overall FY90 budget cut, Community Schools will not be able to deliver the services that are so desperately needed by those in the neighborhoods. In his 1989 State of the City address the Mayor gave the youth of the City a promise of support; the Committee is now requesting that the Administration back up that promise by making the Community Schools Program a priority in the FY90 budget. We agree with those who stated at the neighborhood hearings that money spent wisely on high successful youth programs will save public resources in the future by investing in young people now.

Education has been included in the Mayor's stated list of priorities; the Committee is in agreement. The Committee believes that the public library system must be viewed as an integral part of any education agenda. The residents of Boston, along with the City Council as a whole, have indicated their support for a more reasonable Library budget. Much time, effort and financial resources have been invested in the restoration of the City's library system. While it may be prudent to put the restoration process on hold, it should not be allowed to take steps backwards. The Committee advises the Mayor to re-examine the Library's FY90 proposal with the intent of providing some additional support. The Administration should also caution against jeopardizing state funds by not providing enough City funds. An amendment introduced in the Senate which would increase the per capita amount of state aid for regional libraries, also mandates that the City increase the FY90 budget by two and one-half percent of the FY89 budget of lose all assistance. If the amendment passes, the City would not only have to restore the $970,280 cut, but, would have to add $487,000 more in order to keep its state funding.

The Committee also looks to Library Director Arthur Curley to work with each branch library to identify the most efficient and cost-effective ways to provide the best possible service within the confines of a tight budget. For example, a careful analysis must be given to the hours that branches are most heavily used and schedules adjusted accordingly. Cut backs in hours should be made in direct correlation to usage.

In addition to Community Schools and the Library, the Committee is concerned about the budgets proposed for Inspectional Services, where health inspector positions are being eliminated, and for Health and Hospitals, where direct services are sure to be negatively affected by the funding level, despite the effort of Commissioner Kurland. The Transportation Department will be eliminating parking meter supervisors. These are positions that not only assist in keeping streets clean, clear for public safety vehicles, and accessible for people in resident parking areas, but also bring in substantial amounts of revenue through enforcement of parking regulations. This is an example of personnel reductions that could actually cause a reduction in revenue.

All of these departments need re-examination. The funding levels proposed by the Mayor may not allow them to provide the basic services expected and deserved by City residents.

It is important to note that the Committee is not advocating an increase in the "bottom line" of the Mayor's proposal. The request now being made is for a re-shaping of the expenditure side to better reflect the wishes and the best interests of the residents of Boston.

The Committee recommends, at minimum, two measures for immediate review. It is our recommendation that all departments be thoroughly scrutinized as to the necessity of appropriations for travel, furniture, equipment, motor vehicle use, and other non-essential items to determine if some saving, however small, can be found.

There is also a "fixed cost" account that the Committee also recommends for closer analysis - the Debt Service account. Historically, this account has been overfunded and then tapped as early as the first quarter of the fiscal year as the source of funding for the mayor's $3 million reallocation account. Chapter 190 of the Acts of 1982, section 9 states "the mayor may reallocate no more than three million dollars of nonpersonnel appropriations other than school appropriations during a fiscal year to other departmental purposes..." It is the Council's interpretation that the source of funding for the reallocation account should be departmental appropriations already approved by the Council, not the Debt Service account. By using the debt service account the Mayor is actually appropriating, not transferring, additional funds for the total departmental operating budget above and beyond the spending authority approved by the Council.

It is the recommendation of the Committee, in view of historical trends, that the debt service account be reduced by at least two million dollars and that two million dollars be distributed as fairly as possible among the underfunded programs referred to above.

In addition to the problems cited above, the Committee is concerned by the fact that the School Department has yet to submit a spending plan that comes within the spending authority allowed by the Mayor's budget proposal. It is also concern to the Committee that the budget being proposed by the School Committee does not include funding for collective bargaining.

It is with these points and recommendations in mind that the City Council's Committee on Ways and Means respectfully recommends that Docket No. 0602 — Order for the FY90 operating budget for the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk — ought not to pass.

The report was accepted; the order was rejected, yeas 13.

CERTAIN INFORMATION UNDER SECTION 17F RE AFFIRMATIVE ACTION QUOTAS AND MBE PLANS

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That, under the provisions of section 17F of chapter 452 of the Acts of 1948, as amended; and under any other applicable provision of law, His Honor, the Mayor, be, and hereby is, requested to obtain and deliver to the City Council, within one week of the receipt hereof, the following information:

Whereas, The Supreme Court in Richmond verses Croson held that municipal policies which utilize race or gender-based classifications to increase minority participation in city contracts would not be upheld if they were based on vague allegations of "past societal discrimination"; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court held that remedial policies had to be specifically tailored to the nature of past discrimination in order for those policies to be permissible under the Constitution of the United States; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court has since reaffirmed and more clearly defined the constitutional limits imposed on municipalities utilizing affirmative action plans in Wards Cove Packing Company verses Atonio, and Martin verses Wilks; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that racial and/or gender preferences and/or priority classifications utilized in an arbitrary manner were constitutionally prohibited; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that quotas utilized for political or social purposes which denied "certain citizens (whites) the opportunity to compete for a fixed percentage of public contracts based solely upon their race..." were unconstitutional, and the City of Boston has such policies; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that "Classifications based on race carry a danger of stigmatic harm..." and that "Preferential programs may only reinforce common stereotypes holding that certain groups are unable to achieve success without special protection..."; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court has held that the mere (societal) desire to increase minority participation in city contracts or employment was not sufficient to compel racial classifications, and that said practices actually constituted "discrimination for its own sake..." and were prohibited by the Constitution of the United States; and

Whereas, The city council will not condone any form of discrimination in the awarding of city contracts, or in the city's employment, hiring or firing practices; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that "the mere recitation of a 'benign' or legitimate purpose for racial classification is entitled to little or no weight..." under the constitution; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that, "The history of racial classification in this country suggests that blind judicial deference to legislative or executive pronouncements of necessity has no place in equal protection analysis..." and that simply because a municipality may want to institutionalize quotas, the constitution prohibits their rampart or indiscriminate use; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that although a municipality may take "remedial action when they possess evidence," of past discrimination the government must "identify discrimination, public or private, with some specificity before they may use race conscious relief..." and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that "because racial characteristics so seldom provide a relevant basis for disparate treatment, and because classifications based on race are potentially so harmful to the entire body politic, it is especially important that the reasons for any such classification be clearly and unquestionably legitimate..." and

Whereas, The Supreme Court held that to accept the claim that "past societal discrimination alone can serve as the basis for rigid racial preference would be to open the door to competing claims for 'remedial relief' for every disadvantaged group..." and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that prior to using quotas or racial classifications or preferences, rigid or otherwise, cities have an obligation to seek race neutral methods of increasing desired levels of participation for those whom the city wishes to assist; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court also held that the mere existence of low minority participation in city contracts was not proof enough of discrimination, and was therefore not remedial on racial grounds under the constitution; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court has now made it clear that the Constitution requires specificity where allegations of past discrimination are concerned, and that remedy should not extend beyond actual victims; and

Whereas, The City of Boston contract award process directs that bidders "shall maintain a not less than 25% ratio of minority manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract...", and in the absence of written guidelines which say otherwise this language is not flexible. And the language also directs that bidders "shall maintain not less than 10% ratio of female employee manhours to total employee manhours in each trade worked on the contract..." and this language in the absence of written guidelines which say otherwise is also inflexible; and

Whereas, The City of Boston's affirmative action, and minority and women business policies incorporate fixed racial and gender quotas based on language in ordinance and executive orders, referencing vague "past societal discrimination..." without any actual cases or documentation being offered; and

Whereas, Recent activities by the city suggest that irrespective of recent Supreme Court rulings on the matter of racial preference, the city of Boston will not voluntarily alter its current practices, creating the impression that the city will actively obstruct the judicial process; be it therefore Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel is hereby respectfully requested to provide the city council with the following information:

(1) The Corporation Counsel's written opinion of the constitutional limitations imposed on a municipality utilizing MBE quotas and affirmative action plans as viewed against the Richmond, Wards, and Martin decisions.

(2) A copy of all Executive orders and ordinances relative to quotas, MBE plans, affirmative action guidelines, classifications, both gender and race-based, etc., with an opinion of the Corporation Counsel on the validity of each order or ordinance, based on existing documentable evidence which would pass a Richmond, Wards, Martin test for constitutionality; and be it further

Ordered, (3) That the Corporation Counsel of the city of Boston is hereby requested to conduct an investigation into the allegations of past discrimination referred to in all city of Boston ordinances or executive orders alleging past societal discrimination, and, if necessary, draft for the city council an appropriate ordinance which will correct language in all ordinances, and executive orders consist with the guidelines of Richmond and other relevant cases heard subsequent to the Richmond decision, and submit that ordinance(s) to the city council for its consideration, and be it further

Ordered, (4) That the Corporation Counsel also draft, and the city council be provided with a corresponding letter of guidance which can be utilized by all city councillors, the personnel department and other departments which award contracts; and be it further Ordered (5) That the Corporation Counsel provide a written analysis of the hiring practices of the Boston Police and Fire Department especially as they relate to set-asides in employment and promotion for minority and women applicants and officers. Specifically, the Corporation Counsel is requested to determine if the constitutional limitations and tests imposed by Richmond, Wards and Martin affect the federal courts previous order relative to hiring and promotion. (The council would like to know if the available pool of minorities who might have been affected when federal judge Wysanski issued his order affecting the Boston Police Department has been exhausted. Are we now just continuing an affirmative action/quota system for its own sake?

Additionally, (6) with regard to the numerical remedies based on the percentage of a preferred group in a given society, the Supreme Court has stated that numerical goals based on individuals as members of a broad class represented in a municipal population, are over-board inasmuch as the percentage of any racial or gender group in the population may be significantly higher than the percentage of that class which wants a particular job. And that numerical remedy cannot be established and directed at an entire class which may not even be interested in a particular category. Please apply this test to the broad percentages used by the city to set goals for members of a class (as a percentage of the population) as applied to minorities and women?

Referred to the Committee of the Whole.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE TO HOLD RE AFFIRMATIVE ACTION QUOTAS, HIRING, AND MBE PLANS

ORDINANCE REQUIRING LENDING INFORMATION OF MUNICIPAL DEPOSITORIES

Coun. BOLLING offered the following:

City of Boston

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-nine

An Ordinance

Requiring Lending Information of Municipal Depositories.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, in accordance with the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 43B, section 13, and any other applicable law, as follows:

Whereas, The drive to eliminate redlining, the practice of systematically denying credit on the basis of the geographic location of the borrower or property to be borrowed, began more than twenty-five years ago; and

Whereas, Even though the Community Reinvestment Act requires that banks meet the credit needs of the communities in which they are located, evidence suggests the practice continues to exist; and

Whereas, A preliminary report issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston suggested that low/moderate income neighborhoods receive a disproportionately small amount of loans compared to other city neighborhoods and additionally that there may be a racial pattern of lending by area banks; and

Whereas, Denying loans and resources to certain groups and particular neighborhoods only serves to stifle economic mobility for many Boston residents; and

Whereas, The city invests approximately $400 million of its funds in Boston banks; and

Whereas, The city should leverage its resources to promote equitable distribution of financial resources in every neighborhood; and

Whereas, Municipal government should therefore conduct business only with those banks who are responsible in servicing all of Boston communities; and

Whereas, This ordinance would allow the city to evaluate the lending performance of banks who wish to receive municipal investment funds; therefore be it

Ordained, By the City Council of Boston, in accordance with the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws chapter 43B, section 13, and any other applicable law, as follows:

Section 1. Definitions.

(f) Boston SMSA shall mean the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area of the Greater Boston Region as defined by the United States Bureau of Census.

(g) Home improvement or rehabilitation loan shall mean a loan, the proceeds of which are to be used for the purpose of repairing, rehabilitating or remodeling an existing residential dwelling.

(i) Consumer loan shall mean a loan which is secured by an individual or families to finance personal consumption.

(k) Redlining shall mean the practice of systematically denying credit on the basis of the geographic location of the borrower or property to be borrowed against.

Section 2. Disclosure of Lending Information.

Prior to the deposit of any city monies in any financial institution, as authorized by the collector-treasurer in accordance and in conjunction with the provisions of section 5b of chapter 40, sections 36, 44 and 46 of chapter 41 and sections 53-55 of chapter 44 of the MGLA, such financial institution shall disclose the following information and data on forms approved by the collector-treasurer for each census tract within the City of Boston and outside the City of Boston within the Boston SMSA:

2. Home improvement loans or rehabilitation loans made on residential properties.

Additional material may be submitted, including but not limited to, the financial institution's participation in local community development projects or financing of low- and middle-income housing.

Section 3. Failure to Provide Information.

If any financial institution refuses to provide any of the information or data, the collector-treasurer shall report such refusal to the Mayor and the City Council. If such institution has previously been designated by the collector-treasurer as a city depository, the city shall withdraw such designation. The treasurer shall also maintain a list of any financial institutions which refuse to provide such information, which list shall be a public record.

Section 4. Pledge.

Beginning in January of 1990, prior to the deposit of any city monies in any financial institution, the city collector-treasurer shall obtain the following pledges from an authorized official of said institution:

(a) Not to discriminate against any individual or group seeking a mortgage, commercial, consumer, home improvement, or community development loan in the fixing of the amount, interest rate, duration, down payment or other terms or conditions of such loan, because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin of such individual or group or of any individual or group associated with him or her in connection with such loan or other financial assistance or the purposes of such loan or other financial assistance, or the dwelling or dwellings, if any in relation to which such loan or other financial assistance is to be made or given; and

(b) Not to indulge in redlining activities against any city neighborhood, including arbitrarily rejecting mortgage loans for residential properties within a specific geographic area in Boston because of the location and/or age of the property; and to make and affirmatively market loans available on low- and moderate-income residential property in all the neighborhoods of the city of Boston within the limits of legal restrictions and prudent financial practices.

Section 5. Municipal Banking Commission.

NO. 6

GRAND RE-OPENING AT HYDE PARK POLICE STATION

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and Police Commissioner Francis M. Roache joined Hyde Park residents on January 20 in celebrating the grand re-opening of the Hyde Park Neighborhood Police Station. Ceremonies included the dedication of the station to Boston Police Detective Roy J. Sergei, a Hyde Park resident killed in the line of duty in October of 1987. Mary Ellen Sergei and her children helped with the unveiling of a plaque which reads in part, "Dedicated in memory of Detective Roy J. Sergei, an outstanding officer and resident, who gave his life while in service to his community." Many members of the Sergei family and officers who worked closely with Detective Sergei were also in attendance.

"The people of Hyde Park have worked hard and waited a long time for this day," said Mayor Flynn. "The memory of Detective Sergei is well served by dedicating the police station in his community in his name."

The former District 5 station, closed in 1981 as a result of Proposition 2-1/2, will now be known as Area E District 18. The building has undergone nearly $2 million in renovations necessary for its restoration to full service capacity. The project was funded through the Mayor's five-year, $986-million capital improvements plan "Rebuilding Boston." The work was carried out by contractors Consalvo and Son and Rich Construction under the direction of the Public Facilities Department. Designed by architects DiMarinisi and Wolfe, renovations included replacement of the roof and windows, making the building handicapped accessible, improvements to the lobby and ellblock areas, installation of a sprinkler system, and construction of locker and shower facilities.

The station will house a community service officer, an auto theft investigator, 6 detectives, 56 officers and 6 cells. The new commander at District 18 will be Captain Phillip M. Vitti, a 25-year veteran with the department. Vitti was stationed at Hyde Park in 1981, and as the officer in charge after the passage of Prop. 2-1/2, was responsible for locking up the station. To be named as Captain of the new Hyde Park Neighborhood Police Station is, in Captain Vitti's own words, "like coming home."

"Captain Vitti has served in the Team Police, Intelligence and Staff Inspection units," said Commissioner Roache. "He brings a wealth of experience and a good relationship with the people of this neighborhood to his command here in Hyde Park."

Lisa Chapnick, Director of the Public Facilities Department, served as MC at the event. Other speakers included City Councillors Thomas M. Menino and Albert "Dapper" O'Neil. Marian Mitchell, a founding member of Hyde Park's Public Safety Committee, spoke of that committee's efforts on the neighborhood's behalf. The opening was co-sponsored by the Boston Police Department, the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, the Mayor's Office of Capital Planning, and the Public Facilities Department.

It is the policy of the City of Boston to award at least 15 percent of the City's contract dollars to minority-owned businesses and at least 5 percent to women-owned businesses.

THE ADOPT-A-STATUE PROGRAM

The goal of Adopt-A-Statue is to achieve funding for the restoration of thirty-nine pieces of outdoor public art and to establish a permanent maintenance endowment which would provide for the annual cleaning and maintenance of sixty-nine pieces.

To invite individuals, groups of individuals or corporations to "adopt" a piece of Boston outdoor public art by either:

- incurring the total cost of restoring and maintaining a particular piece of art or
- making a donation toward a general restoration and maintenance fund.

Gifts are tax deductible to the extent limited by law.

For further information on how to adopt a statue please contact the Environment Department at 725-3850 (Paula Mierzejewski) or Office of Arts and Humanities at 725-3245 (Mary Shannon).

AFFORDABLE HOUSING AND CHILD CARE IN DORCHESTER

An abandoned building at 1105 Blue Hill Avenue in Dorchester is now home to 11 low-income families and a HeadStart Center. The building was acquired by the City of Boston through tax-foreclosure and given to developer Hugh Kelly of KVC Associates. Kelly completed the $1 million rehabilitation in less than one year. On January 17, City officials joined residents, children, parents and neighbors for an open house at the Blue Hill HeadStart Center, located on the bottom floor of 1105 Blue Hill Avenue.

"The City has been very successful in seeing that public resources — land, buildings and money — are used as part of a comprehensive approach to neighborhood revitalization," said Mayor Raymond L. Flynn. "This building sends a positive message to the people who live nearby that the City is committed to making a major investment in improving this community."

KVC Associates, in their plans to convert the building into affordable housing, had also proposed that the bottom floor be used for a child care center. When Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) came to Public Facilities Department (PFD) looking for available space for their HeadStart program, PFD was able to put them in touch with the developer.

"By maintaining control over the disposition of abandoned buildings and vacant land," explained PFD Director Lisa G. Chapnick, "we are able to put these properties into the hands of developers like KVC who can fix them up for the purposes that the City and the residents of this neighborhood agree are essential."

1105 Blue Hill Avenue is located in Franklin Field South, an area where the first new homes to be built since the end of World War II are being constructed as a result of Project 747. This initiative, carried out under the direction of the PFD, calls for the development of affordable housing on all of the City's 747 vacant buildable lots. Sites in this area include Arbutus and Balsam Streets, Marden Avenue, and Winston and Lucerne Streets, which will also house a child care center.

Other changes in the Franklin Field South neighborhood include the construction of a new police station at the corner of Blue Hill Avenue and Morton Street. PFD's Neighborhood Development Bank has contributed to commercial improvements at 11 businesses in the Blue Hill/Morton area totalling $11 million. Plans are currently under way for 6 businesses to be located at 1132 Blue Hill Avenue when the necessary renovations are complete.

The Blue Hill HeadStart Center, under the direction of Action for Boston Community Development, houses two classrooms and a play area for 40 children. One of the highlights of the center is a wall mural designed by artists Diana Shank and Carol Buchman and painted by volunteers and the HeadStart children.

BERKELEY BUILDING

Significance

The Berkeley Building, constructed in 1905, is of major significance to the Back Bay and Boston as a distinguished Beaux Arts Style, gracefully ornamented steel frame, terra cotta-clad commercial building which retains a high degree of intactness and is one of the city's most notable commercial buildings of the early twentieth century. Of considerable importance as an outstanding work of architects Stephen Codman and Constant Desire Despradelle, the Berkeley Building is also among the city's best examples of the use of architectural terra cotta. Boylston Street underwent considerable commercial development early in the twentieth century, and the Berkeley Building remains as a handsome example of that development period. The near-original condition of the storefronts at No. 414 and No. 416 is particularly rare.

Historical Associations

Originally a tidal backwash separating the Boston peninsula along its western border from the Town of Brookline, the Back Bay was damned and used intermittently but ineffectively through the first half of the nineteenth century for milling operations. The tidal flats were filled in a process that began in 1857 at Arlington Street and continued west until the late 1880s, when all the marsh once separating Boston and Brookline had been reclaimed. With the creation of over 450 acres of dry, usable land, it was one of the largest land reclamations ever undertaken in America.

The new area was laid out as a fashionable residential district, the plan being executed by the architect Arthur Gilman in 1856. He had travelled in Europe and was acquainted with Baron Haussmann's accomplishments in replanning and rebuilding portions of Paris. Gilman's design for the Back Bay is a reflection of the burgeoning American interest in French architecture and city planning. With Commonwealth Avenue at its spine, the Public Gardens at its eastern boundary and Charlesgate at its western end, the Back Bay represents the first successful attempt in America at realizing the monumental effect of open spaces, grand boulevards, and imposing vistas, only possible in this kind of large scale city planning.

The cohesiveness of the plan was insured by a number of farsighted zoning and building restrictions, including mandatory building setbacks (20-25 feet from the street curb), limiting of building heights, and confining of building materials to masonry and brick. In this way the often bewildering array of eclectic styles was unified and subordinated to a composition that emphasized the block front and accentuated the uncluttered sweep of the Back Bay boulevards.

Boylston Street in the new area was planned for institutional uses including the lots of Copley Square, the Public Library, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Museums of Fine Arts and of Natural History, while railway yards occupied considerable perimeter lands to the south. Boston's nationally influential position in architectural design during the late nineteenth century is reflected particularly with the institutions which chose to move here. H. H. Richardson's Trinity Church (1872) and McKim's Boston Public Library (1889) are internationally significant. Of similar prominence along Boylston Street are the former Museum of Natural History (now Bonwit Teller's, William G. Preston, 1863); Arlington Street Church (Arthur Gilman, 1861); and Old South Church (Cummings and Sears, 1874).

Boylston Street became the focus of the Back Bay's business and cultural activity, along the street is found a significant collection of commercial buildings which reflect a variety of architectural modes prevalent from the late nineteenth century into the twentieth century in Boston. As a group, these buildings portray the changing character of the street through its history. The common eclecticism of the period's commercial architectural styles represented include the Romanesque, Pier and Spandrel Commercial, and Beaux Arts modes. Although the first-level storefronts of the buildings have been altered through the years, the upper stories generally remain intact.

Note: The preceding section of historical significance is largely excerpted from The Back Bay Residential District, Bay Back Architectural Commission, 1984; The Back Bay Historic District National Register Nomination, 1873 and the Boylston Street Zoning Study Interim Report, BRA, 1985.

The Berkeley Building was built in 1905 for the Berkeley Hotel Trust (Charles R. Sturgis, Trustee) to the designs of Codman and Despradelle, by Edward Gilbert and Company of Philadelphia, builders. Its terra cotta was supplied by the Atlantic Terra Cotta Company of New York City.

Contemporary accounts of 1905 referred to "The new building at Boylston and Berkely Street, a subject of hot discussion . . . no commercial building erected in Boston has in all probability ever excited more heated discussion than the Berkeley Galleries now nearly completed at the corner of Boylston and Berkeley streets. . . . a case in which the disagreement is simply among artistic doctors."

The first tenants of the building were businesses such as the Pelton Piano Company, Sampler Corsets, and Louis H. Werner Furs. Other shops included art wares, jewelry, and gowns.

Architectural Significance

The Berkeley Building is of major architectural significance as an outstanding work of Stephen Codman and Constant Desire Despradelle. It is a distinguished example of a Beaux Arts Style, gracefully ornamented steel frame, terra cotta-clad commercial building which retains a high degree of intactness and is one of Boston's most notable commercial buildings of the early twentieth century.

The Berkeley Building is also among the city's best examples of the use of architectural terra cotta, a kiln-fired clay building material which came into use in the United States after the Civil War. Its first use on a large scale was in the old Boston Museum of Fine Arts in Copley Square (1870-71) by Sturgis and Brigham.

Authors Nancy D. Berryman and Susan M. Tindall have noted the following: "Terra cotta cladding was extremely popular from the 1890s through the first third of the twentieth century. It sheathed the early skyscrapers of the Chicago School of Architecture, the set-back structures of the Art Deco Movement, the commercial buildings on neighborhoods and Main Street business strips and opulent movie palaces. It was essential to the designs of architectural giants such as Adler and Sullivan; Burnham and Root; Holabird and Roche; Cass Gilbert. . . . The material was also mass produced and ornament, available from catalogues, appears of thousands of small commercial and residential buildings."

The popularity of terra cotta can be attributed in part to its fireproof nature, durability and aesthetic potential. Standardized production techniques allowed architects to incorporate intricate sculptural detailing at a fraction of the cost of carved stone. Glazed (or enameled) terra cotta o the type used on the Berkeley Building reached the height of its popularity during the period from about 1890 to 1915, after which it was gradually replaced by cast stone. Those terra cotta buildings which remain, particularly fine examples such as the Berkeley Building, are testimony to the interdependence of design, craftsmanship, and building technology.

Terra cotta was first used in this country in its natural dark reddish-brown color as ornament in conjunction with brick and brownstone, especially in the late nineteenth century's Queen Anne and Richardsonian Romanesque architectural styles, where the material was an integral part of the load-bearing masonry unit. In 1873 terra cotta tiles were first used in Chicago as for fire-proofing a metal frame building. Its third, and most visible use, was as an exterior surface material when anchoring systems had been devised to join terra cotta wall and decorative units to metal structural frames. As tastes in architectural design shifted toward the end of the century, influenced by the 1893 World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago, light colored wall surfaces became popular. Terra cotta could be executed in the rich sculptural effects desired for Beaux Arts styles and in a variety of colors depending on the clays and glazes used. The Berkeley Building's design is a reflection of the structural and aesthetic patterns made possible by these new technologies.

The Beaux Arts style takes its name from the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris, which during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries was unrivaled in reputation among schools of architecture. The first two Americans to attend, Richard Morris Hunt and Henry Hobson Richardson, set the example for succeeding generations of architects, particularly in the period from 1890 to 1930. By the turn of the century, the profession was dominated by men who had trained at the Ecole.

Training at the Ecole emphasized the traditional and monumental. As explained by architectural historian William Jordy, the aim of Beaux Arts composition was to achieve "a stable harmony dependent on an emphasis on mass." Plans were typically symmetrical, and masses were generally bounded along the ground level, sides, and cornice of a structure. The Beaux Arts aesthetic emphasized the use of traditional forms. According to Jordy, the Ecole taught that "the past provided vocabularies of form and compositional themes from which the present should learn"; in other words, that "current design should be evolutionary rather than revolutionary."

Results of the Boston Landmarks Commission's 1980 Central Business District Survey reveal extant commercial buildings with terra cotta trim in conjunction with other materials (often brick) dating from the early 1890s. The earliest identified is the 1892 building at 146-154 Lincoln (Winslow & Wetherell, architects). The Worthington Building (1894; Fehmer and Page; 31-33 State Street) employs terra cotta in combination with tan brick and limestone, while Cass Gilbert's Second Brazer Building (1896; 25-29 State Street) is entirely faced with terra cotta above the second story. A particularly outstanding use of terra cotta is found in the Proctor Building, 100-106 Bedford (1896-7, Winslow and Wetherell; a Boston Landmark). Survey statistics show terra cotta in use through the 1920s and as late as 1932 (119-123 Causeway; insensitively remodeled) in the city.

Design characteristics similar to the Berkeley Building are found in the terra cotta Blake Building of 1908 (485-499 Washington Street, A. H. Bowditch, architect), which originally had large-windowed lower stories, projecting oriels, tri-partite window schemes, and an elaborate crowning parapet with finials defining bay divisions. The Little Building, 74-94 Boylston Street, designed by Blackall, Clapp and Whittemore was built in 1915-17 and is faced with cast stone and features similar elements.

Constant Desire Despradelle (1862-1912) was a highly esteemed French architect trained at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris, who began teaching in 1893 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In the article "Master Draftsman," Pencil Points Francis S. Swales noted Despradelle's recognition "of the artistic value of the vertical characteristic of the American type of office building construction." The Architectural Record in 1913 included discussion of the memorial exhibition held that year. About one of Despradelle's skyscraper drawings, author Frank A. Bourne commented that the architect "always insisted that this was one of the conditions of skyscraper design — practically to put a building on a plate glass base with as much circulation at the ground level as possible; this characteristic is found in the mercantile buildings which he designed." This aspect of design is certainly seen in the Berkeley Building.

Following Despradelle's death, an article in the Institute's Technology Review included the following account of his career:

Constant Desire Despradelle was born in Chaumont, France, May 20, 1862. After a thorough academic preparation he entered the Ecole des Beaux Arts, Paris, at the age of twenty, where he was admitted first among 140 candidates. From 1882 to 1889 he was a student of architecture at that great national school of the Atelier Pascal. From the beginning his progress was marked with brilliant successes. In 1884 he was awarded the Prix de la Societe Centrale des Architectes Francais, and in the same year he won the famous, Rougevin, Deschaumes, Eduard Labarre, and Bouwens prizes. In 1886 he received the diploma, Architecte Diplome de Gouvernement, familiarly known as the A.D.G. In the Concours de Rome of 1889 he took the highest rank, with the title Premier Second Grand Prix de Rome. In this same year he became Lauréat de l'Institut de France.

Next followed a period of continental travel, after which M. Despradelle was appointed assistant architectural inspector for the French Government. He soon became inspector, and later collaborator of Public Buildings and National Palaces, with headquarters in Paris. In this last capacity he was employed upon numerous important edifices, such as the Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce, the National Library, the Bank of France, the residence of President Grevy, etc. In the midst of this busy life he still maintained an active interest in the Ecole des Beaux Arts, and in the Institut de France, taking part in the higher grades of their academic competitions.

His career was thus already well founded by notable achievement when, in response to a call to further the progress of his art and profession by teaching here the educational methods developed in his own country, he left France to accept the position of Rotch professor of architecture at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He came here in 1893, and in the past nineteen years he devoted himself to instruction in architecture, maintaining at the same time active practice of his profession in his new environment.

Even while in America the French government followed his career with satisfaction, for in 1899 Professor Despradelle was made Officier d'Academie. In 1900 he was awarded the first gold medal of the Paris Salon for the design of a monument, the "Beacon of Progress," to glorify the American nation. The award of this medal placed him "hors concours," and two drawings of this design were purchased by the government for the Luxembourg — a rare honor for an architect. In this same year, 1900, he was made Of-ficier de l'Instruction Publique. In 1910 he was elected Membre Correspondant de l'Institut de France, Academie des Beaux Arts, one of the highest honors that can be conferred by France.

In the practice of his profession in America he was also the recipient of many honors. In 1899 he received one of the first awards of the Phoebe Hearst Competition for the University of California, and later he was made a member of its permanent board of advisers. In 1901 he was appointed consulting architect of the new building of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. In collaboration with his partner, Mr. Stephen Codman, he designed numerous private buildings, factories, office buildings, hospitals, etc., and won among recent competitions of importance that for the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston (constructed 1911-1913, Huntington Avenue, at Brigham Circle). As an architect his talent was unusually fertile and original, with a quality of noble poetry which is found expressed with such art and cultured skill in his "Beacon of Progress," as to place this work in the first rank of truly great architectural conception.

In 1910 his great ability as a teacher coupled with his high professional training brought him the appointment of Special Lecturer on Architectural Design at Harvard University.

Despradelle also served in an advisory capacity for the Museum of Fine Arts (architect, Guy Lowell), the design for the location of MIT's new buildings in Cambridge, and Harvard Library (in collaboration with C. A. Coolidge and Guy Lowell).

Stephen R. H. Codman was a Harvard graduate who came from a prominent Boston family, who "despite his great wealth has devoted his time and talent to architecture and studied at home and abroad." City Directories indicate he was a partner with Arthur W. Wheelwright in 1893, and with Despradelle 1906-1944. He was also listed individually during the years 1894-1911 and 1924-1936. Codman designed buildings at 105-119 Merrimac, 134-142 Portland, 81-83 Essex Streets (Pelham Building, 1899) and 7-11 Merchants Row in the Central Business District. In addition to the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the partnership of Codman and Despradelle was responsible for the design of the industrial building at 216-246 Causeway Street. Relationship to the Criteria for Landmark Designation:

The Berkeley Building clearly meets the criteria for landmark designation as established by section 4 of chapter 772 of the Acts of 1975 in that it is of distinguished architectural design, embodying distinctive characteristics of a type inherently valuable for study of the Beaux Arts period and style, and method of employing terra cotta construction, and as a notable work by an internationally recognized architect.

CONTRACTS AWARDED AFTER ADVERTISING

("Requests for Proposals")

("Technically Deficient Bids")

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT

Catheters, etc.

Dear Sir,

An invitation for bids, Proposal No. 902, to furnish IV Catheters and Solution Room Supplies to the Department of Health and Hospitals was advertised in the City Record on March 20, 1989.

Bids were publicly opened and read on April 13, 1989. Thirty-nine companies were solicited and nineteen companies responded to the invitation to bid.

A technically defective bid was received from the following vendor, who submitted the lowest acceptable bid meeting specifications at prices I consider to be reasonable, in that the vendor submitted a late bid with the Purchasing Department at Boston City Hospital.

Amicon Division, W.R. Grace & Co., 24 Cherry Hill Drive, Danvers, MA 01923, $7,200.

Therefore, because it is in the best interest of the City, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals, I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract, without further advertising, to this vendor. The contract amount is an approximate figure based on estimated volume. The contract period is from July 1, 1989, through June 30, 1990.

Very truly yours,

Judith Kurland,
Commissioner.

JOBS AND COMMUNITY SERVICES

GED, etc.

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Ecumenical Social Action Committee, Inc., a non-profit corporation, located at 3134 Washington Street, Jamaica Plain. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide General Equivalency Diploma (GED) instruction coupled with job readiness training and job placement services for approximately forty (40) City of Boston high school dropouts.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989 and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, if applicable. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in November of 1988. Citizen participation was crucial, for during the period from January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989, eleven (11) neighborhood meetings were held across the entire City, and a JCS-sponsored task force of program operators was also selected from the alternative education system to solicit community involvement and input in determining funding priorities.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $88,603, payment being made from funds received under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This Contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87 — $80,680; FY 88 — $80,680; FY 89 — $82,526. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the time involved in the funding review process. The submission of this request has been further delayed due to the time involved in contract and budget negotiations.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Federated Dorchester Neighborhood Houses, Inc., a non-profit corporation, located at 985 Dorchester Avenue, Dorchester. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide alternative educational services leading to a General Equivalency Diploma (GED) and job placement services for approximately fourteen (14) City of Boston high school dropouts.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, if applicable. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in November of 1988. Citizen participation was crucial, for during the period from January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989, eleven (11) neighborhood meetings were held across the entire City, and a JCS-sponsored task force of program operators was also selected from the alternative education system to solicit community involvement and input in determining funding priorities.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $25,116, payment being made from set aside for the Alternative Education Initiative. The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87 — $13,750; FY 88 — $25,116; FY 89 — $25,116. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the late notification of availability of school department funds. The final court decision which secured alternative education initiative (AEI) funds for the City was reached on August 2, 1989. At that point, JCS was notified to proceed with the processing of contracts. The submission of this contract has been further delayed due to the time involved in contract and budget negotiations.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Boston Chinese Youth Essential Services, a non-profit corporation, located at 199 Harrison Avenue, Boston. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide alternative educational services leading to a General Equivalency Diploma (GED) and job placement services for approximately fifteen (15) City of Boston high school dropouts.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the Contractor's performance over the past two (2) years under other JCS contracts. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in November of 1988. Citizen participation was crucial, for during the period from January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989, eleven (11) neighborhood meetings were held across the entire City, and a JCS-sponsored task force of program operators was also selected from the alternative education system to solicit community involvement and input in determining funding priorities.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $32,670, payment being made from funds set aside for the Alternative Education Initiative. The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the late notification of availability of school department funds. The final court decision which secured alternative education initiative (AEI) funds for the City was reached on August 25, 1989. At that point, JCS was notified to proceed with the processing of contracts. The submission of this contract has been further delayed due to the time involved in contract and budget negotiations.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Haitian Multi-Service Center, a non-profit corporation, located at 12 Bicknell Road, Dorchester. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide English-as-a-Second Language (ESL) and General Equivalency Diploma (GED) instruction to approximately fifteen (15) Haitian adults.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, if applicable. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in October of 1988, and involved much citizen participation. The staff of the Adult Literacy Division at JCS conducted extensive research into current adult basic education needs by studying existing data, conducting a needs assessment survey of seventy-five (75) program operators, and participating in eleven (11) neighborhood meetings held across the entire City during the period of January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989. This active solicitation of community involvement and input in determining funding priorities culminated in a City-wide hearing held on February 15, 1989. Notice of this hearing was published in the Boston Sunday Globe on February 5, 1989, and the City Record on February 6, 1989. A mailing was also sent to over eighty (80) program operators.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $21,000, payment being made from funds received from the State's Department of Public Welfare (DPW). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87 — $65,139; FY 88 — $85,000; FY 89 — $85,000. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the late notification of funding availability from the State, a direct result of the State's recent budget woes. Due to prolonged budget negotiations between the DPW and DET following the conclusion of the FY 90 State budgetary process, and subsequent negotiations between the City and DET, JCS did not receive information required to proceed with contracts until July 28, 1989. The submission of this request has been further delayed due to the time involved in contract and budget negotiations.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

In addition, counseling and support services will be provided.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $73,800, payment being made from funds received from the State's Department of Education (DOE). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989 until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87-$58,384; FY 88-$70,000; FY 89-$70,000. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the late notification of funding availability from the State, a direct result of the State's recent budget woes. JCS did not receive information required to proceed with contracts until August 7, 1989.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Boston Common. America's oldest public park (approximately 50 acres) was set aside in 1634 as a military "traying" ground and common pasture land. The Common is popular for concerts, events, civil protests, neighborhood baseball games and various special activities. Across Charles Street, bounded by Arlington, Boylston and Beacon Streets is the Public Garden, the nation's oldest botanical garden. The man-made lagoon, framed by tidy lawns and formal flower gardens, contain more than 750 trees and shrubs — consisting of 125 different species — and is the site of Boston's famous Swan Boats (open through September), which have taken passengers around the pond since 1877. APPROPRIATION OF $355,200,000 FOR GENERAL
SCHOOL PURPOSES FOR FY90

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 26, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I retransmit herewith an appropriation order, in the amount of $355,200,000, for General School Purposes for FY90, submitted pursuant to the provisions of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, as amended by chapter 190 of the Acts of 1982, as further amended by chapter 701 of the Acts of 1986 and chapter 613 of the Acts of 1987.

This requested appropriation for the Boston School Department represents a $12.6 million or 3.7 percent increase over the current fiscal year appropriation. When combined with discretionary revenue this appropriation will support an authorized spending level of $362 million. The Department projects another $45 million will be available in categorical grant funds, for a total operating budget of $407 million for FY90.

The appropriation will provide $2.1 million in repair and maintenance funding, in conjunction with the recommendations of the Maintenance Improvement Program. In addition, the City of Boston has committed $164.8 million in capital improvements for school facilities.

The appropriation will support the implementation of the Student Assignment Plan initiatives, thus providing parental choice and fostering educational equality.

The appropriation, while fiscally prudent, reflects my continued commitment to protect public education from the severe cuts in local aid funds. I respectfully ask your support for this appropriation of $355.2 million for the Boston School Department for FY90.

Sincerely,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Ordered, That pursuant to chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, as amended by chapter 190 of the Acts of 1982, and as further amended by chapter 701 of the Acts of 1986 and chapter 613 of the Acts of 1987, to meet the current operating expenses of the School Department in the fiscal period commencing July 1, 1989, and ending June 30, 1990, the sum of $355,200,000 be, and the same herby is, appropriated, said sum to be raised by taxation pursuant to section 23 of chapter 59 of the General Laws:-
School Department, $355,200,000.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATION AND TAX ORDERS
FOR FY 1990

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 26, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith my proposed amended FY1990 Operating Budget for the City of Boston and the County of Suffolk.

This budget recommends appropriation levels which are supported by available revenues of $1.301 billion as recommended to you on April 12. It represents the fifth consecutive balanced budget for the City of Boston.

Unfortunately, actions to date by the State Legislature have not provided any relief from the reduction in local aid projected in the budget submitted to you in April. I note that the City Council's Committee on Ways and Means recognized the appropriateness of the total level of planned expenditures, given available revenues for FY90.

This budget represents my priorities for the City of Boston — funding to maintain FY89 service levels within the Police and Fire Departments, increased appropriations to the Suffolk County Jail and the Penal Department to respond to increased number of inmates, and increases over FY89 funding to the Department of Health and Hospitals and the School Department. Given the failure of the Commonwealth to adequately fund local aid, most other city departments still face reductions from FY89 appropriation levels.

The enclosed budget differs from that submitted on April 12th in five areas. First, I am increasing appropriations to the Community Schools Division by $545,000. Funds are added to expand the number of staff working directly with at risk youth at the neighborhood level and to provide additional support to the Peer Leader program. I am also recommending increasing the number of City sponsored summer jobs for Boston youth. It is only through a range of efforts including summer jobs, street workers, increased volunteer work, and focused police activities that we can deal effectively with the needs of our young people. Finally, funds are appropriated to support a multi-year effort to provide additional services to residents of the City's public housing.

The appropriation to the Boston Public Library is increased by $1.457 million, to bring the total Library appropriation to $19,957,300. These additional funds will fully support the department's request for branch library staff, thereby allowing the Library to increase the number of hours the branches are open in FY90 and to restore the cuts proposed by the Trustees for the coming year. School visits by librarians can nearly double, the Adult Literacy Center at the Dudley Branch can be opened, and West Roxbury can become a fourth library district. The increase includes an additional $395,000 which can be used for books, films, and periodicals (more than twice the required statutory match for book purchases), and $165,000 for maintenance, repairs, supplies, and equipment.

Since FY86 we have increased the budget for the Boston Public Library system by more than 70 percent. In addition, we have mounted the largest capital improvement program the Library has experienced in decades. In light of this continued commitment of financial resources, at a time when the Commonwealth is increasingly shifting its fiscal priorities away from cities and towns, it is appropriate that Library officials take steps to generate internal savings in administrative areas in order to allocate more funds to neighborhood-based services.

An additional $400,000 is added to the Department of Health and Hospitals for medical supplies. The growing number of AIDS patients will put particular demands on this account.

There is a $180,000 increase in the appropriation to the Department of Inspectional Services in order to maintain some of the positions which were deleted as part of the overall plan to cope with reductions in local aid. These positions are reinstated to reflect the priority which I place on maintaining basic building and health inspection services to protect the health and safety of Boston residents.

Finally, a total of $130,000 is added to the Auditing and Treasury Departments to help maintain the City's fiscal management staff. Given the serious financial constraints facing the City, I must insure that resources are available to responsibly manage City funds.

The enclosed budget contains deletions in two accounts. First, the Public Works Department budget is reduced by $2 million because the actual cost of the collection portion of the City's sanitation contracts will be lower than was estimated when the April 12th budget was prepared. As you know, cost of the disposal portion of this contract was established shortly before April 12 and some corresponding adjustments were made at that time.

In addition, the amount set aside for debt service has been reduced by $712,000. A review of the City's borrowing needs in FY90 assures me that the funds remaining in this account should be adequate to cover our debt service obligations.

It is unfortunate that more funds have not become available from the Commonwealth to support basic services provided by cities and towns. Despite the increases noted above, the great majority of City agencies and departments will have appropriations below FY89 levels in the coming year.

We have accomplished a great deal both in establishing sound financial management practices, as evidenced by five increases in the City's bond rating, and in making a broad range of measurable improvements in City programs and services. I will not jeopardize these accomplishments by ignoring the fiscal constraints that we face in the coming year. Until the Commonwealth recognizes both the fundamental need for basic municipal services and the legal constraints on our ability to increase City revenues, we must make those cuts in City appropriations necessary to protect the financial integrity to the City of Boston.

I respectfully submit this budget proposal to the City Council.

Sincerely,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor.

ORDER APPLYING FOR $1,000,000 IN UDAG FUNDS FOR 80 DUDLEY STREET OFFICE BUILDING PROJECT

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 27, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I attach herewith for your approval an order authorizing the City to apply for approximately $1,000,000 in Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) funds to assist in the 80 Dudley Street Office Building project. The project consists of the development of 26,568 square feet of office space in the building located at 80 Dudley Street, Roxbury (formerly, the Boys' Club).

The Dudley Square Business District has experienced three decades of decline, substantial disinvestment, high vacancy rates, and little new private investment in recent years. The City has a Dudley Square Business District revitalization program. A goal of this revitalization program is the investment in vacant and substantially deteriorated buildings. This project would redevelop one of the vacant buildings.

The developer, Cruz Development Corporation, has identified a gap between the projected development costs and the mortgage attainable from private sources. To fill this gap, additional funds will be required in the form of a UDAG, not to exceed $1,000,000, from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The UDAG will allow the City to reach several important goals:

- It will encourage private development in the Dudley Square Business District.
- It will redevelop a vacant and deteriorated building.
- It will create new construction and permanent jobs.
- It will be an important sign of the area's ability to attract significant private investment and thus spur additional development in the neighborhood.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order so that the development of this project will be possible.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1977 contains provisions for the funding of urban development programs under the Urban Development Action Grant Program (UDAG); and

Whereas, the Dudley Square Business District has experienced three decades of decline, substantial disinvestment, high vacancy rates, and little new private investment; and

Whereas, the City has a Dudley Square Business District revitalization program; and

Whereas, a goal of the Dudley Square Business District revitalization program is the investment in vacant and substantially deteriorated buildings; and

Whereas, public assistance is necessary to leverage private funds; and

Whereas, Cruz Development Corporation has proposed to develop 26,568 square feet of office space in the former Boys' Club building located at 80 Dudley Street, Roxbury; and

Whereas, Cruz Development Corporation requires UDAG funding not to exceed $1,000,000 to carry out this project; and

Whereas, the Boston Redevelopment Authority will administer the proposed UDAG; and

Whereas, the Mayor has submitted to the City Council an application for this project; now, therefore, be it

Ordered: That the Mayor, acting on behalf of the City of Boston, be and hereby is, authorized to apply for financial assistance to the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1977 (P. L. 95-128), as amended, for an Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) in the amount of not more than $1,000,000 to make feasible the 80 Dudley Street Office Building project, and in connection therewith to execute and deliver such documents as may be required by the federal government and to act as representative of the City of Boston in connection with said application.

Referred to the Committee on Planning and Development.

Committee on Ways and Means

Report on Docket No. 0929

FY90 Annual Appropriation and Tax Order

Both Boston and the Commonwealth have enjoyed unparalleled prosperity and economic well being over the past several years. In less than a year, however, the Commonwealth has gone from a position of surplus to that of unprecedented deficit. The State's revenue shortfall has resulted in a severe cut back of local aid. Cities and towns that have relied on local aid for a significant percentage of their operating budgets in the past, must now reduce or eliminate services. Thirty seven percent of Boston's budget in FY '89 was supported by local aid dollars which helped fund many established and vital services. The reduction of direct local aid to Boston, coupled with cut backs in other state grants and reimbursements, places significant constraints on the City's spending in FY '90. Nonetheless, the Administration has successfully presented its fifth consecutive balanced budget.

The Mayor's original submission cut deeply into several departments. The Committee agreed with the budget parameters in total. However, based on testimony from residents in the nine Council Districts and on information gathered during fifty-six departmental budget hearings, the Committee determined that resources should be reallocated to address certain critical needs more adequately. Community Schools, Libraries, Health and Hospitals, and the Inspectional Services Department were clearly underfunded and would not be able to provide the services that are imperative. The Committee recommended that the proposed budget be sent back to the Mayor for revision.

The Administration and the Committee, working together, have negotiated revisions which address these issues. Community Schools, originally slated for a $75,000 cut, has been allocated an additional $545,000. The revised budget will ensure the viability of existing youth outreach programs and allow the hiring of additional outreach workers. The Library budget has also been revised. The addition of $1.4 million over the Mayor's original submission will maintain the level of service now being provided in the branches. ISD was allocated an additional $180,000 that will be used to restore health inspector positions. Health and Hospitals has been allocated an additional $400,000 to cover some of the cost of supplies.

Health care for the poor and uninsured will be the most visible victim of the State's fiscal crisis. The Department of Health and Hospitals will be forced to operate under very tight fiscal controls. However, many services must be provided for the City's residents — services which cannot be cut and, in some cases, may need expanding. The Committee expects to work closely with the Administration to continue to seek needed additional funds for the Hospitals. Possible sources of revenue which may be used for this purpose have been noted in a following section of this report. The Committee urges the Administration to take these options under immediate consideration.

Although the Committee is satisfied that the current appropriations are adequate to meet basic service and program needs through the next fiscal year, there are several issues that need to be raised. Since the city must learn to do more with less, practices that will help to manage available resources more efficiently must be stressed. We should begin to see results from the new management performance program with better management systems and more sophisticated use of technology in place. The Committee offers the following observations and recommendations.

Health and Hospitals

Commissioner Kurland has testified before the Committee on the severe underfunding of the Health and Hospital Department for FY90. The Committee is aware that downsizing of the Department is necessary to obtain FHA financing for the new Boston City Hospital. The Department was to follow a five year plan to reach the level of staffing required by the FHA. However, the level of funding currently before the Council will force the Commissioner to go beyond the cuts necessary for that downsizing and reduce the current level of service delivery to a point that may be unacceptable.

The Committee is recommending at this time that the City close the books as soon after June 30th as possible in order to determine if there will be any free cash to be certified that would then become available for appropriation. The Committee also urges the Administration to examine thoroughly all non-specific reserve accounts and to re-examine the debt service account for any amounts that may be available for transfers.

In addition to the sources referred to above, the Administration should consider targeting the surplus in the Tregor Excise Fund, when it is determined, to the Health and Hospitals budget. The Council would be more than willing to consider a supplemental appropriation that would restore some of the services slated for cuts. The Department should be allowed to defer layoffs in those service areas, in order of priority, that may have a chance of restoration if monies become available for a supplemental.

The Committee also urges the Mayor to target any funds that may be transferred to the Mayoral Reallocation Account to Health and Hospitals.

Cost Saving Measures

The Committee is recommending that the following cost saving measures be applied immediately to the FY90 budget. The items targeted are non-essential and although the measures may generate only a small savings when compared with the entire budget, they show an effort to reduce non-essential spending. The Committee will monitor related expenditures and will hold a hearing after the first quarter to review compliance with each recommendation.

Out-of-State Travel.

All out-of-state travel accounts should be frozen unless the travel is considered vital, e.g., travel to Washington that may be necessary for the FHA financing for the new Boston City Hospital. Although we may all agree that conferences and seminars are helpful to department heads and staff, they are not always necessary and can be eliminated without affecting service delivery.

Vehicles.

Vehicles, except for those relating to public safety, should not be assigned to departments and/or specific personnel. The Transportation Department should maintain a motor pool sufficient to cover requests for warranted travel using City vehicles.

Furniture and Equipment.

All accounts should be frozen with purchases to be made, upon approval of the Mayor, only for those items considered necessary for the safety or proper job performance of employees.

Contractual Services.

The Committee is also recommending that the use of personal service contracts for legal work and consulting services be reviewed.

Legal Counsel.

The Committee stresses again this year that the use of contracts for lawyers in various departments should be looked at more closely. The City's Law Department should include some specialized attorneys who can handle issues that are unique to the City, but can be expected to recur.

Consulting

The Administration should also rethink its use of consultants for research and management reports. Contracts for reports that will not be used, such as the Lynch, Ryan report on workman's compensation, appear to be a waste of the taxpayers' money. Other contracts seem to include services that should be performed by departmental staff.

During the hearing held on the FY90 budget request for the Policy Office, the Committee was informed that a personal service contract was awarded to a consultant who follows State legislation. The City currently has a whole division — Intergovernmental Relations — whose duties include tracking and reporting on legislation.

A recent request for proposals sent out by the Assessing Department includes in the scope of work to be provided "the compilation and presentation of descriptive statistics for various reports on property taxes" and "the formulation, preparation and pursuit of state legislation affecting assessing policies and procedures." These and other services being requested in the RFP, are duties that should be performed by City personnel.

Overtime Expenditures

During the past five years, overtime spending by City and County departments has increased by 62 percent (See Graph A). More than 90 percent of this spending is incurred by five departments (See Graph B). Despite these staggering overtime costs, only one of these five departments lists overtime containment as a priority for FY90 in the objectives outlined in the budget proposal.

Although overtime spending can often be a cost effective alternative to the hiring of permanent personnel, the Committee is of the opinion that some City departments rely too heavily on overtime. Changes in the role and responsibility of some departments have not been met with changes in workers' schedules to accommodate weekend and off-hours work. For example, the responsibilities of the Transportation Department have increased in recent years, but schedules have not reflected the need for non-traditional shifts and overtime has increased by over 500 percent since FY85. It is clear from information provided at these hearings that the City of Boston has no consistent overtime policy.

The rising cost of overtime prompted the Boston Municipal Research Bureau (MRB) to investigate Boston's overtime spending and a report was issued in December of 1988. The MRB made a number of recommendations, none of which have been implemented by the City. One notable exception to the increasing overtime spending is the Penal Department. Through a combination of changes in shifts and tighter approval procedures, the Penal Department has been able to reduce overtime spending by 13 percent in the past five years and will end FY89 with a surplus in the overtime account. The Committee commends the Penal Department for its efforts and wholeheartedly endorses the recommendations made by the MRB. The Committee believes that implementation of those recommendations, combined with implementation of the Committee's workers' compensation recommendations will enable the City to contain overtime costs.

The Office of Budget and Program Evaluation (OBPE) should establish a set of control variables, such as overtime as a percentage of salary to identify excessive spending.

The Administration should seek more flexibility in scheduling employees for off-hours and weekend work on a straight time basis. These efforts should be coordinated through the Office of Labor Relations to ensure that changes in schedules do not conflict with collective bargaining agreements. In addition, flexible schedules should be negotiated in future collective bargaining agreements.

Management systems which track overtime spending by function and program should be implemented. These management systems should include changes in overtime approval procedures.

The Administration should develop and implement an automated, mainframe resource system that would be able to capture overtime and other salary expenses by program and type on a more timely basis. The system should be able to pay an employee for overtime worked on a weekly basis.

Overtime Appropriations FY'86 - FY'90

B

Departmental Overtime As % Of Total FY'90 Requested Overtime

Workmen's Compensation

Departmental appropriations (excluding School Department) for workers' compensation have increased by 112 percent since FY87 (See Graph C). Over 80 percent of the City's workers' compensation costs are incurred by five departments (See Graph D). In addition, past budget requests for workers' compensation have not been adequate to cover claims, requiring transfers of funds from other accounts. For example, during the past two fiscal years, FY88 and FY89, workers' compensation expenditures have exceeded appropriations by 59.7 percent and 41.4 percent, respectively (See Graph E).

The Office of Budget and Program Evaluation (OBPE) and the Workmen's compensation Service commissioned a study of the City's workers' compensation system in an attempt to contain these spiraling costs. The study, completed by Lunch, Ryan and Associates, Inc., included a number of recommendations to improve the cost effectiveness of the current system. During the budget hearing the Committee learned that none of the Lynch, Ryan recommendations are contained in the FY90 budget proposal. The Committee finds this lack of action unacceptable and recommends that the following measures, outlined in the Lynch, Ryan study, be implemented as soon as possible.

Office of Personnel Management's Managing Attendance Program should be revised to include all lost time due to injuries. In addition, injury reporting should be consistent with OSHA reporting requirements so that accurate comparisons may be made with other states, cities and industries.

Office of Personnel Management should develop a city-wide, on-site training program for employees and supervisors on accident prevention.

Workmen's Compensation Service should aggressively promote temporary limited duty for those workers who are able.

Office of Labor Relations should work with those unions which have provisions for safety committees on the creation of such committees if they do not currently exist. In addition, the Office of Labor Relations should work with individual departments to ensure that scheduling of light duty assignments does not conflict with collective bargaining agreements.

Each department should designate an individual from existing staff to serve as its workers' compensation administrator.

Workman's Compensation Service should develop an on-line case tracking system servicing its own claims administration staff as well as qualified personnel in other departments.

Workmen's Compensation Service should set targets for resolution of all open cases for which settlements are appropriate, and develop a strategy for resolving these cases in two to three years.

Implementation of the above measures, aimed at increasing coordination among the many departments that deal with workers' compensation claims and administration, will not only save the City money, but will better enable department managers to estimate workers' compensation costs during the budget preparation process.

Collective Bargaining

A significant percent of the City's operating budget is driven by the provisions of collective bargaining agreements for the various unions. Over the past several years, the Administration has negotiated a number of generous multi-year contracts that obliged the City to fund large personnel increases over three years. The Committee is of the firm opinion that now is the time to refine the entire negotiation process in order for the Administration to make more informed decisions on the long-term implications of contract provisions.

To that end, the Committee recommends that:

1. The Administration move toward negotiating all union contracts in the same year and for the same periods of time.
2. The Administration has contracts in place when a new budget is being prepared so that the incremental costs may be provided for in the tax order, and not in a supplemental appropriation.

These measures would permit the Administration to determine more accurately the total effects of all collective bargaining over the terms of the contracts, and to predict more closely if all contracts can, in fact, be supported over multi-year periods.

The Committee further recommends that the Administration seek to negotiate provisions that could reduce overtime and other additional costs. For example, substituting non-traditional work hours for regular work shifts in departments that warrant such a change, and ensuring that extra provisions such as travel allowances are both reasonable and necessary may contain costs of agreements.

Agreements should be fair. However, it is equally important that the cost of collective bargaining agreements be realistic given the current fiscal restraints. Again, the Committee stresses the importance of a multi-year revenue and expenditure forecast as a critical factor in the collective bargaining process.

Consolidation of City Services

With cutbacks in state aid to the City of Boston, it is essential that City services be provided in the most cost effective manner as possible. Information contained in the FY90 budget proposal and information provided by department managers during the budget hearing process leads the Committee to believe that consolidation of some City services is warranted.

The Committee recognizes that the work of the Human Rights, Fair Housing and Womens Commissions as well as the linguistic minority and gay and lesbian liaisons in the Office of Neighborhood Services is essential to ensure that all of Boston's residents are afforded equal opportunities for employment and housing. A new umbrella agency, protecting Bostonians from harassment and discrimination in housing and employment, would enable the City to focus its efforts more closely on these problems. It is also possible that this new agency would be able to receive additional funding from outside sources because of its broadened mandate.

The Committee urges the Administration to explore the creation of such an umbrella agency and report its findings to the Council within three months.

The Committee found extensive duplication of effort in the Offices of Neighborhood Services. Many of the objectives outlined in Neighborhood Services' FY90 budget proposal are identical or very similar to the objectives of other departments such as Public Facilities, Public Works, Real Property and Transportation. The Committee believes that much of the work which is presently performed by neighborhood liaisons should be done by staff in other City departments. Neighborhood liaisons cannot and should not be expected to be able to speak as experts on the countless issues which affect Boston's neighborhoods. The Committee urges that staff in the departments responsible for the delivery of basic city services, such as Public Works, Transportation and Parks and Recreation, should become more involved and not rely on Neighborhood Services as heavily as they have in the past. The Committee suggests that representatives from the major City departments schedule monthly meetings in the neighborhoods to answer residents' questions and address their concerns.

The Committee will continue to investigate those areas where duplication of effort exists and make recommendations to the Administration when it deems necessary.

Legislative Remedies

Health Insurance

The Committee urges the Administration to fully support legislation designed that would require cities and towns to provide an equal percentage payment of premiums, not an equal dollar amount. The 75 percent — 25 percent payment split on Blue Cross premiums has forced the City to cover almost all of the cost of HMO premiums since those premiums are almost equal to 75 percent of the Blue Cross premiums. This results in virtually no contribution from the younger, and for the most part, healthier employees who usually choose HMO plans. The change to the equal percentage coverage would allow for contributions from those on HMO plans and would ease some of the strain put on the operating budget by escalating health insurance costs.

Contract Bid Limit

The Committee on Ways and Means has been working on a home rule petition to increase the current $2,000 no bid limit to $10,000. Meeting were held to obtain input from the School Department, Contract Management, Purchasing, the Law Department and the Municipal Research Bureau. The project came to a standstill when agreement could not be reached on what restrictions should be included in the law. The Committee, with the local aid crisis, then found it necessary to focus all of its attention on the FY90 budget. However, the project will continue into the summer and a home rule petition will be submitted to the full Council before the end of the first quarter of FY90.

Extended Court Hours

In the battle to gain more control over escalating Police Department overtime, which is, in part, due to the amount of time officers spend in court, the Administration should continue to push for evening and weekend court hours. Appropriate legislation should be filed at the State level and support for passage should be actively pursued.

State Mandates

The City should urge the State to review all mandates that must be carried out at the local level because they were in effect prior to the passage of chapter 580 of the Acts of 1980, and are therefore not reimbursable, and to end or make major changes in these mandates.

Capital Plan

The Committee recommends that the Administration include in its five-year capital plan a maintenance budget (and other effects on the operating budget) as well as the cost of a capital improvement. It is difficult to make capital investment decisions without knowing if maintenance of that investment can be supported over the long term. In some cases a capital project may result in reduced operating costs — that information should also be clearly provided with the capital plan.

Multi-Year Financial Forecasts

The Office of Budget and Program Evaluation (OBPE)

currently has the tools necessary to project revenue and expenditures in a multi-year forecast. A consultant (Data Resources, Inc.) was hired to produce a model that would allow such forecasting based on various assumptions.

A contract with DRI was included in the FY89 budget for "the maintenance and development of an integrated, detailed revenue and expenditure system"; the amount was $84,000. The FY90 budget submission includes a provision for a contract for "the development and maintenance of a revenue and expenditure modeling system" for $90,000.

The program budget submitted for OBPE for FY88 listed as one of its Program Three objectives "to support long-term operational planning by creating a multi-year revenue plan and updating it on a regular basis", and as the related criteria and promised level of service, a three year revenue forecast by October of 1987 with three updates during FY88. The same objective was listed for FY89 with a forecast completion date of March, 1989. During the hearings on that FY89 budget, the Committee was told by the budget director that OBPE was 70-80 percent toward completion of the project. To date, the Committee has not seen a multi-year forecast for the operating budget.

A number of cities and towns across the country are turning to multi-year resource allocation planning in order to budget more effectively. Again this year, the Committee strongly recommends that the City use its DRI contract more productively and begin to formally budget on a multi-year basis. Although no one can accurately project all future costs and revenues, the City should present multi-year projections based on certain assumptions, including an inflation factor and collective bargaining effects. The forecast should be analyzed periodically and revised annually. Collective bargaining agreements should be negotiated within the confines of the multi-year plan.

A multi-year operating budget forecast, when coupled with a multi-year capital plan and its effects on the operating budget, would allow the City to show more clearly where the priorities of the Administration lie and where resources will be allocated over the long-term. Such a presentation would allow the Council, and the general public as well, to look at a more clearly defined "big picture" and to have additional insight into what policies the Administration is committed to supporting financially. The Committee could also make more informed decisions when approving annual appropriations by knowing the projected effects of those appropriations on future years' budgets.

Fees and Fines

The fees and fines charged by various City departments were last updated in 1985. The Committee recommends that the City Council, in accordance with chapter 11 of the Ordinances of 1976 section 3, review all fees charged by various departments of the City every two years. In reviewing these fees the Council must evaluate the cost of the services rendered. The Committee will introduce legislation to require the Office of Budget and Program Evaluation to provide the Council biennially with an analysis of the costs incurred by these departments which would justify any alterations in these fees and charges.

BRA Surplus

It is only in the past few years that the BRA has not had to request a subsidy from the City for its operating budget. In view of this fact, the City should now turn to the BRA for assistance in dealing with the budget problems caused by the State's fiscal crisis. The Council commends the BRA for its $1M contribution for jobs for the youth of the City in FY90. However, considering that the BRA has generated a substantial reserve, the City should seek to come to an agreement with the Authority that would provide the City with some percentage share of a surplus resulting from operations in any one year.

Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILOTS)

Many of the world's finest universities, hospitals and museums are located in Boston. In addition, Boston is the Commonwealth's capital city and the largest city in New England, many federal, state and county offices are located in the City. Because Boston is home to so many religious, cultural, educational and medical facilities and government buildings, 51.6 percent of the land in Boston is exempt from property taxes (See Graph F). Although the entire Commonwealth benefits from these institutions, it is the City of Boston that must bear the financial burden of their tax exempt status.

The Committee commends the Administration for the increase in Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILOT) agreements. PILOT payments have increased significantly since 1984 (See Graph G). While much progress has been made, the City still loses almost four times as much revenue due to the tax exempt status of those institutions making PILOT payments as it collects through those PILOT agreements (See Graph H). If those institutions that do not make PILOT payments were included, the loss to the City would be many times greater. The Committee urges the Tax Exempt Property Steering Committee to pursue additional PILOT agreements.

A portion of the tax exempt land and property in the City of Boston is held by semi-autonomous agencies such as the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority and MassPort. Although MassPort makes annual payments in lieu of taxes to the City, some parcels owned by MassPort are leased to commercial enterprises. To remedy this, the Committee will draft and file legislation which will allow the City to tax public land leased for commercial purposes. The Turnpike Authority, which owns property in the City valued at $365,146,504, makes no payments in lieu of taxes. The Committee urges the Assessing Department to aggressively pursue a PILOT agreement with the Turnpike Authority.

Increasing the Role of the Council in the Budget Process Budget Resolution

With revenue restraints becoming tighter the Council should be playing an earlier and more active role in the formation of the operating budget. The Committee on Ways and Means will prepare a budget resolution this fall, to be submitted to the Mayor, to help establish priorities for the fiscal 1991 budget.

As the formation of the budget progresses, the Committee will follow up with meetings with the Administration's fiscal managers to determine if the budget resolution is being supported.

Neighborhood Hearings

The Committee on Ways and Means initiated the practice of neighborhood hearings during the FY90 budget review process. This process should be continued; however, the Committee will hold the hearings earlier in order to solicit public input before the formation of the FY91 budget is completed.

Budget Format

The Committee on Ways and Means recommends that the following format revisions be considered by OBPE:

Budget projections for the current year should be included for each department.

Current salaries should be shown for each position with the increases needed shown as additions.

A section showing a revenue history and projection should be included with the budget for those departments that are revenue producing.

External funds should be incorporated with such department's budget submission as opposed to being presented in a separate volume.

Objectives should be listed in order of priority for each program.

Couns. O'NEIL, KELLY, HENNIGAN CASEY, and BYRNE offered the following amendment:

TRINITY NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE

Historic Associations

Trinity Neighborhood House possesses historic significance to Boston in general and the East Boston community in particular. The building was apparently constructed as the home of Noah Sturtevant, a prominent early East Boston citizen. Trinity Neighborhood House has been a leader in providing social services to Boston residents since its establishment in 1881.

Noah Sturtevant purchased the lots which now comprise 406 Meridian Street in 1845, according to records in the Suffolk County Registry of Deeds, and apparently built the house by 1847 according to Boston Directory listings. As early as 1839 Noah and his brother, George, began investing in property in this part of East Boston which had previously been owned by the Boyden Malleable Cast Iron and Steel Company. First they turned this bankrupt operation into a sperm oil, candle and soap manufacturing factory, in a building located on the east side of Meridian between Eutaw and Trenton Streets. Soon, according to the Boston Directory, both brothers lived nearby. Noah moved to Eutaw Street by 1840 and George to 112 Meridian by 1841.

Meanwhile, several men were involved in property appraisal and stock sales for property of the Boyden Iron Company here and in New Jersey. The Suffolk County Registry of Deeds indicates several sales of shares involving at least one man, Ebenezer Atkins, who was a one-time business partner with the Sturtevant brothers (1840). The result of the activity was that these men got the property, including the factory building, and 500 feet of wharves, for a reduced price. In 1843, Noah Sturtevant and Company began manufacturing linseed oil on a small scale, according to W. H. Sumner in his History of East Boston (1858), although this business listing did not appear in the Boston Directory until 1846. Sumner claims the original 200 gallons/day linseed oil business had grown to one of the largest in the country, 2,200 gallons/day, by 1849. Also by that date, Noah Sturtevant had apparently acquired new partners, and by 1855, again according to directory listings, Noah was involved with Newell Sturtevant & Co., a coal business, and was no longer associated with the linseed oil company.

The Sturtevant brothers' activities in East Boston coincided with the beginning of East Boston's rapid development. In 1835, the population was only 697 with several dozen industries, including the Boyden iron foundry, located along the waterfront wharves. Soon East Boston became popular for its elegant summer resort hotels, and, of course, within a decade became best known as a ship-building center, particularly for Donald McKay's clippers. East Boston prospered over the mid-19th century and became a fashionable community. By 1865, the population had reached 20,000.

Aside from being an early East Boston entrepreneur (on land first parceled off and sold by the East Boston Company in 1834), Noah Sturtevant was civic minded. He was the first person, in 1851, to propose an East Boston tree planting campaign, and by 1853 was one of fourteen Tree Association members, dedicated to improving the broad treeless East Boston streets. Large chestnut stumps in front of 406 Meridian today are said to be proof of Sturtevant's eventual success in this venture. In 1852, he was one of the petitioners for incorporating the East Boston Ferry Company, and Sturtevant was one of two men responsible for construction of the Meridian Street Bridge (1855) just north of his house, which until then had been at the end of the street. Sturtevant died shortly thereafter, and his estate passed through family members and business associates for a time. The property was purchased by Edward F. Porter, president of the Boston Dyewood and Chemical Company, in 1869. Porter resided here for about five years and sold the property, in 1874, to Ezra Winslow. Reverend Winslow was publisher of The Daily News in Boston, but resided in Auburndale, not in East Boston, according to Boston directories.

The property passed into receivership and was purchased by Frank C. and Marianna Wood, in 1885, from the Franklin Savings Bank. The owners of a dry goods store in Central Square, they held the property until 1917, and reportedly revived the splendor of the house, and entertained lavishly in their "homestead."

In 1917, 406 Meridian Street became Trinity Neighborhood House and Day Nursery. This community service operation was founded as The Day Nursery Trinity House on Burroughs Place in Boston in 1881, by Trinity Church whose rector was the prominent Phillips Brooks. It was established to provide a much needed day care service to the working mothers of the South End and to offer athletic, crafts, drama programs to children, young adults, and incoming Italian immigrants. Several such day nurseries had begun in Boston in the early 1880s. Trinity House's extensive program in its early years was a forerunner of the "settlement house movement" which became institutionalized by Jane Addam's establishment of Hull House in Chicago in 1889. Trinity Neighborhood House and Day Nursery moved from Boston to East Boston in 1906 and incorporated as an independent charity organization before settling at 406 Meridian Street.

A leader and innovative provider in neighborhood services, Trinity was responsible for starting a summer camp for city girls in 1933, in New Hampshire, begun for Caroline Orr. In 1942, Trinity joined the Greater Boston Community Fund, and in 1966 merged into East Boston Social Center, Inc., a non-profit neighborhood service agency which operates several local facilities.

Architectural Significance

Trinity Neighborhood House is an excellent example of Boston's early nineteenth-century domestic architecture. It is carefully proportioned and detailed in red brick and sandstone to combine the best features of Federal and Greek Revival styles. The resulting unique and successful townhouse is particularly notable on Meridian Street in East Boston, where this style and type of building is increasingly rare.

The Federal Style has English origins, and is sometimes called the Adam Style, from its association with the architectural practice of Robert Adam and his two brothers. The Federal Style is marked by lightness and correctly drawn classical details. In Boston it is the predominant red brick rowhouse architecture of Beacon Hill, associated with the design expertise of Charles Bulfinch and Asher Benjamin. The Boston Federal period dates from c. 1790 to c. 1820. Particularly notable features include the broad circular bays or "bowfronts," slender columned entrances, flat surfaced brick walls and, inside, graceful elliptical main stairways.

Around 1820, American architecture began to change. For the first time, a style developed here without European precedent, called the Greek Revival. It sprang from the ideals of the new republic, from Jeffersonian ideas of democracy and architecture. The purest Greek Revival designs were temple images, often expressed in wooden domestic architecture with a gable front, representing the temple portico. In brick, the Greek Revival kept the smooth walls of the Federal Style, but reversed the feeling from one of lightness to heaviness. Columns thickened and broad stone lintels were placed over window and doorway openings.

Trinity Neighborhood House is currently included in the East Boston Bicentennial Freedom Trail and Historical Site tour.

Relationships to the Criteria for Landmark Designation

The Trinity Neighborhood House meets criteria b, c and d for Landmark Designation as established by section 4 of chapter 772 of the Act of 1975 in that it is associated with early development of settlement houses and the social history of East Boston; it is associated with Noah Sturtevant and Phillips Brooks; and is an outstanding example of Boston's domestic architecture from the first half of the nineteenth century.

Several members of the Christy organization were also present on the dais to express their appreciation to this loyal employee. Mr. Newson expressed his thanks to the body.

DISAPPROVING ORDER THAT WATER AND SEWER COMMISSION PRODUCE UNIFORM CONSERVATION STANDARDS BY OCTOBER 1, 1989 FOR ALL MUNICIPAL BUILDINGS

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 27, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors:

I transmit herewith without my signature and disapproved an order passed by your Honorable Body on June 7, 1989, Docket No. 0840, which would require the Boston Water and Sewer Commission to produce uniform conservation standards, to conduct water audits and a capital analysis, and to develop a specific implementation plan related to water conservation.

My reason for disapproval is that the Boston Water and Sewer Commission is a body politic and corporate created by state law, St. 1977, c. 436. The City Council has no authority under that statute to mandate that the Commission take the specified action. Moreover, the statute states that no law "affecting the powers, rights, duties, or obligations of the commission", as the Council's order purports to do, shall be effective unless it shall apply to water and sewer districts generally or shall have been approved under the provisions of Article 2 of the Amendments to the Massachusetts Constitution, which pertains to home rule authority.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,

Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the documentation referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

Re: Police Statistics

Date: July 7, 1989

Attached, please find crime and deployment statistics prepared by the Boston Police Department's Bureau of Administrative Services for the period covering June 17 through June 23, 1989.

It should be noted that these statistics provide "a snap shot of crime" in Boston for the reporting week. In some cases, several of these incidents may be further investigated and determined to be unfounded claims. Thus, these statistics, when compiled for a one month period or for a year long period will differ, to some degree, from the Uniform Crime Report tallies that take into account such unfounded or reclassified cases.

District One covers Downtown, Chinatown, the Water-front and Beacon Hill areas. District Two covers Roxbury and parts of Dorchester. District Three covers Mattapan, District Four covers the South End, Back Bay, and the Fenway. District Five encompasses the Hyde Park, West Roxbury, and Roslindale area. District Six is South Boston, District Seven is East Boston. District Eleven covers Dorchester and District Thirteen covers Jamaica Plain. District Fourteen encompasses Brighton, Allston, and Kenmore. District Fifteen is Charlestown.

Dear Councillor Yancey:

Below are the answers to the questions asked in the order of City Council dated 5 April 1989, submitted under the provisions of section 17F of chapter 452 of the Acts of 1948 as amended.

1. The only materials subject to Police Department seizure are contraband, instrumentalities and fruits of the crime (MGL Ch 276)

2. Under Ch 94C, sec. 47(d) the Boston Police Department may benefit from a civil procedure initiated by the District Attorney or the Attorney General to order the forfeiture of "property or conveyance." The use of such forfeited assets is limited to law enforcement purposes by Ch 94C, sec. 47(d).

4. The value of the vehicles obtained (see attached list) would be subject to appraisal. These vehicles were not sold but were used in undercover investigations. The total amount of forfeited monies for the years 1987, 1988, and 1989 (to date) is slightly in excess of $575,000.

5. The forfeited money was deposited in a trust fund established for this purpose as required under the provisions of Ch 94C, sec. 47(d).

6. Funds are distributed under the provisions of Ch 94C, sec. 47(d) with the authorization of the Police Commissioner, Corporation Counsel and Collector-Treasurer. Specific expenditures are authorized by the Chief, Bureau of Investigative Services.

Respectfully,

Bill Good,
Director of Operations.

DISAPPROVING ORDER THAT ALL PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT STREET-OPENING PERMITS BE SUSPENDED UNTIL DEVELOPMENT OF PLAN ENSURING RETURN OF STREETS TO PRE-EXCAVATION CONDITION WITHIN 90 DAYS OF WORK COMPLETION

The following was received
City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

June 30, 1989.

To the City Council
Dear Councillors:

I return herewith without my signature and disapproved the order passed by your Honorable Body on June 21, 1989, regarding the suspension of street-opening permits.

My reason for disapproval is that the order is in conflict with state law. To the extent that it purports to order a City department, the Public Works Department, to take certain action, it runs afoul of St. 1948, c. 452, s. 17G, as appearing in St. 1951, c. 376, s. 1, which forbids the City Council from taking part, either directly or indirectly, in the conduct of the executive or administrative businesses of the City. In addition, the order purports to require the Boston Water and Sewer Commission to take certain action. This violates St. 1977, c. 436, s. 3, which creates and empowers the Commission, and exempts the Commission from nearly all City supervision.

Furthermore, the Public Works Department and the Water and Sewer Commission presently have in place an adequate system for returning opened streets to their pre-excavation conditions.

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

(Annexed hereto is the documentation referred to.)

Assigned for further action.

APPROVING ISSUANCE OF INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BONDS NOT TO EXCEED $60,000,000 FOR BOSTON EDISON TO CONSTRUCT FACILITIES TO PROVIDE ELECTRICAL POWER TO MWRA ON DEER ISLAND FOR WATER TREATMENT FACILITIES

The following was received:
City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

July 5, 1989.

To the City Council.
Dear Councillors,

I transmit herewith for your approval an order to approve the issuance of industrial development bonds in a principal amount not to exceed $60,000,000. The Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority's (BIDFA) Board of Directors, acting pursuant to the provisions of chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws, adopted a favorable resolution with respect to this industrial development project.

The construction plans of Boston Edison include the following:

Construction of a 115 kilovolt underwater cable and associated station facilities to provide electrical power to the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority on Deer Island for construction and operation of water treatment facilities. Phase I of the project will include the construction of a temporary substation on Deer Island with a permanent substation being built in Phase II.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible so that this employer may implement his business plans as described

Respectfully,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, Boston Edison Company (the "Borrower", which term includes any subsidiary of Boston Edison Company) has proposed the financing by revenue bonds ("Bonds") to be issued from time to time by the City of Boston, Massachusetts (the "City"), acting by and through its Industrial Development Financing Authority (the "Authority"), of up to $60,000,000 of the cost of certain pollution control facilities (as that term is defined in Section 1(o) of chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws (the "Act"), and facilities necessary or desirable to connection therewith, including without limitation facilities necessary or desirable in connection with a waste water treatment works or collection system, in the City to be owned and used by the Borrower, such facilities to be used for the supply of electrical power to the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (the "MWRA") for construction of MWRA's Deer Island waste water treatment facility (the "Project"), and consisting generally of the following:

Construction and installation of a 115 KV undersea cable commencing at the Borrower's existing electrical substation at 500 East First Street, South Boston, exiting via Power House Street, along an underground route following Summer Street for approximately 200 feet turning northwesterly near the entrance of the parking lot of Boston Edison Company's New Boston Station and then northerly to the Reserve Channel, then east through such channel to and under the Boston Harbor to a temporary substation to be located on Deer Island, Boston, Massachusetts, near the MWRA Pump House on the northwesterly coast of the Island, and associated equipment and station facilities, including a permanent substation to be located on Deer Island; and

Whereas, The Company has expressed its willingness to make payments sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds of the City issued to pay costs of the Project and current expenses, if any, of the City and the Authority incurred in connection therewith and reimburse the City and the Authority for, or indemnify the City and the Authority against, any expenses or costs incurred by the City or the Authority in the event that the issuance and sale of such Bonds are not accomplished as contemplated; and

Whereas, The estimated costs of the Project is approximately $60,000,000, and is proposed to be financed in its entirety by the Bonds; and

Whereas, The financing of the Project under the provisions of the Act appears feasible; and

Whereas, The Council has been advised that notice of the public hearing relating to the Project for the benefit of the Borrower was published in The Boston Globe on June 12, 1989, in 02127 on June 8, 1989 and in The South Boston Tribune on June 8, 1989 and a public hearing was held by the Authority on June 26, 1989 at 6:30 p.m. at the Joseph P. Tynan School, 650 East Fourth Street, South Boston, Mass., all as described in such published notices; and

Whereas, The Project, upon completion as projected by the Borrower, will provide a substantial public benefit; and

Whereas, The Borrower has undertaken to cooperate with public and community agencies engaged in manpower recruitment and training to pursue as a goal, to the extent consistent with state and federal law, and to the extent appropriate to this Project, the furnishing of at least 50 percent of new jobs at said Project to City residents, at least 25 percent of new jobs to minorities and at least 25 percent of new jobs to women; and

Whereas, The Authority has adopted a resolution approving the Project and the estimated cost thereof and authorizing the issuance of the Bonds in a principal amount not to exceed $60,000,000 to finance the Project; and

Whereas, By adopting the order set forth herein or by taking other action in connection with the Project or the Bonds, the City does not and cannot provide any assurance that the Project or the Borrower is financially viable or sound, that amounts on any debt issued on behalf of the Borrower for the Project will be paid, that any collateral which may be pledged to secure such debt would be sufficient to repay holders of such debt in the event of a default, or that interest on the bonds will be exempt from federal or Massachusetts income taxation; and neither the Borrower nor any prospective purchaser of such debt nor any other person shall rely upon the City or the Authority with respect to such matters; now, therefore, be it Ordered:

Section 1. Purpose of Resolution. This order is intended to constitute the approval required by section 147(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and it is also the intent of this Council that the approval granted by this order shall serve as an inducement for the Borrower to construct and install the Project.

Section 2. Agreement. The Council approved the Project and the estimated cost thereof. The Council further authorizes the issuance of the Bonds from time to time under the Act, in one or more series, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $60,000,000 to finance the Project, subject to all requirements of the Act; provided however, that the Bonds shall not constitute a general obligation of the City or a pledge of its faith and credit and taxing power.

Referred to the Committee on Planning and Development.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

COMMITTEE ON HOUSING TO HOLD HEARING RE COMPLAINTS RE FAIRMOUNT HOUSING DEVELOPMENT BY CONTRACTORS HIRED BY BHA

Coun. MENINO offered the following:

Whereas, In 1986 there were 2,171 abandoned units of Boston Housing Authority stock; and

Whereas, Extensive renovation of Boston Housing Authority units is taking place all over the city with all units expected to be brought on line by 1991; and

Whereas, This renovation must be accomplished in such a way that tenants in public housing are able to take pride in their housing accommodations; and

Whereas, Residents of the Fairmount public housing development have always kept their units in excellent condition; and

Whereas, Certain contractors hired by the Boston Housing Authority have done extensive damage to the walls of these apartments while making electrical changes; and

Whereas, Tenants at the Fairmount public housing development have complained of the shoddy workmanship of these contractors; now therefore be it

Ordered, That the Committee on Housing hold a hearing to resolve these complaints and that officials of the Boston Housing Authority, representatives of the offending contractor and tenants of the Fairmount Housing Development be invited to attend.

Referred to the Committee on Housing.

URGING MAYOR TO ADOPT FISCAL POLICY RE TRAVEL ACCOUNTS

Coun. MENINO offered the following:

Whereas, Recent cutbacks in state aid to cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth will result in drastic cutbacks in basic services; and

Whereas, The City of Boston must be ready to respond to changes in State priorities and funding as they affect the City's residents; and

Whereas, The City must maintain a sound fiscal condition and ensure that a sufficient level of basic services can be provided to the citizens of Boston; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council urges the Mayor to adopt the following fiscal policy for fiscal year 1990: The City shall freeze all travel accounts. Approved travel shall be given only when that travel can be justified as essential to the basic operations of the City; be it further

Resolved, That the Budget Director report to the City Council within 10 days on what actions have been taken to implement a freeze on City travel accounts.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

CALLING UPON MAYOR TO PROVIDE AT LEAST $500,000 TO ASSURE NEEDS OF DRUG INVESTIGATION PROGRAMS OF BOSTON POLICE THIS YEAR AND FURTHER APPROPRIATIONS FOR DRUG INVESTIGATIONS BECOME PART OF POLICE DEPARTMENT OPERATING BUDGETS

Coun. YANCEY offered the following:

Whereas, Testimony from Police Superintendent, Joseph Saia, at a Public Safety Committee hearing on Thursday, July 13, 1989, revealed that "not one nickel" is provided from the $124 million Police Department budget for drug investigations; and

Whereas, The department relies on funds forfeited through drug arrest activities to underwrite drug investigations, purchase vehicles and equipment, transporting witnesses, surveillance operations and communications with other law enforcement agencies; and

Whereas, Such vital activities should not depend upon uncertain, fluctuating funding sources, such as court-awarded forfeitures, but should operate as other police programs do with specific budget appropriations; and

Whereas, Forfeitures accruing to the Police Department over the past four years have averaged almost $250,000 annually; and

Whereas, This appears to be an inadequate amount to cover the costs of investigations brought on by a burgeoning drug abuse problem engulfing Boston; and

Whereas, The Mayor, under provisions of the Tregor Funding Statute, chapter 190 of the Acts of 1982, section 15, is authorized to reallocate up to $3 million of budgetary funds for his municipal use; and

Whereas, It would be helpful if at least $500,000 of such funds could be made available as transfer to the Police Department to underwrite its drug investigations during fiscal year 1990; and

Whereas, In subsequent years it would be prudent to include specific allocations for drug investigations in Police Department budgets, thereby eliminating dependence on certain funding derived from drug-related seizures and forfeitures; now, therefore be it:

Ordered, The Boston City Council calls on His Honor, the Mayor, to provide funds, at his disposal, of at least $500,000 as supplement to underwrite and assure the needs of drug investigation programs carried out by the Boston Police this fiscal year; and be it further

Ordered, That specific appropriations for drug investigations become a part of the Fiscal 1991 and subsequent police department operating budgets presented by city administrations; and be it further Ordered, That a copy of these Orders be transmitted by the City Clerk to the Director, Office of Budget and Program Evaluation, and to the Police Commissioner.

Coun. MENINO asked that the Chair rule the foregoing out of order.

The order was ruled out of order by the Chair.

COLLECTOR-TREASURER TO START PROCEDURES FORTHWITH TO END ALL FINANCIAL DEALINGS WITH SHAWMUT NATIONAL CORPORATION UNTIL UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA ENDS ITS STRIKE AGAINST PITSTON COMPANY

Couns. SCONDRAS, BOLLING, BYRNE, HENNIGAN CASEY, McLAUGHLIN, MENINO, O'NEIL, TRAVAGLINI, SALERNO, McCORMACK, and YANCEY offered the following:

Whereas, The Vice-Chairman of Shawmut Bank of Boston, William Craig, has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Pittston Company for 15 years; and

Whereas, The coal miners who work for Pittston are engaged in one of our nation's most dangerous occupations and are on strike to win a just contract; and

Whereas, The National Labor Relations Board ruled that Pittston is not negotiating in good faith; and

Whereas, The City of Boston invests a portion of its assets in subsidiaries of the Shawmut National Corporation; and

Whereas, The United Mine Workers of America claim that Pittston's management has attacked the job security, economic opportunity, health benefits and pension rights of the 6,000 unionized Appalachian coal miners who work for Pittston; and

Whereas, The union further says Pittston has cut off health insurance for 1,500 retirees, widows and disabled miners; and

Whereas, The union further asserts that Pittston has denied shareholders dividends for each of the last five years, during which time Pittston has made questionable acquisitions and has paid lucrative salaries to executives; and

Whereas, William Craig has failed to respond to the call of the Boston City Council to set a meeting to assist in the resolution of the UMWA strike; now therefore be it

Ordered, That the Collector-Treasurer of the City of Boston is hereby ordered to start procedures forthwith to end all financial dealings with the Shawmut National Corporation, its subsidiaries and affiliates; and be it further Ordered, That there shall be no further dealings between the City of Boston and the Shawmut National Corporation, its subsidiaries and affiliates until the United Mine Workers of America ends its strike against the Pittston Company.

On motion of Coun. SCONDRAS, the matter was postponed to a date certain, to wit: July 26, 1989.

ORDINANCE TO REGULATE PRIVATE DORMITORIES

Coun. SCONDRAS offered the following:
City of Boston

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-nine
An Ordinance

to Regulate Private Dormitories

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1: City of Boston, Ordinances, chapter 10, section 6, is hereby amended by adding the following new sections:

Declaration of Emergency.

A serious public emergency exists in the City of Boston accentuated or aggravated by the use by tax-exempt educational institutions of buildings potentially having a residential use to accommodate matriculating undergraduate students in de facto dormitories. Such use has contributed to the shortage of residential housing for low- and moderate-income residents, created areas of the city where public order is difficult or impossible to enforce, contributed to the decay and decline of affected residential neighborhoods, created areas of the city in which the rights of tenants to quiet enjoyment of their homes are consistently violated. Such dormitories without proper supervision detract from the growth of the city's tax base, threaten the public health, safety and general welfare of the citizens of Boston. Public regulation of these dormitories is necessary in order to provide residents with a sufficient supply of decent, affordable housing, to strengthen residential neighborhoods, to encourage public order and to preserve the city's tax base. Now therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in it by law including without limitation Article 2, as amended and Articles 47 and 89 of the Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and chapter 797 of the Acts of 1969 as amended, chapter 450 of the Acts of 1889, chapter 355 of the Acts of 1960, chapter 256 of the Acts of 1953, chapter 22, Acts of 1949, chapter 473 Acts of 1953, chapter 314 Acts of 1962, M.G.L. chapter 140, ss 22-26, M.G.L. chapter 40, sec. 21-D, be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Boston as follows:

10-6.21 Definitions as used in this section.

1. "College or University" shall mean any educational organization for exemption from taxation under M.G.L. ch. 50, s.5 capable of granting an undergraduate degree.

2. "Private Dormitory" shall mean any structure containing residential units, 50 percent of which units are tenanted by a majority of undergraduate students.

3. "Student" shall mean a resident of the City of Boston who is attending a college or university in a regular program toward the completion of requirements established by said institution for the securing of an undergraduate degree, unless that resident has occupied their unit for at least one year prior to attending said program. Section 10-6.9 (a) is amended by adding after the words "buildings may not be dormitories within the meaning of another code or ordinance of the City."

"Further, no building of which 50 percent of the units are rented by a majority of students but which are not owned or constructively controlled by a public institution as defined in section 100 of this Ordinance shall be occupied without a license pursuant to the provisions of this section. Hereafter, such buildings are referred to as "private dormitories" notwithstanding the fact that such buildings may not be dormitories within the meaning of another code or ordinance of the city."

Section 10-6.9 (b) is amended by adding, after the words "shall be responsible for the annual licensing of all dormitories" the words

"and private dormitories, and shall maintain files on each containing comment received through, but not limited to public hearings held and reports filed pursuant to this section below. The contents of such files shall be considered in deciding whether to grant a license to a dormitory or a private dormitory pursuant to this section."

Section 10-6.9 (b) is further amended by replacing "The Commissioner of Inspectional Services shall issue a license for each such building" with the words

"The Commissioner of Inspectional Services shall issue a license for each dormitory."

Section 10-6.9 (b) is further amended by adding the words "written petition of ten (10) residents of the City of Boston," the words

"b1. The Commissioner of Inspectional Services shall issue a license for each private dormitory following inspection thereof provided:

(1) it complies with the State Building Code, State Sanitary Code, and the Boston Zoning Code as evidenced by an appropriate established legal occupancy for the City of Boston; and

(2) The owner of the private dormitory provides clear and convincing evidence of its ability to operate such structure in a manner consistent with the public health, safety, and welfare. In order to ensure that the public health, safety, and welfare have been fully satisfied, the Commissioner shall hold a public hearing with respect to any private dormitory for which a license has been requested or for which a license has been granted upon the written petition of ten residents of the City of Boston.

b2. The Commissioner of Inspectional Services Department, upon the request of the owner of a private dormitory, not withstanding any other provisions of this ordinance, may hold a public hearing with reasonable notification of abutters, to waive any and all requirements of this ordinance pursuant to a private dormitory, provided however that the structure of the private dormitory houses fewer than twenty students and provided that the owner of said private dormitory can demonstrate that the private dormitory in question is likely to comply with all applicable rules, regulations, ordinances in the absence of a private dormitory license."

Section 10-6.9 (c) is amended by replacing the words "dormitories and neighbors thereto, the owner of each dormitory" with the words

"dormitories, private dormitories, and neighbors thereto, the owner of each dormitory or private dormitory shall comply with the following provisions to the extent that they are applicable."

Section 10-6.9 (c) is amended by replacing the word "structure" with the word

"dormitory"

Section 10-6.9 (c) is further amended by adding, after the words "the resident described in paragraph 2. below" the words

"post and maintain on such private dormitory adjacent to the mailboxes for such dwelling or elsewhere clearly visible to residents and non-residents a notice, not less than twenty square inches in size, bearing the information required by M.G.L. ch. 143, s. 35 and the name(s) and telephone number(s) of the resident advisor described in (iv) below"

Section 10-6.9 (c) is further amended by adding, after the words "in the location required by section 10-6.9 (c)(i)

"4. have a person of legal age resident in each private dormitory who shall be known as the "resident advisor" and shall be

(a) responsible for emergencies,

(b) responsible for maintenance of quiet enjoyment of residents thereof,

(d) in possession of the names, phone numbers, unit numbers, and college or university affiliation of each student tenant,

(e) responsible to notify in writing the appropriate university or college dean or administrator and the Commissioner of the Inspectional Services Department of every complaint against any student within the private dormitory including complaints brought by neighbors pursuant to the Boston Human Rights law and all other applicable laws pertaining to quiet enjoyment,

(f) responsible to notify each student tenant in writing of all applicable laws regarding the consumption of alcohol, noise regulations, the Boston Human Rights law, and all other laws pertaining to quiet enjoyment.

Section 10-6.9 (e) is amended by replacing the words "rather than replacing any of them" with the words

"rather than replacing any of them. Any violation of this ordinance shall be punishable by a fine of $200 per violation pursuant to Chapter 40, Section 21."

Section 2. Effectiveness. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage and shall remain in effect until the above declaration of a state of emergency is revoked by the City Council.

Section 3. Severability. The provisions of this ordinance are severable. If a court declares invalid any such provision or the application of such provision to any person or circumstance, the invalidity shall not affect the validity of any other provision or application.

DORCHESTER NORTH BURYING GROUND

Historic Associations

The Dorchester North Burying Ground is Dorchester's earliest remaining landmark. It is the burial place of some of Dorchester's most prominent founding citizens. It is also one of only six seventeenth-century burial grounds in Boston.

Dorchester was founded in 1630 and the burial ground was established four years later on the southern outskirts of the then agrarian community. The earliest date on any gravestone is that of Bernard and Joan Capen, bearing the date 1638. The original stone has been removed; it is now on display in the New England Genealogical Society. Bernard Capen was among Dorchester's original settlers who arrived on the "Mary and John" in 1630. The next oldest gravestone is the horizontal monument to Abel (1644) and Submite (1648) Clarke.

The two most prominent figures interred in the Dorchester North Burying Ground are William Stoughton and Richard Mather. William Stoughton was born in England in 1631. He was the son of Colonel Israel Stoughton, who was involved in the Pequot War. He graduated from Harvard in 1650. Later, he went to England and became a fellow of New College, Oxford. He returned to New England where he served as one of Sir Edmund Andros' Council and Lieutenant Governor from 1694 until his death in 1701. In addition, he was Chief Justice of the Court which heard witch trials. Stoughton was a benefactor of Harvard, and he provided the funds for a dormitory, which bears his name. Richard Mather was another leading personality in Dorchester in the 17th century. He was born and educated in England. After 16 years in the English Church, he was suspended for non-conformity. Mather settled in Dorchester, in 1636, and he served as the town's spiritual leader until his death in 1669. Four of Mather's six sons

The goal of Adopt-A-Statue is to achieve funding for the restoration of thirty-nine pieces of outdoor public art and to establish a permanent maintenance endowment which would provide for the annual cleaning and maintenance of sixty-nine pieces.

To invite individuals, groups of individuals or corporations to "adopt" a piece of Boston outdoor public art by either:

- incurring the total cost of restoring and maintaining a particular piece of art or
- making a donation toward a general restoration and maintenance fund.

Gifts are tax deductible to the extent limited by law.

became ministers; Samuel and Increase were recognized as men of "learning and high consideration." Increase received the first degree of Doctor of Divinity conferred in America. Richard Mather died in 1669 at the age of 73 years.

Some of the other early citizens of Dorchester that are buried in the cemetery are: John Foster, who opened the first printing office in Boston; William Tailer, who was Lieutenant Governor in 1711, and again from 1730 to 1733; and Major General Humphrey Atherton. The grave of forty revolutionary soldiers, who died during the Siege of Boston, is commemorated by a boulder with a bronze tablet which was erected in 1903 by the Massachusetts Society, Sons of the American Revolution. Another interesting aspect of the burial ground is the four graves of black servants; three belonged to Robert Oliver and one belonged to the family of James Foster.

Artistic Significance

The Dorchester Burying Ground is unusual because it contains examples of funerary sculpture from the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th centuries. The stone carvers in 17th-century New England probably brought ideas for designs with them when they left England, Ireland or Scotland. It may seem strange that the strict Puritan clergy allowed images on gravestones when their use was prohibited in the meetinghouses. However, gravestone carving was considered a civil craft and, therefore, not within ecclesiastical jurisdiction. Before the Revolution, all gravestone designs were based on a metamorphic aesthetic, which emphasized the physical change imposed on human bodies by supernatural forces. The image used most commonly in the 17th century was the skull, a traditional medieval emblem signifying death. When the skull was coupled with wings, as it appeared in the late 17th and early 18th century, it became a symbol of both physical death and spiritual resurrection. Later in the 18th century, cherubim took the place of skulls. This change seems to indicate a shift in emphasis from mortality to immortality. After 1750, there was an increased use of portraiture on gravestones. As the colonies prospered, individuals were able to afford the luxury of personalized markers. Perhaps the most interesting aspect of these early gravestones is the originality of each design. Even though the same symbols are used over and over again, each stone is distinct in the depth of the carving and the details used.

After the Revolution there was an awakening of strong republican feeling which manifested itself in the use of neo-classical symbols, such as weeping willows, urns, and hourglasses, for gravestones. The Unitarian and Methodist faiths were gaining membership, and the new neo-classical symbols were adopted by these religions.

Toward the end of the 1800s the stones became larger, and there was usually no carved ornamentation. The personal information carved in the stone was kept to a minimum. There was also a change in materials; slate was used in the 17th and 18th centuries, limestone was the dominant material in the early 19th century, and various colors of granite were used later in the 19th century and into the 20th century. Samples from every style of funerary sculpture appear in the cemetery, and the final result is a very interesting mixture of colors, shapes, sizes and textures.

Relationship to the Criteria for Landmark Designation

The Dorchester North Burying Ground is clearly eligible for Landmark designation under the criteria established in section 4, chapter 77 of the Acts of 1975, as amended, that it is a property which: (a) is included on the National Register of Historic Places, (b) represents important aspects of the cultural and social history of the City, the Commonwealth and the Region, (c) is inherently valuable for study as a rare tangible example of the transition from the 17th to the 19th century in Dorchester.

MBTA EMPLOYEES INCREASE UNITED WAY GIVING MORE THAN ANY OTHER PUBLIC AGENCY

When it comes to helping people, employees at the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority (MBTA) are right on track.

During the annual United Way of Massachusetts Bay Campaign this past season, employees at the T raised more than $80,000—a 45 percent increase over the previous year. This percent increase in employee giving far surpassed any other federal, state agency, or authority in the region. The 1989 United Way Campaign was clearly the most successful ever for the MBTA.

"Despite a volatile economic environment, employees at the MBTA deserve a great deal of credit for what they accomplished," said United Way of Massachusetts Bay Chairman of the Board Micho F. Spring, President and Chief Executive Officer of Boston Telecommunications Company. "They committed a lot of time, energy and enthusiasm to the campaign. It was a real team effort.

"They have shown once again that individuals can make a real difference. I'm very grateful to everyone who took part in their extremely successful United Way campaign."

The United Way of Massachusetts Bay, New England's largest charitable organization, supports more than 200 health and human service agencies serving nearly 1.7 million people in 81 eastern Massachusetts cities and towns.

Said MBTA General Manager Thomas P. Glynn, "As part of the Boston community, the T's successful United Way campaign is one more way of showing that we care about our customers, our community, and all the services provided by the United Way."

Glynn made the United Way campaign a top priority, and set the standard for participation. A kick-off meeting was held with over 100 solicitors representing the various MBTA work locations, and coordinators were assigned to oversee the campaign for the large departments.

Each department had a participation and contribution goal—and T campaign workers closely coordinated their efforts with United Way representatives, who were available to make visits to many MBTA worksites. Employees responded quickly and generously over the three weeks of the campaign.

"Under Tom Glynn's leadership, T employees did an outstanding job throughout the 1989 campaign," said Margot Biggin, Assistant Vice-President of Fundraising at the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. "Their overall effort truly demonstrates how they feel about all those needy people in our community."

Much of what the MBTA employees achieved can be attributed to the coordinators' knowledge of how the United Way operates in order to meet a wide range of local needs, such as funding for programs addressing substance abuse, homelessness, child care, battered women and their children, youth development and home health care for the elderly.

"The goal of the campaign was to be sure that each employee had the opportunity to learn more about the United Way," said Alice Brewer, Campaign Division Director at the United Way of Massachusetts Bay. "This focus on education paid off. The 45 percent increase in giving confirms our belief that once people have a clear understanding of what the United Way does and how it works, they want to give."

MANAGEMENT PERFORMANCE AND DEVELOPMENT

Message from Bob Krim, Program Director

To City Managers:

Welcome back to Courses and Workshops! We return for a third cycle filled with the quality activities you have come to expect. Several new titles have been added to the five content areas.

Our number of corporate slots has expanded, and for the first time, we have a limited number of PC corporate training slots available.

The first winners of the CONSORTIUM EXCELLENCE AWARDS, recognizing managers who use management development and training to improve the quality of service delivery, will be announced in May. I look forward to your nominations for the Jordan Marsh Individual Manager Award, the Bank of Boston Program Excellence Award, and the Fidelity Follow Through Award. An impartial panel of judges including Ira Jackson (Bank of Boston), Richard Van Pelt (Chairman and CEO, Jordan Marsh), Bob Consalvo, Barbara Gottschalk, Felix Arroyo and others will make final decisions. Remember the deadline for nominations is March 31, 1990.

The Fall '89 cycle of Courses and Workshops produced a great deal of interest:

- MPDP received requests from managers for 940 places in 63 courses, workshops and corporate slots;

- 25 Follow Through sessions have been held so far.

Remember, you are our customers and we want to hear from you. We try to incorporate your suggestions into the program. Please let us hear what your needs for management development and training are. We'll put forth our best efforts to meet them.

Enjoy the Spring 1990 Courses and Workshops!

Skills for Managing with Limited Resources

We are again offering a variety of activities in the five major content areas: Fiscal Management, Technical Management, Human Resources Management, Communication Skills/Serving Constituents and City Employees, and General Management. Several new titles have been added. Our number of corporate slots has expanded, and for the first time, we have a limited number of PC training slots available.

These offerings are structured to make it easier for you to select learning experiences tailored to your particular situation.

Certificate in Public Management Development

City of Boston managers have put in a great deal of effort and time over the past few years through management training to improve services. The Management Performance and Development Program and the Boston Management Consortium feel that this work should be recognized and rewarded formally. For those managers who began MPP training in 1988, and who complete several areas of City management training, the City will award a special diploma signed by the Mayor and the Chair of the Consortium, certifying the completion of management performance and development training in several categories.

In December, 1990, on successful completion of two electives from these Courses and Workshops, the MPP year 1 training, the Core Management Curriculum, and the MPP forms for two years, managers will receive a "Certificate in Public Management Development." Those managers who began MPP in later years will receive it after two years of management training in the above categories, including two electives each year. More details will be provided in MPP and Core Management training.

FORUMS

The FORUMS are short, information sessions held from 8:00 to 9:15 a.m. Some topics are scheduled in advance; others are decided closer to the event and advertised through letters and E-mail. We'd like you to register, but the FORUMS will not count as one of your three courses. You can call Bea Stratter (725-3372) one day ahead to reserve a place, or show up at the FORUM where seating will be on a space-available basis once those who have registered or called have been seated.

We will again offer the OBPE UPDATE FORUMS which proved popular in the fall. In addition, Tom Gallagher, former State Representative, will be a FORUM speaker on Wednesday, March 21. His topic: "State Revenue: a Permanent Boom or Bust Cycle?"

ROUNDTABLES

Three roundtables have evolved into periodic ongoing discussions: the "Collected Wisdom of A & F Managers" and "Executive Secretary Roundtable" from Spring 1989, and from the fall cycle, "Customer and Constituent Service."

A neighborhood roundtable planned for the spring will bring together various managers from the many departments to discuss what they are doing, what works and what doesn't work in particular neighborhoods.

FOLLOW THROUGH

Many of our courses and workshops include a Follow Through component. Our underlying belief is that the success of management education will be seen back on the job when a manager attempts to apply the tools and concepts learned in a course or workshop.

Most research shows that it is difficult to improve your management skills when you have to return to a department that has not had the same training experience. It may not provide support for your learning and the new skills you are practicing. The Follow Through component has been designed to give you a support system for practicing, as well as a "refresher" on the tools and concepts from the workshop.

Some of you may have attended Follow Through meetings from this fall's courses and workshops. Most have found the sessions to be valuable. Several groups have met a few times and have more meetings planned. Using information from those sessions, feedback from your evaluations, and some private sector ideas from the Boston Management Consortium's Follow Through Committee, the Spring Follow Through (FT) component will contain several models:

Follow Through as Part of the Course or Workshop:

Many offerings now have FT sessions scheduled as part of the course or workshop. This is to allow time for you to practice the skills from the course and then get feedback on your work. When you sign up for the course or workshop, you are expected to attend this Follow Through session.

Follow Through Scheduled at the Course or Workshop:

This is the model that was used this spring 1989. Your trainer discusses your need/desire for a FT session at the end of the course or workshop and you will schedule a 1-2 hour session together approximately 3 weeks after the session. Your attendance is expected, but not mandatory.

Continuing Follow Through Groups:

Your training group may decide that it would be valuable to meet more than once. This may be either for the purpose of sharing more information or becoming a continuing support or learning group in the way that Roundtable Discussion groups meet. You may want to invite "guest speakers" from different City departments or Consortium companies to give you insights on issues or increase interdepartmental communication. We welcome your desire to do this, and can provide technical support for the group.

CONSORTIUM EXCELLENCE AWARDS

These awards are intended to recognize the special achievements of City of Boston managers and programs/units who have applied principles acquired through at least one MPDP training activity to improve the day-to-day operations in their area. Nominations will be judged impartially; supporting documentation is necessary so that judges can determine the quality of the work effort.

Outcomes can be observed and measured in many ways. A supervising manager, department head, or other manager in the department or the public may have noted the improvement. A quantifiable increase in a desired behavior or service delivery may be noted, or a decrease in mistakes. A decrease in costs may be an indicator that new principles have been applied. In the case of improved teamwork or better morale, managers may document a quantifiable number of instances where staff work together or are more productive because of the change.

Individual Manager Award Sponsored by Jordan Marsh

For the manager who has done the most to utilize Management Performance and Development Program training to improve the quality of service delivery, a Brass Plaque and a trip to a professional conference of the recipient's choice, including all expenses (up to $1,000), will be awarded.

Program Excellence Award Sponsored by Bank of Boston

For the program, department or unit which has done the most to utilize Management Performance and Development Program training to improve the delivery of services to the neighborhoods and constituents of Boston, a Brass Plaque and a dinner for the managers of the unit at the Bank of Boston Executive Dining Room will be awarded.

Follow Through Award Sponsored by Fidelity Investments Through the Fidelity Foundation

The Follow Through component is based on a belief that improved management results when managers take a new skill or technique, apply it back on the job, and then continuously return to a "learning" situation, formal or informal (a follow through meeting, or a lunch or discussion with colleagues) to practice and reinforce the learning.

This award is for the manager or group of managers (in a program, department or unit or a Follow Through Group from a Workshop, Roundtable, etc.) who have improved the quality of service delivery through the most effective use of the MPDP Follow Through component. A Brass Plaque and a banquet for the winner's invited guests will be awarded. A video profile of the winner's story will be presented at the banquet, and at the winner's next MPDP training. The video profile will also be featured on the "City Beat" program on cable TV.

HEALTH NEWS

February is American Heart Month. You will be inundated with all kinds of "Heart" information this month. On a romantic note you will focus in on Valentine's Day. Red hearts, mushy greeting cards, chocolates in a heart shaped red box and self proclaimed poets in every office and home—Roses are red, violets are blue, etc. During February the medical community has the opportunity to tell you of the recent advances in medical science and technology. You will also be warned to care for yourself: exercise, eat correctly, take your medications, visit your doctor and watch your blood pressure.

The American Heart Association will be quoted throughout the month. Who is the American Heart Association and what exactly do they do?

The American Heart Association is a nonprofit, voluntary health organization funded by private contributions. Its stated goal is to reduce early death and disability from heart disease, stroke and related disorders. Its first priority is preventing heart disease. The American Heart Association was founded in 1924 by six New York cardiologists. Today it has about 1,800 divisions throughout the United States; plus about 2.4 million volunteers.

The American Heart Association sponsors cardiovascular research (more than $754 million) in surgical techniques, drugs, public education,

In America, someone dies of a cardiovascular disease every 32 seconds. America's number one killer—heart disease—is slowly being overcome. Americans are now taking an active part in their own health care by living more wisely through diet, exercise, lowering stress, stop smoking and generally learning to lead a more relaxed and positive retirement. It's never too late to lead a healthy life. Begin today!

National Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week (Feb. 11-17)

Planning for a new grandchild?

One of the most important presents your grandchild can and will use is a car safety seat. Did you know all Boston hospitals will not release a newborn unless the child has a safety seat. Also, Massachusetts law says that all children under 12 years old must be in a car seat or buckled in. On trips research proves that children who ride buckled up behave much better than unprotected children. Take a 10-minute break to stretch your legs every 2 hours. Let the child out of his seat so he can stretch his legs also. A baby with a dry diaper and a full stomach travels better. Be sure the child is dressed appropriately for the weather. Pajamas may be an easy way for early morning trips but in reality they may not be warm enough in chilly autumn or spring. The most important rule for travelling. EVERYONE RIDES BUCKLED UP OR THE CAR DOESN'T MOVE.

National Children's Dental Health Month

Remember when you went to the dentist as a child. More often than not you only went because you were in pain. Your tooth was pulled. You eventually had dentures. Now your dentures are uncomfortable so they stay in the jar at the kitchen sink or medicine cabinet. Today there are dentists who specialize in children's teeth. They now encourage children to see their dentist when they are 1-2 years old. Everyone gets a toothbrush. Everyone learns how to floss. Everyone returns for a preventive tooth check every 6 months. According to the National Survey of Oral Health in the U.S. Adults, three out of four employees ages 18 to 65 have some degree of periodontal disease. This disease has replaced dental cares (cavities) as the country's most common and most distressing dental problem. It is responsible for up to one half of all adult teeth loss. Unchecked, the gum illness can destroy the supporting tissues that attach teeth to the jaw.

If you suffer from red, swollen gums or bleeding during brushing or flossing, please call the Elderly Commission 725-4366. The Commission has a list of dental resources in the community. You will be referred to a dental school or community health center. There are sliding fee scales and don't forget the senior shuttle can get you there. Senior shuttle 725-3000. Remember, according to the American Dental Association more than 30 percent of adults over 65 have no natural teeth left!

National Condom Week Feb. 14-21

Surprise your family by telling them that you are aware of National Condom Week Feb. 14-21! You may raise a few eyebrows at the kitchen table. Condoms are now a fact of life for all those who are sexually active throughout the world. The message is getting through to many people. Sexually transmitted diseases can ruin your life. In fact one sexually transmitted disease (AIDS) can take your life. Show your family that you are a person of the 90s Mention National Condom Week.

CONTRACTS AWARDED AFTER ADVERTISING ("Requests for Qualifications") ("Requests for Proposals") ("Technically Deficient Bids")

JOBS AND COMMUNITY SERVICES

GED, etc.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the South Boston Neighborhood House, Inc., a non-profit corporation, located at 521 East Seventh Street, South Boston. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide alternative educational services leading to a General Equivalency Diploma (GED) and job placement services for approximately twenty (20) City of Boston high school dropouts.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Cost were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, if applicable. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in November of 1988. Citizen participation was crucial, for during the period of January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989, eleven (11) neighborhood meetings were held across the entire City, and a JCS-sponsored task force of program operators was also selected from the alternative education system to solicit community involvement and input in determining funding priorities.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $38,000, payment being made from funds set aside for the Alternative Education Initiative. The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87-$21,250; FY 88-$38,000; FY 89-$38,000. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the late notification of availability of school department funds. The final court decision which secured alternative education initiative (AEI) funds for the City was reached on August 25, 1989. At that point, JCS was notified to proceed with the processing of contracts.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Various Services

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to A.B.C.D., Inc., a non-profit corporation, located at 178 Tremont Street, Boston. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide a variety of services to forty-three (43) low to moderate income youths with disabilities.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a refunding Request for Proposals (RFP) issued by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) on March 3, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff. The extremely competitive proposal review process focused primarily on the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, but other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, and the need for the proposed services. The issuance of this refunding document was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in September of 1988. Citizen participation was crucial, for during the period from January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989, eleven (11) neighborhood meetings were held across the entire City to solicit community involvement and input in determining funding priorities, culminating in a City-wide hearing held on February 28, 1989. The public notice for the City-wide hearing was advertised in the City Record on January 30, 1989.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $46,800, payment being made from the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87 — $53,900; FY 88 — $55,900; FY 89 — $52,000. This request has been delayed due to the length of time involved in the funding review process. In addition, contract documents sent to the Contractor on August 11, 1989 were not returned until September 5, 1989.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised refunding process, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Training

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Boston Center for Independent Living, Inc., a non-profit corporation, located at 50 New Edgerly Road, Boston. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide training in independent living skills to approximately seventy (70) disabled individuals who are predominantly low income, linguistic minorities.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a refunding Request for Proposals (RFP) issued by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) on March 3, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff. The extremely competitive proposal review process focused primarily on the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, but other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, and the need for the proposed services. The issuance of this refunding document was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in September of 1988. Citizen participation was crucial, for during the period from January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989, eleven (11) neighborhood meetings were held across the entire City to solicit community involvement and input in determining funding priorities, culminating in a City-wide hearing held on February 28, 1989. The public notice for the City-wide hearing was advertised in the City Record on January 30, 1989.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $23,750, payment being made from the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous fiscal year in the amount of $25,000. This request has been delayed due to the length of time involved in the funding review process, and due to administrative inadvertence.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised refunding process, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Educational Services, etc.

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Ecumenical Social Action Committee, Inc., a non-profit corporation, located at 3134 Washington Street, Boston, for the purpose of providing educational and job placement services for older workers fifty-five (55) years and older. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide a neighborhood-based employment service for approximately (40) older workers. These services will include outreach, recruitment, assessment, basic skills training, employment readiness training and job placement.

The Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) was asked by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts/Department of Employment and Training (DET) to administer its Mature Older Workers grant. JCS has administered this grant on behalf of the State for the past four years. This contractor was selected by the State, based upon a competitive evaluation among older worker service providers. A hearing of all service providers was conducted by the State on May 9, 1989. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, reasonableness of cost, the ability to serve the targeted client population, and a review of the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $51,480, payment being provided to the City of Boston through a competitive grant (3 percent) provided by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts/Department of Employment and Training (DET). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous two (2) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 88 — $45,000; FY 89 — $34,665. This request has been delayed due to the late notification of funding availability from the State. JCS did not receive information required to proceed with contract processing until the first week in July. The submission of this request has been further delayed due to the time involved in contract and budget negotiations.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, mandated by the State agency responsible for funding this program, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the International Institute of Boston, Inc., a non-profit corporation, located at 287 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide adult basic education instruction to approximately forty-five (45) low to moderate income program participants who are under-educated and have limited English speaking skills.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the contractor's performance during the prior contract period, if applicable. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in October of 1988, and involved much citizen participation. The staff of the Adult Literacy Division at JCS conducted extensive research into current adult basic education needs by studying existing data, conducting a needs assessment survey of seventy-five (75) program operators, and participated in eleven (11) neighborhood meetings held across the entire City during the period of January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989. This active solicitation of community involvement and input in determining funding priorities culminated in a City-wide hearing held on February 15, 1989. Notice of this hearing was published in the Boston Sunday Globe on February 5, 1989 and the City Record on February 6, 1989. A mailing was also sent to over eighty (80) program operators.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $49,250, payment being made from funds received under the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has not had contracts with this agency for this program for any of the previous three (3) fiscal years. This request has been delayed due to the length of time involved in the funding review process, a direct result of the State's recent budget woes.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landsmark,
Director.

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Chinese American Civic Association, a non-profit corporation, located at 90 Tyler Street. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide education and employment services to approximately one hundred twenty-five (125) refugees. The goal of the program is to assist the participants in developing English Language skills and in obtaining employment.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Costs were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to place clients into jobs, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the contractor's performance during the prior contract period. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in December of 1988, and it involved much citizen participation. The staff of the Refugee and Immigrant Services Division of JCS conducted demographic research to determine the needs of newly arrived refugees by analyzing data collection from the Massachusetts Office of Refugees and Immigrants (MORI), the Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH), and the Department of Public Welfare (DPW). In addition, a city-wide hearing on the needs of refugees and immigrants was held on March 15, 1989, and was attended by over 600 Boston newcomers. Over 5,000 individuals, organizations, and various other groups were notified of this public hearing.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $125,500, payment being provided from funds received under the Refugee Education and Employment Training Program (REEP). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87 — $180,504; FY 88 — $117,751; FY 89 — $100,771. The submission of this letter has been delayed due to the late notification of funding availability from the State, a direct result of the State's recent budget woes.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive program and proposal review process as part of a comprehensive, publicly advertised RFP process, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landmark,
Director.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to Washington Hill Community Association, a non-profit corporation, located at 4640 Washington Street, Roslindale. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide English-as-a-Second Language (ESL) instruction and support services to approximately seventy-two (72) low income Boston newcomers.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Cost were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, if applicable. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in October of 1988, and involved much citizen participation. Notice of this hearing was published in the Boston Sunday Globe on February 5, 1989 and the City Record on February 6, 1989. A mailing was also sent over eighty (80) program operators.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $50,485, payment being made from funds received from the State's Department of Education (DOE). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989 until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous two (2) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 88-$50,733; FY 89-$51,272. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the late notification of funding availability from the State, a direct result of the State's recent budget woes. JCS did not receive information required to proceed with contracts until August 7, 1989. The submission of this request has been further delayed due to the time involved in contract and budget negotiations.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
Theodore C. Landmark,
Director.

INVESTORS REMAIN BULLISH ON BOSTON

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn, on January 30, announced that two new development projects totaling more than $400 million will begin construction in downtown Boston within six weeks.

Mayor Flynn said that developers of the International Place and 125 High Street projects have completed financing arrangements enabling them to move forward on the second phase of both developments. Phase I of International Place was completed in 1986 while the initial phase of the 125 High Street complex is slated for completion in fall, 1990.

Mayor Flynn said, "The strength and vitality of the Boston economy is underscored by the news that these two projects are proceeding on schedule. There may be fiscal difficulties at the state level, but in Boston we are working hard to continue the economic growth that brings new jobs and economic opportunities to people in every neighborhood of the City."

BRA Director Stephen Coyle said, "The start of these projects is a strong signal that investors remain bullish on Boston, and are confident about the long-term value of projects in Boston. The office vacancy rate in downtown Boston is well below the national average and there will be even stronger demand for office space by the time these projects are completed in two or three years."

The two projects are expected to create more than 2,500 construction jobs. When completed, the projects will provide over 5,000 permanent jobs and will pay almost $6 million in property taxes. Developers of the office towers will pay $6 million in linkage fees to help finance construction of housing for low- and moderate-income families in Boston's neighborhoods and for job training programs.

The second phase of the International Place development will consist of two buildings, one 460 feet in height and the other 165 feet, located on the corner of Purchase and Oliver Streets. The High Street ramp of the Central Artery is being removed and a new ramp is being built on Purchase Street to allow space for the project to proceed. The $3-million ramp realignment project is being financed by the Chiofaro Company, developers of International Place.

The second phase of the 125 High Street project is a 21-story building to be constructed adjacent to the 34-story structure now nearing completion. The 125 High Street project, when completed, will consist of 1.2 million square feet of office space and parking for 850 vehicles. Developers of the project, a partnership of Spaulding and Slye, Travelers Insurance and New England Telephone, have already completed construction of a new state-of-the-art fire station for the Boston Fire Department on Oliver Street. The station replaces a facility which was demolished to make way for the first phase of the project.

THE ADOPT-A-STATUE PROGRAM

The goal of Adopt-A-Statue is to achieve funding for the restoration of thirty-nine pieces of outdoor public art and to establish a permanent maintenance endowment which would provide for the annual cleaning and maintenance of sixty-nine pieces.

To invite individuals, groups of individuals or corporations to "adopt" a piece of Boston outdoor public art by either:

- a. incurring the total cost of restoring and maintaining a particular piece of art or
- b. making a donation toward a general restoration and maintenance fund.

Gifts are tax deductible to the extent limited by law.

For further information on how to adopt a statue please contact the Environment Department at 725-3850 (Paula Mierzejewski) or Office of Arts and Humanities at 725-3245 (Mary Shannon).

Each week the City Record will publish a statue for adoption.

T INSTALLS TELEPHONE DEVICE FOR DEAF MACHINES IN SIX STATIONS

In the T's continuing effort to improve customer service and assist persons with disabilities, six Telephone Devices for the Deaf (TDDs) have been installed at pay phone locations on the subway system for use by hearing impaired persons.

"We are pleased to announce these TDDs are the first public pay phones accessible to deaf persons in Massachusetts," said Thomas P. Glynn, T General Manager.

A TDD is a telephone device for the deaf which permits hearing impaired persons to access a telephone for phone calls to another party using a similar device. The device itself consists of a keyboard on which the conversation is typed rather than spoken, and a visual display on which the conversation appears.

TDDs are located in view of fare collection booths with identifying signs and instructions on how to use the system, as well as special telephone directory listing TDDs in the New England area. A person wishing to use the pay phone can request a key from the station collector. Because of the difficulty of hearing instructions for additional money after the first three minutes, it is advisable that a calling card be used when using the TDD system.

The TDD phones were installed by the T with the cooperation of the Massachusetts Commission for Deaf and Hard of Hearing (MCDHH).

The TDD machines are conveniently located at the following stations:

Orange Line

- Ruggles station - pay phone area across the atrium from the fare collection booth, closest to the rear of the station.
- State Street station - pay phone area adjacent to the fare collection booth at the Orange Line elevator/Forest Hills platform.

Blue Line

- Wonderland station - pay phone area across from fare collection booth.

Red Line

- Harvard station - pay phone area adjacent to the elevator and across from the fare collection booths.
- Park Street station - pay phone area at the Winter Street Concourse across from the fare collection booth by the elevators.

Green Line

- Kenmore station - pay phone area directly behind the fare collection booth.

For further information on the TDD machines or other T services for passengers with disabilities, please contact the MBTA Office for Transportation Access at 722-5123.

CAR SAFE BABY PROGRAM PART II - KICKED OFF AT BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL

The "Keep Boston Moving . . . Safely" Committee of the Boston Transportation Department, as part of National Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week, presented the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit of Boston City Hospital with five infant car safety beds for low birth weight and special needs babies on Monday, February 12.

This presentation, part of the "Keep Boston Moving . . . Safely" Committee's Car Safe Baby Program, Part II, is an effort to bring car safety issues for children with special needs to the public's attention. These car safety beds will be available on a loan-basis from Boston City Hospital. The announcement took place at 11 a.m., on the fifth floor of the Maternity Building at Boston City Hospital's East Concord Street entrance (corner of Albany Street), in Boston's South end.

At the presentation, Commissioner Richard Dimino of the Boston Transportation Department said, "We are proud to have helped implement a car safety bed loaner program for these fragile babies. Special needs infants and children are generally overlooked when it comes to car safety. We are making a small but valuable contribution to child passenger safety in Boston."

Dr. Joel Alpert, Chief of Pediatrics at Boston City Hospital, in thanking the Committee for the gift of the beds, said, "The children these special car beds were developed for are those with special needs who often require increased levels of medical attention. Bringing these children to the doctor in the past has not been without medical risk. These car safety beds offer this very vulnerable group of children the increased level of attention they need."

Katherine Jorgensen, Director of the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, added, "For years we've been encouraging parents to use child car seats. Now, we have a group of special needs babies that are at risk riding in conventional car seats. The solution is not for parents to hold the kids in their laps, but to provide special equipment that will meet their special needs."

Among those at the presentation were Richard Dimino, Commissioner of the Boston Transportation Department; Terrance Schiavone, Executive Director of the Governor's Highway Safety Bureau; George Luciano, Regional Administrator of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration; Dr. Joel Alpert, Chief of Pediatrics at Boston City Hospital; Dr. David Coulter, Director of Pediatric Neurology at BCH; Dr. Elizabeth Brown, Director of the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit at BCH; and Dr. David Acker, Chief of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Boston City Hospital.

The car safety beds were purchased through a grant from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration which was awarded to the City of Boston by the Governor's Highway Safety Bureau.

The "Keep Boston Moving . . . Safely" Committee is composed of neighborhood volunteers and representatives of various city and state agencies and was formed to promote pedestrian and automobile passenger safety among Boston residents.

VII. COMMENDATION

On December 15, 1989 at 2135 hours, incident 43742, District Fire Chief John P. Carey, Headquarters, detailed to Safety, Special Services Division and Fire Fighter (Aide to District Chief) John P. Cavanaugh, while in the H-1 car and proceeding on Newbury Street, westbound near Clarendon Street, were attracted by a woman screaming that she had been robbed.

They observed a male running to an automobile parked at the curb. This vehicle with three occupants attempted to cross from the right to the left side of the street and turn onto Clarendon Street. Fire Fighter Cavanaugh drove the H-1 car in front of the fleeing vehicle. A citizen drove to the rear of the suspect's vehicle effectively stopping any retreat.

District Fire Chief Carey summoned the police via Fire Alarm. Both members were subjected to verbal abuse from the three occupants of the vehicle. Upon the arrival of the police, the three suspects were arrested while attempting to throw several pocketbooks out the window.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend District Fire Chief John P. Carey and Fire Fighter (Aide to District Chief) John P. Cavanaugh for their actions and makes this commendation a part of their personnel folder.

CONTRACTS AWARDED AFTER ADVERTISING ("Requests for Qualifications") ("Requests for Proposals") ("Technically Deficient Bids")

JOBS AND COMMUNITY SERVICES Educational Services, etc.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I respectfully request your Honor's permission to award a contract to the Catholic Charitable Bureau of the Archdiocese of Boston, Inc./Cardinal Cushing Center, a non-profit corporation, located at 1375 Washington Street, Boston. Under the terms of the contract, the contractor will provide English-as-a-Second Language (ESL) instruction and support services to approximately twenty-eight (28) DPW/Employment and Training-ET registered Hispanic adults.

The contractor was selected based upon an evaluation of its proposal submitted in response to a publicly advertised Request for Proposals (RFP) conducted by the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) and advertised in the Boston Sunday Globe on March 5, 1989, and in the City Record on March 6, 1989. Cost were determined to be reasonable after extensive analysis by JCS staff and outside readers. Other selection criteria included administrative capability, the ability to serve the targeted client population, the need for the proposed services, and a review of the Contractor's performance during the prior contract period, if applicable. The issuance of this RFP was the culmination of an exhaustive planning process which began in October of 1988, and involved much citizen participation. The staff of the Adult Literacy Division at JCS conducted extensive research into current adult basic education needs by studying existing data, conducting a needs assessment survey of seventy-five (75) program operators, and participated in eleven (11) neighborhood meetings were held across the entire City during the period of January 18, 1989, until February 9, 1989. This active solicitation of community involvement and input in determining funding priorities culminated in a City-wide hearing held on February 15, 1989. Notice of this hearing was published in the Boston Sunday Globe on February 5, 1989 and the City Record on February 6, 1989. A mailing was also sent over eighty (80) program operators.

Compensation under the terms of this contract shall not exceed $39,800, payment being made from funds received from State's Department of Public Welfare (DPW) through the Department of Employment & Training (DET). The period of performance shall be from July 1, 1989, until June 30, 1990. This contractor has had contracts with this agency for this program for the previous three (3) fiscal years at the following funding amounts: FY 87-$15,000; FY 88-$106,300; FY 89-$37,500. The submission of this request has been delayed due to the late notification of funding availability from the State, a direct result of the State's recent budget woes. Due to prolonged budget negotiations between the DPW and DET following the conclusion of the FY 90 State budgetary process, and subsequent negotiations between the City and DET, JCS did not receive information required to proceed with contracts until July 28, 1989.

As this is a negotiated contract at a reasonable cost, based upon an extensive review of proposals submitted in response to a competitive, publicly advertised RFP, I believe that further public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Sincerely,
 Theodore C. Landsmark,
 Director.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT

Building Rehabilitation

Dear Mayor Flynn:

Pursuant to a vote of the Public Facilities Commission on February 23, 1989, I respectfully request Your Honor's written permission to dispense with public advertisement and award a contract to Van Ness Terrace Limited Partnership, located at 550 Tremont Street, Boston. Under the terms of this contract, the contractor will rehabilitate a vacant building located at 233-248 Warren Street, Roxbury, into fifty rental units. Thirty units will be rented at below-market rates to income eligible tenants.

Compensation under this contract shall not exceed $1,315,287. The term of this contract shall be from April 24, 1989, to February 1, 1990. The cost of this contract meets gap financing requirements as per negotiations with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency; and determined to be the minimal amount necessary to make the project feasible. Funds for this contract shall come from those received under a Housing Development Grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Under the Housing Development Grant Program, HUD issues a nationwide notice of fund availability (NOFA) to the appropriate municipal government agency, in this case Public Facilities Department (PFD). Public Facilities then advertised a request for proposals in May of 1987, in The Boston Globe. PFD staff reviewed and evaluated Van Ness Terrace Limited Partnership's proposal based on the following: feasibility of the project, ability of the developer to perform, leverage of other resources, and affordability of units. Satisfied with the appropriateness of this project and the long-term affordability package, PFD agreed to enter into a contract with Van Ness Terrace Limited Partnership.

This request has been delayed due to the time involved to complete necessary contract agreements and fiscal department transactions.

I believe that public advertising would serve no useful purpose. I, therefore, request permission to dispense with inviting sealed bids in the City Record, pursuant to authority granted under the City of Boston Code, St. 4, s. 5.

Sincerely,

Lisa G. Chapnick,
Director.

ORDER TO APPROVE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT PROJECT FOR HYDE PARK PAPER, INC.

The following was received:

City of Boston
Office of the Mayor

July 25, 1989.

To the City Council.

Dear Councillors,

I transmit herewith for your approval an order to approve the issuance of industrial development bonds in a principal amount not to exceed $7,000,000. The Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority (BIDFA)'s Board of Directors, acting pursuant to the provisions of chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws, adopted a favorable resolution with respect to this industrial development project.

The acquisition and renovation plans of Hyde Park Paper Mill include the following:

- (i) the acquisition of an industrial paper mill located at 892 River Street, Hyde Park, including the land, buildings and equipment used in connection therewith; (ii) the rehabilitation and renovation of the existing buildings and equipment; and (iii) the acquisition and installation of new machinery and equipment.

I urge your Honorable Body to pass this order as expeditiously as possible so that this employer may implement his business plans as described.

Sincerely,

Raymond L. Flynn,
Mayor of Boston.

Whereas, The City of Boston, Massachusetts (the "City"), acting by and through its Industrial Development Financing Authority (the "Authority"), is empowered to assist in the financing of industrial development facilities through the issuance of industrial revenue bonds pursuant to chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws as amended (the "Act"); and

Whereas, Hyde Park Paper, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company") has proposed undertaking a project (the "Project"), consisting generally of the following: the acquisition of an industrial paper mill, including the land buildings and equipment used in connection therewith; the rehabilitation and renovation of the existing buildings and equipment; and the acquisition and installation of new machinery and equipment; and

Whereas, The Project is to be owned and used by the Company and the Company agrees to make payments sufficient to amortize the principal of and pay the interest on industrial revenue bonds of the City issued to pay costs of the Project and current expenses, if any, of the City incurred in connection therewith; and

Whereas, The total estimated cost of the Project is approximately $9,200,000; and

Whereas, The City's desire to assist the Company through the issuance of industrial revenue bonds has induced the Company to undertaking the Project; and

Whereas, The financing of the Project under the provisions of Chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws appears feasible; and

Whereas, Assisting the Company to finance the acquisition, construction and improvement of the Project in the City of Boston will reduce unemployment in the City and provide security against future unemployment and will provide a definite benefit to the economy of the City and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and

Whereas, The Authority has advised the City that notice of the public hearing relating to the proposed issuance of industrial revenue bonds of the City, acting by and through the Authority, to finance the Project for the benefit of the Company, was published in (i) The Boston Globe on June 12, 1989, (ii) the Hyde Park Tribune on June 8, 1989, and (iii) the Milton Record Transcript on June 9, 1989, and a public hearing was held by the Authority on June 28, 1989, at 6:30 p.m. at the Hyde Park Municipal Building, 1179 River Street, Hyde Park, Boston, Massachusetts, all as described in such published notices; and

Whereas, The Company has undertaken to cooperate with public and community agencies engaged in manpower recruitment and training to pursue as a goal, to the extent consistent with state and federal law, and to the extent appropriate to this Project, the furnishing of at least 50 percent of new jobs (or new hires) at said Project to City residents, at least 25 percent of new jobs (or new hires) to minorities and at least 25 percent of new jobs (or new hires) to women; and

Whereas, The Authority adopted a resolution on June 29, 1989, approving the Project and the estimated cost thereof and authorizing the issuance of the Bonds in a principal amount not to exceed $7,000,000 to finance the Project; and

Whereas, By adopting the order set forth herein or by taking other action in connection with the Project or the Bonds, the City does not and cannot provide any assurance that the Project or the Company is financially viable or sound, that amounts on any debt issued on behalf of the Company for the Project will be paid, that any collateral which may be pledged to secure such debt would be sufficient to repay holders of such debt in the event of a default, or that interest on the bonds will be exempt from federal or Massachusetts income taxation; and neither the Company nor any prospective purchaser of such debt nor any other person shall rely upon the City or the Authority with respect to such matters; now, therefore, be it

Ordered, That this Boston City Council as the governing board (as defined in Chapter 40D of the Massachusetts General Laws) of the City of Boston approves the industrial development project described in the recitals hereof, the estimated cost thereof and the financing of said project or other portion thereof as shall not be contributed from other sources through the issuance of industrial revenue bonds pursuant to chapter 40D in a matter which does not pledge the faith and credit of the City of Boston; and be it further Ordered, That this order is intended to constitute the approval required by section 147(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and it is also the intent of this Council that the approval granted by this order shall serve as an inducement for the Borrower to acquire, construct and install the Project.

COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS TO HOLD HEARING RE BOSTON'S JOB PLACEMENT RATE

Coun. HENNIGAN CASEY offered the following:

Whereas, The City of Boston's inability to effectually train and place welfare recipients in jobs has been recently brought to light; and

Whereas, The City of Boston has consistently not met placement goals in the welfare Employment Training Program (ET); and

Whereas, This year, 1988-1989, the City of Boston has fallen below other major cities in state job placement, meeting only 52 percent of ET's goals; and

Whereas, The Director of Jobs and Community Services has only held his position for a short time and recent press reports reflect critically on the Office's ability to perform and continue to serve welfare recipients; and

Whereas, The Director of Jobs and Community Services has determined that a mix of community-based organizations traditionally serving the city is not meeting placement goals and new programs must now be undertaken to serve the 20,000⁹ welfare population of the City of Boston; and

Whereas, It is necessary to determine how best to examine this issue because it reflects cutbacks of state funds critically needed that result from poor performance in this welfare area; and

Whereas, The City will receive less welfare funding because it has not met welfare statistics; and

Whereas, The welfare population is increasing in the City; and

Whereas, The job market for entry-level employees in the City indicates a critical need for workers in such meaningful jobs/fields such as banking, secretarial, insurance, mutual funds, etc.; now therefore be it

Ordered, The Committee on Government Operations hold a hearing and ask the appropriate individuals to appear to develop a plan to respond to this critical situation.

Referred to the Committee on Governmental Operations.

Whereas, Since that action was taken more information has been received on Docket No. 0859; and

Whereas, It would be in the best interest of all concerned to hold another public hearing; and

STATE OF HOMELESSNESS IN BOSTON — WINTER 1989-90

Emergency Shelter Commission: Ann Maguire, Executive Director; Reverend Bernard McLaughlin, (Chair) Crossroads Family Shelter; Richard King, Pine Street Inn; Michael McGuire, Homeless Person; Barbara Blakeley, Registered Nurse; David Trietsch, Public Facilities.

INTRODUCTION

For the past four years, Boston has overcome many obstacles to fulfill its commitment of a warm bed, a hot meal, quality health care and transportation to shelter every homeless person in need. However, the current state budget crisis hits the most needy so hard that this challenge has become most formidable.

The Metro-Boston region of the Department of Mental Health has sustained almost $10,000,000 in funding cuts at a time when the shelter providers are concerned with the increasing number of homeless people with severe mental problems.

"The cuts in the Department of Mental Health budget will have a devastating effect on mentally ill people and will undoubtedly cause more of them to become homeless. Shelters which are already overburdened will become unsafe and chaotic, forcing some homeless people to instead choose the streets."

Richard Ring
Pine Street Inn

The homeless mentally ill people who wander the streets of Boston by day and sleep in our shelters at night are a tragic reminder of the failed policy of deinstitutionalization and the current lack of quality mental health care and treatment for drug abuse.

"More than half of the 520 homeless people that stay at Long Island and Boston City Hospital are overwhelmed with mental health problems that cannot be adequately treated in emergency shelters. Individual providers agree that 50-60 percent of the men and 90 percent of the women have mental health problems."

Richard Weintraub
Long Island Shelter

"We have observed incidents of increased substance abuse in our various outreach and shelter programs among homeless adults."

This is particularly true among the younger homeless population.

THIS YEAR'S CENSUS

History

This first census of Boston's homeless population was conducted in 1983 by six volunteers working over a period of two weeks. The study was the city's first attempt to identify the size of the street problem associated with homelessness. Flawed by its design, the count was not particularly accurate but its purpose was correct and as a result it inspired later projects which provided a clearer picture of the scope of the homeless population in the City of Boston. This year's study has grown to include over one hundred volunteers working with the coordinated efforts of a dozen government agencies and dozens of non-profit service organizations.

Mayor Flynn has directed appropriate city agencies and sought help from outside service providers to conduct the census for the last four years. He has stated that the importance of the study should not be diminished by time and as a result, the city will continue to conduct it annually.

THE ADOPT-A-STATUE PROGRAM

The goal of Adopt-A-Statue is to achieve funding for the restoration of thirty-nine pieces of outdoor public art and to establish a permanent maintenance endowment which would provide for the annual cleaning and maintenance of sixty-nine pieces.

To invite individuals, groups of individuals or corporations to "adopt" a piece of Boston outdoor public art by either:

- incurring the total cost of restoring and maintaining a particular piece of art or
- making a donation toward a general restoration and maintenance fund.

Gifts are tax deductible to the extent limited by law.

For further information on how to adopt a statue please contact the Environment Department at 725-3850 (Paula Mierzejewski) or Office of Arts and Humanities at 725-3245 (Mary Shannon).

Each week the City Record will publish a statue for adoption.

Purpose

It is the experience of many expert observers that government agencies are rarely prepared to address important service delivery matters when they are not aware of the scope of the problems they are confronting. The homeless problem is one such issue. Prior to conducting our first study, some estimates varied by as much as ten thousand persons. With these "guesses" the city could not adequately prepare for the necessary shelter space, medical attention, food and transportation resources for the homeless population within its borders.

Since the census' inception, Mayor Flynn has made a commitment that no individual in the City of Boston will go without a bed in a warm place, food and quality medical care.

Methodology

The Shelter Population

Approximately one month prior to the actual census taking, Boston's Emergency Shelter Commission mailed an advisory to all of the city's public and private shelter providers to inform them of the study.

These letters were succeeded by follow-up telephone calls. They are told which day the census will be taken (a day expected to be cold enough for those homeless to seek refuge in a shelter), how the survey will be conducted and request volunteers. They are asked to tabulate the population of the shelter on the night of the count. The City's Emergency Shelter Commission telephoned each shelter on the day following the count to calculate the total from the previous night/morning.

The Street Population

The City is divided into 38 separate entities for the purpose of the census. The areas are small enough to be thoroughly covered by foot. To ensure that the volunteers have a list of possible "homeless places to stay" in each area, a questionnaire is distributed in advance to a variety of resources including, but not limited to neighborhood representatives, individuals who work with the homeless, etc. These persons provide the city with crucial information which identify specific areas where homeless people have been known to frequent. These designations can be as large as the end of a subway station or as small as a box in an alley. The City makes sure that all of these identifiable areas are closely monitored during the evening.

The only exception to the strategy identified above is that some of the teams travel by car. These are areas of the city where there have historically been few homeless individuals identified or where walking is virtually impossible (like large residential neighborhoods like West Roxbury). In such cases, volunteers get out of their vehicle and conduct the census by foot in business communities which have a higher likelihood of homeless individuals.

All walking teams receive walkie-talkies to facilitate communication during the evening. This is required to guarantee the volunteers' safety and to call in for shelter pickups for homeless individuals unaware of transportation pickup locations throughout the city.

The Volunteers

Volunteers are recruited from the various shelters throughout the city and city employees who work with the homeless routinely. This is an important element of the process because persons who work with this population can help us avoid stereotyping which is often associated with homelessness. Volunteers usually work about two hours in the early morning. We conduct the study at this time in order to ensure that businesses or other places of temporary refuge (like the MBTA) are closed. Also, the study is conducted early in the week, as there seems to be less foot traffic at this time.

Volunteers are always asked to wear warm clothing inasmuch as the time of the census is selected based on the belief that it will be cold enough to identify the population that is exposed to the elements and readily in need of temporary shelter. This year the temperature dropped well below freezing.

Volunteers are asked to denote people by the following identifiable factors:

1. Is the individual definitely or possibly homeless?

People who have a place to go often appear to. If it is unclear in specific situations, volunteers are asked to record these individuals as "possible." The city includes people listed as "possible" in the count presented in this document.

Is the individual a man, woman or child?
 Since gender and age difference often require different services, this observation is important.
 Is the individual in need of medical attention?
 Boston City Hospital provides services to indigent patients as a matter of course.
 Does the individual need transportation to shelter?
 While vans comb the city at night, some individuals may be unable to find a ride or may be unaware of these services.

Volunteers are requested not to ask individuals anything other than the questions raised above. It is not the city's intent to violate anyone's right to privacy. Our expressed purpose is simply to determine the size of the homeless population in Boston. As a result, this study is conducted with complete anonymity.

Street count	Winter 1988-89			Winter 1989-90
	Male	Female	Children	Male	Female	Children
TOTALS	145	29		128	29

There were 157 individuals found in the streets of Boston on the night December 18th, 1989. This count a slight decrease from the 174 individuals counted in December of last year. Obviously the street population is a mobile one, and while all efforts were taken to limit double counting, there may be some inherent factor associated with counting is particular population. Of course at two o'clock in the morning there are few, if any, individuals on the street at all. Therefore any potential applied or real error associated with the street count is invariably small. The fluctuation of the homeless population from the streets to available shelters is closely associated with weather. As stated previously, the weather on the evening of the count was extremely cold, and had been so for approximately one month. Last year the study was conducted on the first cold night of the winter. Warmer nights would naturally result in a larger street population and smaller shelter population. In 1986 we conducted the study twice due to the unseasonably warm weather that evening. As expected, the street population swelled by approximately five times on the evening of the count.

We were pleased that no children were identified as homeless during the street count. But 29 or 18.5 percent of the street population were women.

JCS ANNOUNCES BUILDING OPPORTUNITIES FUNDING

Mayor Flynn's Office of Jobs and Community Services (JCS) recently announced the names of neighborhood-based organizations selected to receive funding to train Boston residents, minorities and women for jobs on the Central Artery/third harbor tunnel and harbor cleanup projects at Roxbury Community College.

The Building Opportunities Project (BOP) will fund a group of neighborhood-based training programs to begin preparing Boston residents for construction-related jobs on the Central Artery/third harbor tunnel and harbor cleanup projects. The training initiative is sponsored by JCS, the state's Department of Employment and Training (DET), and Employment Resources, Inc. of Cambridge (ERI).

The programs that received funding are: Oficina Hispana, Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD), South Boston Neighborhood House, the Learning Development Center, Roxbury Community College and the Home Builders Institute.

The eight state-funded participating neighborhood educational intake and assessment centers are Oficina Hispana, Chinese American Civic Association, ABCD, Dorchester APAC/Home Builders Institute, Veterans Benefits Clearinghouse, Inc., Mass. Project with Industry, Inc., East Boston Harborside Community School, Inc., and South Boston Neighborhood House.

An agreement forged between the City of Boston and the state mandates that the aggregate number of employees hired for the three projects include 25 percent minorities, 25 percent women, 25 percent residents of neighborhoods impacted by the projects, and 25 percent economically disadvantaged youth trained through the Building Opportunities Project.

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn said the Building Opportunities Project is the hard-won result of long-term negotiations between the City of Boston and Hospital had only been opened for five weeks prior to the city's census count. As a result the number of individuals in these facilities can be expected to increase based on the awareness among the homeless population of the shelters as well as the transportation availability to these sites.

The Pine Street Inn's 782 people account for almost half (46 percent) of those counted in adult shelters in the city. This year, as part of the Winter Plan, Positive Lifestyles is operating the Newton Armory and other smaller shelters in the Greater Boston Area.

Since there were no observations of homeless children on the street, we assume that the children have been cited in either permanent housing (BHA) or at other shelter categories listed later like "Women in Crisis" shelters.

AFRICAN MEETING HOUSE

"We have met here tonight in this obscure schoolhouse, our members are few and our influence limited; but mark my prediction, Faneuil Hall shall ere long echo with the principles we have set forth. We shall shake the nation by their mighty power." — William Lloyd Garrison at The African Meeting House, January 6, 1832.

The African Meeting House is the oldest standing African-American church building in the United States. Completed in 1806, this award-winning National Historic Site is located on Beacon Hill, once the heart of Boston's black community. Known during the abolitionist era as the Black Faneuil Hall, the elegant brick Meeting House is a testament to African-American community organization, and a showcase of black craftsmanship.

The first Africans arrived in Boston as slaves in 1638. The Revolutionary War, in which many blacks fought and died, was a turning point in the status of African-Americans in Massachusetts; by the end of the 1700s, slavery was outlawed in the Commonwealth.

Blacks in Boston were concerned with establishing strong independent organizations, with educating their children, and with working to end slavery throughout the nation.

The African Meeting House was a focus of Boston's black community. A center of religious, political, and social activity, the building served as a church, a school, a meeting hall and often as a residence, as well.

Here the Rev. Thomas Paul served is the first pastor of the African Baptist Church. Here, in 1832, William Lloyd Garrison founded the New England Antislavery Society. Frederick Douglass, Wendell Phillips, and Charles Sumner spoke from the Meeting House podium. Here, too, Maria W. Stewart delivered her historic defense of women's rights in the early 1830s. Members of the historic Massachusetts 54th Regiment of black Civil War soldiers enlisted at the Meeting House.

Numbering about 2,000 at its pre-Civil War peak, the Beacon Hill African-American community, in its dedication to the Abolitionist cause, exerted a national and international influence far beyond its size.

In reaction to the Fugitive Slave Law of 1850, black Bostonians developed a network of "safe" houses on the north slope of the hill. The community provided refuge to escaped slaves, seeing them safely to freedom in the Underground Railroad.

Carefully restored to its appearance in the mid-1850s, the African Meeting House is one of fifteen sites on the Black Heritage Trail, a 1.6 mile walking tour that introduces visitors to the history and architecture of the free African-American community that lived on Beacon Hill in the 1800s. The trail weaves its way through the largest concentration of pre-Civil War African-American historic sites in the United States.

DONALD A. GILLIS HEADS BOSTON'S ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AGENCY

The Board of Directors of the Economic Development and Industrial Corporation of Boston announces the naming of Donald A. Gillis as Director of the organization. The appointment was made Friday, February 9, with the strong support of Mayor Raymond L. Flynn.

"EDIC will play a central role in meeting the challenge of sustained and diversified economic growth to benefit Boston residents," said Mayor Flynn. "The intimate knowledge of the neighborhoods and the leadership on economic development issues that Don brings to EDIC will be invaluable as we work to stimulate new economic growth for the City. Don also has a great deal of experience working with neighborhoods to build consensus on development projects."

"Don will build on the solid foundation EDIC has established on economic development, particularly job training, under former Director Marilyn Swartz Lloyd," said Stuart Vidockler, Chairman of the EDIC Board of Directors. "This board feels strongly that Don has the skills, talent and vision to lead EDIC into the 1990s."

On becoming Director, Mr. Gillis said, "Mayor Flynn has made sure the neighborhoods benefited from the development and economic prosperity in Boston. I hope to carry that success forward and build stronger neighborhoods by building stronger neighborhood businesses." He added, "we'll continue to nurture our existing sources of economic vitality in neighborhood businesses, but we'll also undertake an ambitious program to reach out to new economic opportunities. At the same time, we'll be positioning ourselves for the opening of the European market in 1992."

The EDIC Board has directed Mr. Gillis to help the city to continue to prepare for the challenges and economic opportunities of the Central Artery/Third Harbor Tunnel and Boston Harbor Cleanup megaprojects; and the emerging economies of biotechnology, medical research and manufacturing. In addition, under the direction of Mr. Gillis, EDIC will review the status of the City's efforts in strengthening the industrial base in the Newmarket area, Boston State Hospital, and the Marine Industrial Park.

EDIC is a quasi-public agency with a mission to create and retain jobs in the City of Boston. EDIC has developed, leased and currently manages more than 200 acres of prime industrial property in the Marine Industrial Park in South Boston, the Alsen-Mapes Industrial Park in Dorchester, and the Crosstown Industrial Park in Roxbury. These three parks are home to nearly 160 companies employing more than 4,000 people. EDIC provides financing to Boston businesses through two affiliates, the Boston Local Development Corporation (BLDC), and the Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority (BIDFA). And a third affiliate, the Boston Technical Center (BTC), provides training in skills areas that are in demand and offer good pay, such as Business Machine Repair, Medical Secretary, Machine Tool Setup and Operation and Pile Drivers Pre-Apprenticeship.

Mr. Gillis was head of the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, guiding services delivery and neighborhood policy, since 1986. He was a member of the EDIC Board of Directors, formulating economic development policy, since 1987. Mr. Gillis was also a member of the Board of Directors of the BTC and as Director of EDIC he will now assume the BTC Chairmanship. Prior to heading the Office of Neighborhood Services, Mr. Gillis helped reorganize and streamline the operations of the City's Inspectional Services Department. Mr. Gillis earned a Master's degree in Community Sociology from Boston University. A native of Boston, Mr. Gillis is 38 and lives in Jamaica Plain.

Adapted by Carmelo Bene
Directed by Stephen Seabrook
March 8-10, 1990 at 8:00 p.m.*

Tufts Arena Theater will present a Masters production of RICHARD III, or The Horrible Night of a Man of War, adapted by Carmelo Bene, directed by Stephen Seabrook, on March 8-10, 1990 at 8:00 p.m.

First performed in Paris in 1979, this reconstruction of Bene's RICHARD III is a North American premiere.
